MACHINE GAME IS EXPOSED

Agents of the Citizens Offer Republican Clerks Money to Desert.

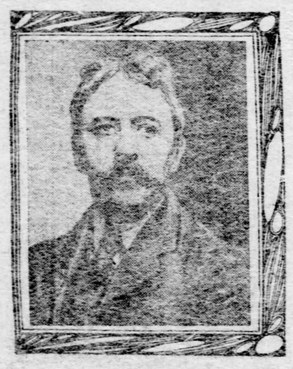
MEN ARE ALL LOYAL

Scheme Was to Cripple Chairman Ford's Force and Delay Work at Headquarters.

TALK WITH J. DENNY O'NEIL

Effort was made yesterday by agents of the Bigelow machine to capture the clerks at Republican county headquarters in the hope of crippling Chairman Ford. Each man who would sign an agreement that he would work and vote for the Citizens ticket was to receive $12 50. The deal was not put through and the men who attempted the scheme were exposed.

The other day the Diamond street organ of the Bigelow machine printed that John C. Henry, secretary of the Fourteenth ward Republican committee had gone over to the citizens and taken a number of members of the organization with him. No attention would have been paid to this statement had Henry not been credited with being secretary of the ward committee. Several years ago he held that position, but for some time he has not even been a meneber of the district organization. If he ever had any following or influence in the ward, it was a long time ago.



John C. Henry.

The Republican party has been good to Henry, having made it possible for him to hold a number of lucrative jobs. Leaders of the party have also been his friend when friends were badly needed. The last position he held was chief clerk of the bureau of health. This was taken from him by the Bigelow machine sometime ago. Until last week he was a clerk at Republican county headquarters. It was found that he was disloyal and Chairman Ford dropped him.

Scheme Did Not Work.

When Henry left the headquarters, he succeeded in talking with him J. H. Loy of the Thirty-seventh ward, who had a clerkship. Yesterday these men turned up as agents of the Bigelow machine and endeavored to induce the 25 or 30 clerks now at work to desert. The proposition was to have these men to go to the bar room of the Hotel Duquesne today at noon. An agreement would then be given them to sign. The paper was to pledge them to work and vote for the Citizens ticket. At 6 o'clock this evening in the same bar room each signer of the agreement was to receive $12.50. Among the clerks approached were Daniel Winters, Frederick Wunderlich, Enoch Protheroe, J. P. Blackmore and W. S. Culp.

Late yesterday afternoon Alex. McKnight, chairman of the Fourteenth ward Republican committee, heard of what Henry was attempting. He found Henry in the bar room of Hotel Duquesne and made him admit that he was endeavoring to induce the Republican clerks to go over to the Citizens party.

J. P. Blackmore was able to throw some

TALKS OF IRELAND

Says People of England and Emerald Isle Exhibit Feelings of Mutual Good Will.

ALASKAN DECISION PLEASING

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 30.

One of the first things to be called to the attention of Andrew Carnegie after he reached his Fifth avenue home today was the technological school in Pittsburgh. Early this afternoon an emissary arrived to ask the philanthropist to set a time, as early as possible, for a call from Dr. John A. Brashear, who wants to discuss some of the details of the project with its founder. Dr. Brashear has a preference for next Sunday for the conference, but Mr. Carnegie was too busy today to set an exact date.

Mr. Carnegie is in the most excellent health and spirits, looks much younger and more robust than when he went abroad a few months ago. As he left the liner Cedric today, accompanied by his wife and little Miss Margaret, he wore in his buttonhole a sprig of heather showing that his love for Scotland is not left behind even when he steps on American soil.

To the newspaper men who surrounded him Mr. Carnegie talked gaily of the good time he had on his "vacation."

"Much of my vacation I spent in Ireland," he said. "You may smile at my use of the word vacation, but why should I not have a vacation?" Then he told how the Irish land bill has proved a messenger of peace and is bringing the salvation of Ireland.

Are Getting Together.

"At a banquet I attended in Cork," he said, "I was surrounded by bishops of the Roman Catholic church and bishops of the Church of England, Scotchmen Englishmen and Irishmen, and they were getting together in a manner to make one's heart glad. And when the toast to the king was proposed Irishmen joined heartily in the cheers for his majesty. Ireland now really feels that Edward VII. is her friend."

Mr. Carnegie seemed little inclined to discuss the business and industrial situation in America, but there was a touch here and there in his talk that indicated his continued faith in the perpetuation and growth of our prosperity.

"Events of the past few weeks will result in salutary reduction in inflated prices," he said at one point. "It is well to squeeze the water out of stocks and get down to a solid basis. The standard securities—and among them I, of course, include steel—are as safe as ever they were. Wall street is becoming sober again and things will right themselves. No one, who understood the condition of affairs in the steel and ship combinations should be either surprised or disappointed at recent developments."

Mr. Carnegie declined to reply directly to a query about the connection of Mr. Schwab and Mr. Morgan with the collapse of the United States Shipbuilding Company.

Everybody Takes a Kick.

"When a man is down it seems inevitable that everyone wants to take a kick at him," was all he would say on the subject.

The subject that seemed to interest the philanthropist most was the award in the Alaskan boundary dispute.

"We could not have lost our contention, having the right on our side," he said. "Congress ought to give a vote of thanks to Senators Lodge and Turner. Mr. Watson of Pittsburgh and all those who so ably pleaded our case before the tribunal."

He was especially enthusiastic in referring to Lord Alverstone, who had been his guest at Skibo. "When a man sacrifices his own wishes to his con-

Hallowe'en Nonsense.

THOMAS J. FORD SAYS THE WHOLE REPUBLICAN TICKET IS A SURE WINNER

County Chairman Is Confident That the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Legislative Districts Will Be Carried With Ease. The Plurality in Allegheny City Will Be Not Less Than Thirty-Five Hundred.

By THOMAS J. FORD, Chairman of the Republican County Committee.

The Republican party will win at the November election. Every candidate upon the ticket will be elected. Republican majorities will be given in the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth legislative districts. Allegheny will give a Republican majority of not less than 3,500, and it will not surprise the leaders of the party if Pittsburgh gives a handsome Republican majority. Public sentiment is undeniably with the Republican party. The reasons are not difficult to fix.

The county committee in June last was organized on a broad and liberal basis; from its organization until the present time the party has been moved by a single purpose, and that the election of candidates of character and fitness for office.

From the opening of the campaign to the present time the county committee has acted in harmony with every element in the party. The Republican party has been aggressive; the Citizens party on the defensive. The press bureau of the Citizens party has frequently circulated rumors and predictions that various district organizations attached to the Republican party would leave in a body. Yet, in fact, actual desertions from the party have scarcely been noticeable, whilst on the contrary the abandonment of the Citizens party by its local organizations in various districts has been so frequent as to be no longer surprising. There is scarcely a ward in Pittsburgh that has not been the scene of friction and contention between the contending elements of the Citizens party, and the time of the city chairman of the Citizens party seems to have been very largely taken up with futile efforts to adjust these differences. In certain wards the ward committees of the Citizens party have been wholly disrupted; added to that certain of the most eminent leaders have openly deserted and protested against its actions. In the meanwhile the Republican party has been harmonious, united and zealous in its efforts.

The most potent factor in the present campaign has been the open and defiant manner in which the Citizens party has disregarded its solemn public promises. This is true not only of one of the planks in its platform, but is equally true as to practically all of them.

The Citizens party has lost the confidence of the people. Those who heretofore acted in harmony with it, believing in the fulfillment of solemn pledges, have abandoned it. The campaign may be summarized in this: The Citizens party has been weighed in the balance and found wanting. Public sentiment is a more trustworthy guide than the gambler's odds.

THREE LARGE BANKS MERGE

Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., Absorbs the M. & M. and Iron City.

CAPITAL IS $2,400,000

Big Deal Will Be Consummated Entirely by Transfer of Stock, Share for Share.

STOCKHOLDERS MEET DEC. 15

Stockholders of the Bank of Pittsburgh, National association, of the Iron City National bank and of the Merchants and Manufacturers national bank will meet at their respective banks December 15 to vote on a proposition by which the last two will be merged with the first. The preliminary negotiations among the leading interests in the three concerns have been under way for about three months and were brought to a practical consummation at a meeting of the directors of the Iron City National yesterday. The official announcement of the plans was made last evening.

The proposition that will be laid before the stockholders is one of merger without the need of additional money to finance the deal, the whole transaction being completed by the exchange of stock.

Capital to Be $2,400,000.

This exchange will be made possible by the increase of the capital stock of the Bank of Pittsburgh, N. A., from its present amount, $1,500,000, to $2,400,000. For this additional $1,200,000 of capital stock of the Bank of Pittsburgh, the $800,000 of capital stock of the Merchants and Manufacturers and the $400,000 capital stock of the Iron City will be exchanged share for share.

Only the general outline of the deal has as yet been completed. There is no doubt of the plan being carried through, as the consent of the controlling interests in all of the institutions has been obtained and the approval of the directors given.

From among the directors of the three banks will be chosen a board for the new bank. It is said that this board will be a large one, having at least 20 members to represent the many important interests which are allied to the three institutions and now enter the one.

The constituency of this board is yet to be settled. It will not be chosen until the amalgamation deal is officially settled by the approval of the stockholders.

Will Retain Employes of All.

Who will be the officers of the enlarged Bank of Pittsburgh is also yet to be decided. It is said, however, that places will be found for all of the employes of the three banks, as they are now constituted, the volume of business being such that there will be need for at least as many employes to handle it. It is also desired that the customers of the greater bank shall be able to deal with the same persons with whom they have been accustomed to transact their banking affairs.

The question of the ultimate home of all three institutions is not open to doubt. It may require some months yet to bring the whole plan around, but the large and handsome home of the Bank of Pittsburgh will undoubtedly house all three of the present institutions when they are merged. The three banks are already located in a group, the Iron City adjoining the Bank of Pittsburgh and the Merchants and Manufacturers being diagonally across Fourth avenue from the other two.

The Bank of Pittsburgh is the oldest banking institution in the city. It was

SOLDIERS PASS LEADER'S BIER

Honors Paid to Remains of Mrs. Booth-Tucker at Chicago.

EULOGY BY HUSBAND

He Pays Tribute to Her as He Stands Weeping Beside Her Inanimate Form.

REMAINS TAKEN TO NEW YORK

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Chicago, Oct. 30.—Surrounded by 2,000 Salvation army mourners who had gathered at Princess rink tonight to pay tribute to the memory of Mrs. Emma Booth Tucker, who was killed in a railroad wreck last Wednesday night, Commander Booth Tucker, in a sermon full of pathos, told of the many good deeds performed by the dead leader. While speaking, the husband, grief-stricken and weeping, stood at the head of the casket. When the eulogy was finished there was not a dry eye in the audience.

The memorial services were participated in by many prominent officers of the army. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the casket containing the body was removed to the Pennsylvania depot, and will be taken to New York early tomorrow morning. Commander Booth-Tucker will travel on the same train and will be accompanied by Col. Bowen and a number of other officers, including Emelyn Hessle Dommett, who was private secretary to Mrs. Booth-Tucker, and who was with her at the time of her death. On arrival of the funeral train in New York another service will be held and later the body will be sent to London for interment.

Before a canvas bearing in large letters the words "Faithful Unto Death," in Princess rink, the body rested while multitudes of Salvation Army followers and friends silently passed by the coffin.

Alone With the Dead.

After a sleepless night, spent in prayer and lamentation, in company with Brig. Alexander Dennon, Commander Booth-Tucker was earlier led from his room in the ring to look upon the face of his dead wife. Several hundred people who had already gained admittance were asked to leave and in solitude the commander knelt for 10 minutes beside the coffin. He was led away again and doors admitting the public were thrown open.

The visitors passed in single line approaching the casket on one side of the hall and returning on the other. The coffin, guarded by two Salvation Army cadets, stood before the same platform where Mrs. Booth-Tucker once spoke at a meeting conducted by her father, Gen. William Booth. On the casket lay Mrs. Booth-Tucker's Bible, which had been given her by her mother just before the latter's death, 15 years ago.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Although Gen. Ballington Booth, head of the Volunteers of America, will probably attend with Mrs. Booth, the imposing funeral services of his sister, Mrs. Booth-Tucker, now planned for Carnegie hall Sunday afternoon, it is declared unlikely that any formal reconciliation will follow with the Booths of the Salvation Army.

Services at New York.

Plans for the funeral on a large scale are announced for Sunday by the Salvation Army officials. Early on Sunday the body will arrive from Chicago with Commander Booth-Tucker and Col. Bowden in charge. It will be met by a committee from headquarters and escorted to Car-

GIRL MASQUERADERS ARE KILLED AT CROSSING

Were Wearing Their Masks and Uniforms When Run Down Near Wilson Station by a Shifting Engine.

While going to a Halloween party at Wilson, two stations west of Clairton, last evening, two girls were instantly killed at a railroad crossing by a shifting engine on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, and another girl had a narrow escape from meeting the fate of her companions. The girls all lived in Clairton and were daughters of well-known families in that section.

THE DEAD.

MISS HILDA M'GARIE, aged 20, daughter of James McGarie, head and right arm cut off.

MISS MAUDE ALBON, aged 19, daughter of Thomas Albon, body terribly mangled.

ESCAPED.

MISS AGNES M'GARIE, aged 15, sister of Hilda, suffering from shock.

On leaving their homes in Clairton the three girls had dressed themselves in their masquerade uniforms. They started alone in a buggy for Wilson and were laughing and talking on the way, allowing the horse to find the road in the dark for himself. On nearing the railroad crossing the girls in a spirit of fun put on their masks and the horse started to cross the track, which makes a sharp curve at the crossing.

With the masks covering their faces the girls were able to see only in front of them when they started over the crossing. Just as the buggy wheels touched the tracks the shifting engine, which had a caboose attached, rushed around the curve, but as the girls could not see on either side they did not notice the rays of the headlight. In an instant the engine, which was running at high speed, was upon them. The buggy was completely smashed, and the girls were hurled out, Miss Hilda McGarie being thrown in front of the engine, and the two other girls to the far side of the opposite track. The horse was also killed.

When the accident became known people hurried to the scene in vehicles and the dead girls were taken to the undertaking rooms of J. B. Abrams and Miss McGarie was taken to her home. Miss McGarie suffered greatly from shock. At the McGarie home last night it was said that the girl was in such a condition from shock that nothing more could be learned from her than that she was seated on the far side of the buggy when the engine struck it. She was badly stunned. The girls were well known in Clairton and that vicinity and had many friends. The men in charge of the engine which killed the girls are not known.

PARKS CONVICTED ON EXTORTION CHARGE

Maximum Penalty for His Offense is Five Years in State Prison.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Samuel Parks, walking delegate of the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's union, was found guilty of extortion late this afternoon after the jury had considered the testimony only four minutes. The maximum penalty for the crime is five years in state's prison. The sentence imposed on his first conviction was four and a half years.

The jury retired at 4:13 o'clock, and the foreman announced Parks guilty at 4:25. It took some time to get Justice Newburger into part III. of the court of general sessions, and the actual time the evidence was before the jury was only four minutes.

Justice Newburger took 13 minutes to charge the jury. His charge was a disappointment to James W. Osborne, counsel for Parks, and he took an exception to all of it.

Parks showed no great emotion when the verdict of guilty was announced. Justice Newburger discharged the jury after thanking them, as is the usual custom. Parks was led across the "Bridge of Sighs" to the Tombs.

Parks was charged with the extortion of $500 from the Tiffany studios. Parks will be sentenced next Friday.

Parks, as walking delegate of the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's union, was thrown overboard by his union tonight. Charges against Parks and his associate delegate, Timothy McCarthy, were ordered to be preferred, with a view to their formal expulsion from the union.

After a long address by Frank Buchanan, president of the International Union of Structural Iron Workers, the local union decided also to take immediate steps to come to an understanding with the Building Trades Employers' associations.

EAGER FOR BATTLE.

San Domingo Revolutionists Are Planning an Attack in Force on the Capital.

PUERTO PLATA, SANTO DOMINGO, Oct. 30.—(Special Cable.)—"On to the capital!" is the cry of the revolutionists and preparations are being hurriedly made for an attack on Santo Domingo. More than 2,000 revolutionists, under command of Gens. Epefnice Rodrequez and Jose Bordas, are organizing for battle against the principal city of the republic. The first resistance is expected at Sillon de La Vinda, and a desperate battle is anticipated.

Gen. Morales is jubilant. He is confident of the success of the revolution. His friends have cabled money and he announces that his triumph will be accomplished within a few days. Secret advices to the revolutionists state that a steamer has been chartered in Puerto Rico to run the blockade. This vessel with arms and ammunition, is expected here tomorrow.

CANDIDATES MAY FIGHT.

Two New Orleans Fire-Eaters Contemplate Resorting to the Code Duello.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—A duel is reported imminent tonight between Gen. Lon Leon Jastramski and Judge N. C. Blanchard, the Democratic candidates for the nomination to the office of governor of Louisiana, as a result of the troubles growing out of the fist fight which they engaged in yesterday in Pontchoula.

Gen Jastramski is a fiery Confederate veteran and Judge Blanchard has a fighting record which dates back to reconstruction times. It is said on good authority that both today expressed a determination not to allow the difficulty to rest where it was after the fight, and the more excitable friends of the two candidates are fanning their anger with advice to them not to permit the matter to drop.

PHILADELPHIANS ARE REQUESTED TO TESTIFY

Attorney Folk of St. Louis Wishes Their Evidence in the James L. Blair Case.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—Evans R. Dick of Dick Bros. of Philadelphia, whose name has been used by Attorney James T. Roberts in the charges made by him against James L. Blair, and George F. Graham, attorney for the Dick Bros., whom Roberts has freely mentioned in the charges, have been requested to come to St. Louis with such books and deeds as they may have bearing on the case and appear before the grand jury here to give their testimony in the Blair matter.

The summons was sent by Circuit Attorney Folk in the shape of a personal request. The grand jury has no jurisdiction over citizens of Philadelphia and a subpoena would be worthless unless the parties desired to come.

James L. Blair was so far recovered today that he was able to walk about his rooms on crutches as he did before his collapse last Saturday. He showed great interest in the newspaper accounts of the progress of the grand jury's investigation into the story told by Roberts and read all the accounts carefully.

Miss Nettie Sheetz, Mr. Blair's private secretary, said today that the family would leave Stanecote, but declined to say where they were to go. It is understood that the date of departure depends largely on the report which the grand jury is expected to make of its investigations. The report is expected to be made within the next two or three days.

CHINESE IN MANCHURIA MASSACRE 65 RUSSIANS

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The Chinese have massacred 65 Russian soldiers at the Manchurian station of Fulardi, according to the Tageblatt. The dispatch states that 20 Russian civilians were also slain.

Greater Bank Takes Rank Among First Five Nationals of the City

The amalgamation of the Iron City National bank and the Merchants & Manufacturers National bank with the Bank of Pittsburgh, National Association, brings the Bank of Pittsburgh into the class of the first five national banks of the city. In combined capital and surplus it is second, the Farmers' Deposit alone leading it. In deposits it is fifth, the Farmers' Deposit, Mellon, First National and Second National leading.

The following tables show the capital, surplus and profits and deposits of the merged banks and the rank of the greater Bank of Pittsburgh among its fellows:

	Capital	Surplus and Profits.	Deposits.
Bank of Pittsburgh	$1,500,000	2,909,643	$3,787,519
Merchants & Manufacturers	800,000	924,707	4,723,902
Iron City	400,000	382,002	3,403,077
Total	$2,400,000	$2,206,737	$11,560,598

	Capital and Surplus.	Deposits.
Farmers' Deposit	$7,206,272	$37,750,305

MONSTER RALLY IN THE ELEVENTH

Republicans Held a Very Large Meeting in the Hill Ward Last Night.

HAMILTON WAS IN HIS HOME

Tells His Neighbors That It Is Important That the Bigelows Should Not Be Given Complete Control of the Allegheny County Courts.

To detract from the attendance of the big Republican meeting in the Eleventh ward last night, the Citizens advertised a "smoker" at their headquarters at Center avenue and Arthur street.

Their tactics availed little and the gathering of the Republicans in the Moorhead school hall was the largest political meeting ever held in the ward. In a street parade 350 voters of the Eleventh ward took part and more than 1,000 crowded into the hall. Many were unable to gain admission.

The speakers were H. I. Riley, James W. Burke, T. M. Douthett and Walter E. Billows. Owen Jones presided. The best residents of the ward were in the audience and the enthusiasm caused discomfiture to emissaries of the Bigelow payroll who watched the meeting. At the Citizens headquarters the hilarity almost bordered on riot.

A Republican meeting was to have been held in Grosz' hall, in the Tenth ward, McKeesport, last night, but the Citizens committee sprung a coup by hiring the hall for a dancing class which was offered free use of the hall that night if they would keep the Republicans out.

Held a Meeting, Anyway.

After a big parade, which was very enthusiastic, the Republicans arrived at the hall and were unable to take possession of it. The paraders marched back to headquarters, where a meeting was held and several speeches made by Mayor G. J. F. Falkenstein, City Treasurer Samuel Milliken and others. The speeches were loudly applauded, and the prediction was made that the Republicans would carry McKeesport by from 1,200 to 1,500 votes.

Elizabeth is the home of Maj. J. B. Hamilton, Republican candidate for prothonotary, and the way her voters turned out to welcome him and other party speakers last night leaves no doubt of the result. Myers' hall, the largest building the Republicans could secure in Elizabeth, was packed to the doors with a crowd that extended far into the street as the meeting grew. It was a banner night for Elizabeth Republicans, who are extremely confident.

Maj. Hamilton said in part: "I feel I can speak to the voters of Elizabeth with some confidence, and ask their support, not merely because I happen to be a fellow townsman. You all know that the campaign of the Republicans this fall has been one of extreme carefulness, and an opponent's every intellect, the opponents have gone to the extreme of relying on baser means of influencing votes.

Just One Big Issue.

"This party of 'reform,' as they love to call it, needs to reform itself before it will be taken seriously again by the people of Allegheny county, and although I am not a prophet, I feel safe in saying that the Republican party is facing a glorious victory at the polls next Tuesday. There are many minor issues in this campaign, but there is one big issue, simply: Shall the Bigelows be allowed continued control of this county's welfare?"

This being the last Saturday of the campaign there will be but few mass meetings this evening. Those scheduled, however, will be of more than ordinary interest. They are as follows:

Rose Street school, Thirteenth ward—James F. Burke, L. B. Cook, A. J. Edwards, B. C. Christy. Roche hall, Dorseyville—J. A. Reed, G. E. Theobald, N. G. Ayers. Greetzinger hall, Leetsdale—Dr. J. W. Dickson, H. I. Riley, E. E. Shideler. National Bank hall, Sewickley—Joseph Henry, Maj. R. E. Stewart. Bank hall, Duquesne—John W. Moreland, Charles A. O'Brien, H. H. Nebley, John Campbell. Carnegie Music hall, Allegheny, mass meeting of colored Republicans—W. H. Stanton, Walter E. Billows, the Rev. A. W. Brown, Thomas E. Wilson, A. T. Hall, Charles Jones.

The Republicans of the Twenty-fourth ward conducted a rousing meeting in the Wickersham school building last night. Dr. A. J. Barchfeld was the principal speaker.

The Socialist-Labor party will hold a rally at Odd Fellows' hall, South Eighteenth and Jane street. The speakers will be William J. Eberle candidate for auditor general; D. E. Gillespie, candidate for state treasurer; H. A. Goff, Sr., and S. Schulberg, candidate for district attorney.

AUTOMOBILE EXPLODED.

Flame in the Engine Was Communicated to the Tank of Gasolene.

With a loud report a gasolene automobile belonging to Clark Bros., grocers on Center avenue, East End, exploded last night at 10 o'clock while standing at the door of the J. F. Richardson Storage and Repair Company's garage on Shakespeare street. The police and the flames were responsible for an alarm of fire being turned in and engine companies Nos. 8 and 14 responded. One stream of water was thrown on the burning mass of woodwork. The motor was entirely ruined.

It had been used in the early part of the evening and was left at the storage house by its owner. The flame in the engine is supposed to have ignited from an unknown cause the tank containing the supply of gasolene was reached by the flame, which caused the oil to explode.

TROUBLE BREWING.

Indians of Leech Lake Reservation Dissatisfied With Morris Bill.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—An Indian uprising in the Leech Lake district is threatened. Troops from Fort Snelling and other army posts in the Department of Dakota may be sent to quiet the Chippewas on the government reservation at that place. The cause of the trouble with the Chippewas is given as a general dissatisfaction with the Morris bill, which the Indians think robs them of a large amount of their property.

COURTS CONTINUE THEIR ATTACK ON PADDED ROLLS

The courts continued to weed out names on the padded registry lists of the Citizens party. Yesterday 342 names were stricken from the rolls of four districts. This makes a total of 708 improper registrations.

Soon after the registration books for the city were turned in the Republicans found that there had been much padding. It requires a great deal of work to prepare these cases for courts and as many districts were covered as the limited time would permit. Thursday, the courts, in six districts in the first 15 wards of the city, ordered 366 names stricken from the list.

Inquiry into the padded registration was continued yesterday. The following districts were purged:

First of the Ninth ward, 124 names were stricken from the registry out of 150 complained of.

Second of the Ninth ward, 65 out of 67.

Third of the Ninth ward, 73 out of 81.

PATHWAY STREWN WITH GRIEVANCES

FAILS TO REDRESS WRONGS

Secretary Shaw Also Made a Telling Address at a Worcester Meeting of Republicans in Which He Told of the Efforts of Democrats to Get an Issue.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WORCESTER, MASS., Oct. 30.—Republicans held a mass meeting tonight in Mechanics hall, the principal speaker being Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw, while other speakers included Senator George F. Hoar, who was chairman of the meeting; Herbert Parker, attorney General of Massachusetts; ex-Congressman Joseph H. Walker of Worcester, and ex-Representative Charles Tatman.

Senator Hoar declared that the Democratic campaign in Massachusetts is not a struggle alone, or chiefly for the state government of Massachusetts, but is a struggle for position in the great national battle of 1904.

"Did the Democratic party," the senator asked, "in its whole career, ever redress a grievance? It has created a good many. It defended slavery. It created the civil war.

"The Republican party paid the debt when the Democrats would repudiate it. It kept the faith when the Democracy would have broken it. It retained sound money when Democracy was for fiat money. It made gold and silver the standard of value, when Democracy was for rags. It kept the gold standard the standard of the world, when Democracy was for free silver. It maintained the protective system and achieved the manufacturing nidependence of the country when Democracy was for free trade."

Secretary Shaw said in part: "I have learned to believe in the political campaign. Politics is not a squabble for office. It is not a strife between parties or between men, but between policies and principles.

"I seldom mention names of candidates. In all my campaigning, I have never mentioned the name of the chief of the country more than once or twice. You can be just as good statesmen at the polls at home as you can at Washington, and why not? It is not asking too much to demand that our young men study these questions that they may go to the polls and protect our interests. The Democrats are looking for an issue. They have always been looking for an issue. Did you see anything in the platform of 1892 that they could use in '96 or 1900. Do you know what the next issue will be? No, and neither does any one.

"In 1900 the Populists organized as sincerely as ever did anybody. The Democrats cast about for a platform and lifted the issue of the Populists."

NEW YORK MAN WON THE TELEGRAPHERS' CONTEST

W. M. Gibson Declared Champion Operator—Pittsburgher Gets a Place.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—William M. Gibson, of New York, an operator with a broker firm tonight won the Carnegie medal and the world's championship as the "best all around telegraph operator at the tournament of the American Telegraphers' association held in the National Export Exposition building. E. E. Bruckner of the Postal Telegraph Company, Chicago, won the second prize.

Gibson's victory was a brilliant one, as he had for opponents some of the best telegraphers in the country, including E. M. McClintock of the Associated Press, Dallas, Tex., who won the championship last summer. The contestants had to send 25 messages and 500 words of press matter and receive 25 messages and 500 words of press matter on typewriter.

The winners of the other events were: Railroad operators, sending—Won by R. C. Bartley, Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia; C. J. Cous, Pennsylvania railroad, Pittsburgh, second. Receiving—Won by Miss Harrison, Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia; S. A. Hodgeson, Pennsylvania railroad, Philadelphia, second.

Ladies' contest, sending—Won by Mrs. N. B. Stettson, Postal Telegraph Company, New York. Her only opponent was Mrs. B. V. Gillespie, Western Union, Philadelphia. Receiving—Won by Miss Rose Feldman, Postal Telegraph Company, New York; Miss L. McKenna, Western Union, New York, second.

Old-timers' contest, receiving, open to all over 60 years of age—Won by I. D. Maize, Western Union, Philadelphia. His only opponent was E. Payson Porter, Western Union, New York.

ARBITRATORS MEET

Effort Being Made to Bring Amalgamated Copper Troubles to an End.

BUTTE, MONT., Oct. 30.—James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern; United States Senator Paris Gibson, and Gov. Joseph K. Toole of Montana, arrived here today, and held a conference with United States Senator W. A. Clark at the latter's office.

These men, with Congressman Joseph M. Dixon of Montana, constitute the board of arbitration named by the business men's association and labor unions of Montana, to settle the differences between the Amalgamated Copper Company and the Heinze factions. James J. Hill was elected president, and the board plans outlined.

CHIEF IS SUSPENDED.

Glassport Councils Takes Charges Against Police Officials Out of Committee's Hands.

Glassport councils met last night to hear the report of the committee investigating the charges of improper conduct, preferred against Chief of Police Edward S. McGowan. The committee failed to report, giving as an excuse that the clerk had neglected to properly prepare the evidence, and so they were unable to reach a decision.

Council then took united action and indefinitely suspended McGowan, who says he is going to resign. Night officer Joseph Norris was made acting chief, and Henry Harper was made night officer.

TO ANNIHILATE POWER OF THE MAD MULLAH

ROME, Oct. 30.—News from Somaliland gives assurance that the present prospects of victory for the Mad Mullah are bad. Great Britain has taken steps looking to decisive action for the annihilation of the Mullah's power, Italy, cooperating with Great Britain, has ordered the gunboat Volturno and the cruiser Cristo Colombo to reinforce its Red Sea squadron. At the same time Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia has been urged to expedite the attack of his troops on the Mullah's forces, thus catching him between two fires.

PRESIDENT MITCHELL HAS APPENDICITIS

SCRANTON, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America may be obliged to undergo a surgical operation before he leaves Scranton. He is, according to Dr. Richard R. Gibbons, suffering from appendicitis. This physician urges an operation as an absolute necessity. Mr. Mitchell, upon leaving the speaker's stand yesterday, suffered much pain and had to be almost carried to his carriage, those near him being obliged to force back the crowd that pressed forward to shake his hand.

Slav Workman Injured.

An explosion of hot cinders at Moorehead Bros.' rolling mill, Sharpsburg, at 7:50 last evening seriously injured Frank Stonisha, 24 years old, a Slav laborer, and set fire to the hardware store of S. J. Saint on Main street, Sharpsburg, opposite the mill. The damage by fire is $200. The explosion was caused by Stonisha pourning water on the cinders to cool it.

BEAT UP THE POLICEMAN AND THEN DROVE AWAY

Teamster Refused to Stop at Crossing and Also Would Not Be Arrested.

While attempting to make an arrest at Sixth and Liberty avenues yesterday morning Policeman M. Coyne was thrown from a wagon and had his head badly cut against the curbing. His prisoner, after knocking the officer into a state of insensibility, escaped.

Policeman Coyne had ordered the teamster to stop as he was crossing. The driver paid no attention to the order and Policeman Coyne placed him under arrest. The policeman led the horse and driver over to the patrol box. Policeman Coyne rang for the patrol wagon and then told the driver to get off his seat. The driver refused to get down. The policeman proceeded to climb on the wagon and pull him down.

As Coyne got on the seat the driver went at him in hammer and tongs style. The policeman was knocked from the seat and in the fall his head struck the curbing, rendering him unconscious. The driver started up his horse and drove away. When the patrol wagon arrived Coyne was lying in the street. He was taken to the Central station, where his head was dressed, and he was sent home. The policeman does not know who the teamster was.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS.

Foreign Missionary Workers of M. E. Church Doing Prosperous Work.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—At today's session of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, Mrs. J. H. Knowles read the report of the New York branch. It indicated an encouraging advance in missionary studies. Miss F. J. Walden, on behalf of the publishing department reported that $27,000 were raised during the past year.

Reports of the Philadelphia and of various committees on publication and literature were read. The following committee on resolutions was appointed: Mrs. G. B. Smythe, California; Mrs. Ada Mitchell, Cleveland; Mrs. W. L. Wriston, New England. At the afternoon session there was a devotional service. This evening a reception was held in Goucher hall of the Women's college.

SUPERIOR DECISIONS.

Findings in Three Western Pennsylvania Cases Handed Down Yesterday.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Among the decisions handed down by the superior court today were these:

Beaver, J.—Overseers of the poor of East Franklin township vs. overseers of the poor of Rayburn township (Q. S. Armstrong), decree affirmed, and appeal dismissed at costs of appellant.

Orbisy, J.—Commonwealth vs. Rhoades (O. and T. Somerset), judgment affirmed and record remitted to the court below with direction that the sentence be fully carried into effect. Phoenix Brewing Company vs. Weins (C. P. No. 1, Allegheny). Judgment affirmed.

THIRD CHURCH DEDICATION.

President Patton of Princeton Theological Seminary to Make Address.

The handsome new Third Presbyterian church, South Negley and Fifth avenues, the Rev. William L. McEwan, D. D., pastor, will be dedicated tomorrow. President Francis L. Patton, D. D., of the Princeton Theological Seminary, will deliver addresses at the morning and evening services. Dr. McEwan will preside and dedicate the church. Ex-pastors who will be present are: Dr. Herrick Johnson of Chicago, Dr. Charles L. Thompson of New York, Dr. S. D. Noble of Chicago, and Dr. W. P. Cowan of Pittsburgh. The Rev. Matthew Riddle, D. D., of the Western Theological Seminary, will also participate in the morning services. Dr. Riddle's father was the first pastor of the church.

The new Third church is of brown stone and the interior is of the same material, making an impressive effect. The church is one of the handsomest houses of worship outside of the Old World. It cost over $400,000 and is of the English Gothic style of architecture. The memorial windows are a striking feature of the edifice.

LEMLEY RECOMMENDS PROBATION SYSTEM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Judge Advocate General Lemley in his annual report says the system of probation of prisoners which was adopted by the department somewhat more than two years ago still yields good results which, in his opinion, will warrant its continuance. The national prison association of the United States is given credit for the idea of introducing this system in the navy.

Aged Man Killed by Train.

WEST NEWTON, PA., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—George Robinson, a resident of this vicinity, was struck by a Baltimore & Ohio train at Sutterville, this afternoon and instantly killed. He was more than 80 years old and leaves a large family.

MR. HANNA TALKS OF LABOR UNIONS

Tells Massillon Audiences Where Civil Federation Had Its Inception.

MEANING OF THIS ELECTION

The Senator Says He Does Not Believe the People of Ohio Want to Go Back to the Desperate Conditions of Democratic Rule.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 30.—Senator Hanna came into Stark county tonight for the first time in this campaign and addressed two great meetings, at the new Armory theater and Burd's hall. It was particularly appropriate that he should speak in Massillon, for through a strike in the coal mining fields of this vicinity he first became interested in organized labor, and impetus was given to the movement which finally led to the formation of the Civic federation. The senator referred to this in the opening of his speech.

"I am glad to be in Massillon and Stark county," he said. "It awakens a memory in my mind away back in the early '70s. There was a coal strike in the field. During that time two men came to my office and represented themselves as officials of the National bituminous Coal association. They asked me if I would not organize the operators, in order that in the future a more friendly feeling might be manifested between the workers in the mines and the men who owned them. I did so. From that time dates my connection with and belief in organized labor, and out of it has grown the present Civic federation, which is doing such splendid work."

Mr. Hanna tonight discussed state issues at some length, being provoked to it by a circular which was spread broadcast through the city by the Democratic committee, charging for a two-cent fare.

In the discussion of national affairs the senator appealed to the voters from the standpoint of personal interests. "This election means much to each of you," he said. "In that regard, it is the most important since 1896. The conditions are the same now as they were then. We are facing an important question. Is our country to continue in the way it is now going or is it to return to the desperate conditions which prevailed from 1892 to 1896?

"It is for you to decide. If you decide wrongly you have none but yourselves to blame. But before you decide consider the matter well. Take it home to your fireside and around your own hearthstone. In the presence of your family, think it over. The people of Ohio are a sensible people, they are not to be led astray by the fads and fancies of a man who is working, not for their betterment but for his own political advancement.

"Johnson stands today as the leader of a great class, a class which is a menace to the country, and I appeal to the people of the republic. Can you afford to vote for him? Can you afford to take the chance of what his possible election might mean? I am in politics because of my love for you, friends, and the friend of William McKinley, because I believe that in the continuance of the principles which he taught lies the best interest of our country. There is not a man in Massillon or Stark county who has not felt the benefit which came from his teachings. You can well better that he lived. The campaign is drawing to a close. Election day is near at hand. Don't be led astray by the socialistic Johnsonite platform."

Allen Carnes and J. J. Grant, of Canton, also spoke at the meetings.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY SURE IN BEAVER COUNTY

Committeemen Report That the Majority Cannot Be Less Than Fifteen Hundred.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BEAVER, PA., Oct. 30.—All fears on the part of the Republicans of Beaver county as to the result of the coming election, were dispersed today by the reports received at the meeting of the Republican county committee held in the court house. There had been some fear on the part of the leaders, because of so little apparent interest being taken, and the Democrats have been redoubling their activity for the past few days, thinking the Republicans were asleep.

The meeting this afternoon was one of the largest ever held in the history of the party here. Every election district was represented. When the reports were called for from the various districts, each one man after another would get up and say that his district would turn out as big, if not a larger Republican majority, than ever before. The enthusiasm knew no bounds. The Republican majority next Tuesday will over reach 1,500.

The meeting was presided over by County Chairman J. Henry Geer. Garret Bent of Rochester, and Charles Bradshaw of New Brighton, were the secretaries.

D. K. Cooper, of Beaver township offered a resolution that the local committeemen in all boroughs and townships which are divided into election precincts be authorized to adopt rules governing the nomination of borough or township officers. This new rule was made necessary by a recent ruling by Judge Miller, of Mercer county, that no such right existed.

The meeting closed with an eloquent speech by John A. Elliott. He said that Wilbur F. Harris, the nominee for prothonotary was the youngest man ever nominated in the county by the Republicans, and deserved support.

TIN PLATE COMPANY SECURES LARGE CONTRACT

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—It is reported that the American Tin Plate Company has just secured a Canadian contract for 150,000 boxes of tin plate, the destination of the material to be, probably, the Pacific coast fish packing concerns of the Dominion. To obtain the contract it is understood that a price better than $3 a box, Swansea, which is equivalent to about $2.99 in bond on dock, New York, had to be made. Local dealers ask an advance of 10 per cent on the list price on American coke tin from store in lots of one or more boxes.

UNCLE SAM TO DEMAND MONEY FROM SPAIN

SAN JUAN, PORTO RICO, Oct. 30.—Secretary of State Hay has informed Gov. Hunt that he has instructed the United States minister at Madrid, Arthur S. Hardy, to present to the Spanish government a claim of $40,000 for Porto Rican school pensions seized by Spain in the San Juan bank after the American occupation of Porto Rico and during the armistice which preceded Spain's final withdrawal from the island.

ROLL OF STUDENTS AT YALE SHOWS INCREASE OF 250

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Matriculation at Yale has closed and although there is a slight decrease in the law, medical, divinity and post graduate departments of Yale University, the total increase in number of students this year is announced tonight to be about 250. The total enrollment is 2,075. Nearly 100 more men have entered the Sheffield Scientific school this year.

Two New Traction Cars Smashed.

Two new traction cars, similar to the long closed cars recently put in operation on the local traction roads, were smashed into kindling wood in the Pitcairn yards of the Pennsylvania railroad last evening. The cars had been shipped here for the Pittsburgh Railways Company from Philadelphia and were left standing on flat cars in the Pitcairn yards. The flat cars were struck by a shifting engine and the two traction cars were thrown over an embankment into Turtle Creek.

GAME OF CITIZENS IS AT LAST EXPOSED

additional light on Henry, a flop and according to the story told to him the Bigelow machine must be in sore straits in the Fourteenth ward. He made this statement:

"Charles F. Harris, who sings for the Bigelow machine, told me the other day that Henry was promised his old job or one equally as good if he would go over to the Citizens. Harris says that he was present with another witness when one of the leaders of the Bigelow machine made this promise. Henry insisted that the pledge be given in the presence of witnesses.

"Under the Republican administration, I had a clerkship in the department of public works. Harris told me that if I would go over to Citizens headquarters, the same promise would be made to me that was given Henry. I refused. The Republicans have always treated me fairly and I do not propose to throw them down."

The pledge given Henry will be interesting reading to St. Clair Cooper of the Twenty-first ward. On October 1 he was appointed chief clerk of the bureau of health.

Henry lives in the Thirteenth district of the Fourteenth ward. It was largely because he posed as a Republican leader that the Citizens have been able to carry the district. Now that he has gone over to the Bigelow machine, a great majority of the voters of the precinct will return to the Republican fold. This is true of people in various parts of the ward. The Republican leaders of the ward feel that they have been relieved of a weight by the Bigelow machine.

This Is Amusing.

Bigelow machine leaders announced yesterday that they would later in the day send out a statement showing how they had crippled the Republican organization in the Fourteenth ward. They were claiming that 51 workers, controlled by Charles F. Harris and John C. Henry, had gone over to the Citizens. No names were given.

Harris and Henry do not control 51 or any other number of workers in the Fourteenth ward or any other ward. Harris, in this campaign and the last, has been singing for the Bigelow machine. The salary of his quartet last week was $300, and for this week the musicians have been promised $350. It is natural that Harris should be an enthusiastic supporter of the "reform" party.

The leaders of the Bigelow machine know that the Fourteenth ward is lost to them. When the line-up comes at the polling places Tuesday some surprises await the bosses.

At noon yesterday, when the barroom of P. J. Murphy's cafe, in Smithfield street, was crowded with politicians, a man unknown to Mr. Murphy walked in. He stepped up to the bar and laid down $100, announcing: "This says that the Citizens cannot carry the Fourteenth ward." He found no takers.

Women Are Working.

In the Fourteenth, Fifteenth and Sixteenth districts of the Fourteenth ward the women are campaigning for the Republican ticket, and their work is telling. Over in that section there are plenty of little boys, and, like the little boys of other localities, they are mischievous. Several of them have been arrested of late for starting to celebrate Hallowe'en a trifle too early. When one boy was brought before the magistrate it was impossible to identify him as the offender. The magistrate said that he had a bad face and decided against him. It happens that in his connection there are 27 votes. They are all for the Republican ticket. The mother and her women friends became busy after the magistrate made the remark.

Another woman was started on the war path by a peculiar happening. Her husband is a Republican, while a neighbor is a Citizen. There was diphtheria in both homes. The child of the Republican was able to go out to play two weeks before his friend with the Citizen parent, but the diphtheria placard was kept up. The family was told that if the head of the house would have agreed to vote the Bigelow machine ticket, the card would have been taken down.

The payroll men living in that section of the Fourteenth ward are not being trusted by the bosses. When they go out to canvass for votes a "trusty" is sent along to see that the work is done. They were all called into the house of James Fawcett, president of the Sixteenth district association, last Sunday and given instructions.

O'Neil Says Something.

Recorder J. Denny O'Neil is devoting his entire time, at the expense of the taxpayer, to an endeavor to carry the Eighth legislative district for the Bigelow machine. He will be whipped in his home town of McKeesport and the district will give a big Republican majority.

O'Neil was found at Citizens headquarters yesterday. Reports were not coming in to suit him. One man just told about everything having gone to the bad in East McKeesport and another could give no encouragement from East Pittsburgh. The writer jokingly remarked that O'Neil would go to East Pittsburgh and promise a few more liquor licenses.

"I have not promised any liquor licenses in East Pittsburgh," was his reply.

"Where did you promise them?" was asked when it was seen that the recorder was inclined to take the query seriously.

"Why—oh—that's none of your business," was the reply.

Two "Orphans" have taken the suggestion of another "Orphan" that it would be a good thing to give the Bigelow machine a licking this fall. They are Councilman C. C. Shad of the Thirteenth ward, and Councilman Thomas O'Brien of the Sixteenth ward. They are both working for the Republican candidates.

Claim to Control ten Miners.

A. R. Hamilton, labor agent for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, claims to hold in his vest pocket, for the Bigelow machine, the votes of the coal miners of the Sixth legislative district. He shows no hesitancy about making this claim to anybody who talks with him. Hamilton was given charge of the work among the coal miners by the bosses early in the campaign. He asserts that he can control all their votes by virtue of the influence he has with labor unions and with the Pittsburgh Coal Company.

Hamilton is spending all his time in the effort to line up the coal miners. It is his boast that he will, on next Tuesday, deliver bodily the miners to the Bigelow machine.

Inquiry among the miners has developed the fact that they consider themselves free men. The reports being made regarding them have reached their ears and they are naturally up in arms.

Thomas Robbins, president of the Pittsburgh Coal Company, said yesterday that Hamilton had no authority to use the name of the Pittsburgh Coal Company in his work among the miners. President Robbins made this statement:

"The Pittsburgh Coal Company is taking absolutely no part in politics. It has no interest in this contest. It is entirely neutral, not favoring one side or the other. It has no other interest in its employes than that they do their duty by it; their politics is a matter which does not concern the company. A. R. Hamilton is not authorized to solicit votes or to do political work in any form by the Pittsburgh Coal Company."

CARNEGIE AT HOME AGAIN

science and judicial opinion, ah, there is a man," he said. "I have read the whole case and cannot see how the decision could have been otherwise. Canada had a very poor case."

"Canada takes the matter too seriously," he continued, "the Anglo-Celtic race in America should get together. Canada should annex the United States as Scotland annexed England. I told the guests at a banquet in Ireland that Scotland annexed England and it tickled them down to their toes. But if Canada would only annex the United States—well, between us, we would take care of the mothe. country."

No Plans to Announce.

Mr. Carnegie announced what he called a very good piece of news received today, that Lord Strathcona has been made chancellor of the Aberdeen university.

"You know it was offered to me," he said, "but I'm glad the work was fallen to Strathcona, for he's a grand old man."

Mr. Carnegie had no new plans to announce. He does not yet know when he is likely to visit Pittsburgh, but within the next few weeks will see a number of those who are aiding him in his philanthropic projects there. Referring to his gift of $2,500,000 to his birthplace, Dunfermline, he said: "That was a grand hint to millionaires who have a desire to rid themselves of their financial incumbrances. Dunfermline is small, but I want people to know there is such a place and be impressed with its importance. Let millionaires thus dispose of their wealth rather than wait for someone else to spend it when they are dead."

One of the local newspaper men tried to draw from Mr. Carnegie an expression upon the present chaotic political situation in Gotham, but to no avail.

"No, thanks," he replied, "a harmless remark made on a similar occasion caused me no end of annoyance."

Thus ended the audience.

CONSTABLE'S STORE ROBBED.

Thieves Secure Money and Goods at McKees Rocks.

Thieves broke into the store owned by Constable John M. Keannan in River avenue, McKees Rocks, yesterday morning. About $15 worth of tobacco was stolen.

J. J. Conner of Island avenue, McKees Rocks, yesterday reported that $71 80, a gold watch and a chain were stolen from his vest during the night. Conner hung his vest on a bed post for the night and when he awoke he discovered his loss.

Prizes Awarded for Good Lawns.

Prizes offered by the Women's club of Wilkinsburg, for the best kept lawn and yard were awarded last evening. The $5 offered for the best kept lawn was awarded to J. C. Fryse, of No. 121 Savannah avenue, and the $2 50 offered for the best kept rear yard was awarded to the Rev. M. J. Patterson, of No. 900 North avenue, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. The prize for the best kept alley was not awarded.

THREE LARGE BANKS MERGE

organized in 1810 and in 1814 received its state charter. In 1880 it received its national charter, and while it is a regular national bank, the form of the name has been retained as "Bank of Pittsburgh," with "National association" added, the old name being such that it was considered too good an asset to disturb by inserting "national." The bank has been operated under the present organization since October 23, 1890.

Officers of the Bank.

It is capitalized at $1,200,000, the shares having $50 par value. It has paid 5 per cent dividends and the last sale of its stock on the Pittsburgh stock exchange was at $130 a share. James J. Donnell is president, William Roseburg vice president and W. F. Bickel cashier. The directors are Messrs. Donnell, Roseburg, Thomas H. Lane, John B. Jackson, Reuben Miller, J. Stuart Brown, James H. Park, T. Clifton Jenkins and Wilson Miller.

The Merchants and Manufacturers National bank was organized in 1853 and has been operated under its present organization since 1896. Its capital stock is $500,000, with shares of $50 par, and the last sales on the Pittsburgh stock exchange were at $185 a share. Its dividend rate is 8 per cent annually. The officers are: President, Wilson A. Shaw; vice president, John Caldwell, and cashier, J. M. Russell. The board of directors is composed of Messrs. Shaw, Caldwell, E. M. Ferguson, H. Sellers McKee, John E. Hurford, Albert J. Logan, W. S. Shellenberger, A. M. Brackenridge, George A. Kelly, Jr., W. S. McKinney and Finley H. Lloyd.

Guarantee Trust a Big Factor.

The Iron City National bank differs from the other two banks in that its control is owned by another institution, the Guarantee Title and Trust company. Practically the entire capital stock of the bank is held by the trust company, and the Guarantee Title and Trust will become the largest individual stockholder in the Bank of Pittsburgh by its exchange of Iron City stock for Bank of Pittsburgh stock.

The Iron City was organized in 1857 and has been in operation under its present organization since 1894. The stock is $400,000 with shares of $50 par and the last sales on change have been at $160 the share. Its dividend rate is also 8 per cent annually. Joseph R. Paull is president of the bank; George W. Wright, vice president and cashier, and Dallas C. Byers, vice president. These officials, with W. N. Frew, W. H. Self, J. E. Ash, J. R. Woodwell, C. F. Holdship, T. A. Gillespie, L. W. Frank, C. M. Logue, Frederick Davidson, A. C. Overholt, M. E. Salisbury, Peter Hermes, A. M. Moreland and W. C. Temple, constitute the directorate.

Thrown from Traction Car.

William Myers of First street, Rankin, while returning from work at the Westinghouse plant in Wilmerding, was thrown from a private car of the Pittsburgh Railways Company on a sharp curve. His head struck the sidewalk and he suffered a severe scalp wound and his left arm and body were badly bruised. He was removed to his home.

Bank President Dead.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 30.—B. F. Archer, president of the Camden National bank and known throughout New Jersey, died at his home here tonight. Mr. Archer was widely known in financial circles and was connected with several corporations. He was about 65 years of age.

BEAVERS' LAWYER WAS CHECKMATED

Efforts to Reveal Secrets of Grand Jury Room Proved Futile.

MISS AMY WREN TESTIFIED

Defense in Celebrated Postal Fraud Case Unable to Show That Grand Jury Had Not Sufficient Evidence Upon Which to Base Indictment.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—After many futile attempts to secure her attendance, Miss Amy Wren was the first witness called today in the hearing, before United States Commissioner Hitchcock of George W. Beavers, the former head of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, who is charged with having received money from the Brandt-Dent Company of Watertown, Wis., for which he gave the company a contract for the purchases of automatic cash registers manufactured by it.

Miss Wren is the official stenographer of United States District Attorney Youngs of Brooklyn, and as such took the minutes of the federal grand jury in Brooklyn last July, which returned the indictment against Beavers, Congressman Driggs and George T. Miller, the local manager of the Brandt-Dent Company, charging conspiracy to defraud the government.

Miss Wren said she had been present in the grand jury room in Brooklyn in July last when the Beavers indictment was found.

"Who attended before that body as witnesses?" asked Mr. Steuer, counsel for Beavers.

This question brought an immediate objection from United States District Attorney Burnett, who protested that the grand jury proceedings were sacred in the eyes of the law and the witness had taken an oath not to reveal them. The objection was sustained.

Objections Sustained.

Mr. Steuer continued to question Miss Wren concerning what transpired in the grand jury room at the time the indictment against Beavers was returned and General Burnett continued to object. Finally the general asked the privilege to question the witness that she need not answer any questions concerning what occurred in the room. This the commissioner did despite Mr. Steuer's objections. Mr. Steuer said he desired to show that no evidence was adduced before the grand jury upon which a legal indictment could have been found. General Burnett called the attention of the commissioner to the fact that the indictment had already been accepted by him as prima facie evidence.

United States District Attorney Youngs was sworn and was asked if he would produce the records of the July grand jury and such papers and documents offered for its consideration. General Burnett objected, saying the records were the property of the government and that Col. Youngs could not produce them. The objection was sustained and the witness excused.

Inspector Little Testifies.

Inspector Little was then called. He signed the complaint against Beavers and Mr. Steur questioned him at great length to show that his statements in the complaint were based on hearsay and that he had no personal knowledge of the actual facts but without result. The question was finally asked the witness if he had any personal knowledge of Congressman Driggs' connection with the Edward J. Brandt-Dent company.

"I have," replied Major Little.

"Was your knowledge derived from either of them personally?" asked Mr. Steur.

"No, I was. I derived my knowledge from Mr. Driggs himself from conversation with him."

Mr. Steur evidently intended to go into the Driggs matter more fully but an objection ended all questions in that direction. Mr. Steur said that he was ready to close the case as soon as he was able to secure the attendance of Inspector Oldfield, and an adjournment was taken until Monday.

DELANEY MOVES TO THE EAST END

Common Councilman of First Ward Follows Suit of Fleming and Piatt.

HE STILL HOLDS HIS SEAT

Resides in Twenty-First Ward—Citizens Party Bosses Will Not Allow Membership to Be Forfeited—New Charter Act is Violated.

Common Councilman Thomas Delaney is now a resident of the Twenty-First ward, but continues to represent the First ward in councils notwithstanding that under the new charter act he has forfeited his membership by change of residence. Mr. Delaney's new home is in McPherson street, Homewood district. For years he conducted a hotel in Market street and represented that ward in the lower branch of the city legislature. He sold out his business several months ago. Under the new charter act he should resign his seat at once, although his term will expire the first of next April.

The new charter act provides: "The removal of any member of select council from the ward, or of any member of common council from the ward he represents, shall forfeit the membership of such person, and his place shall be filled at the next municipal election occuring in more than thirty days after such removal."

Under the new law it would be impossible to elect a new representative from the First ward until next February, but if the law were obeyed the seat from the First ward would be vacant until that time. Mr. Delaney is not the only member of councils who thus disregards the law. Keeping him company in this respect are James W. Piatt, who represents the second ward in select council and resides in Twentieth ward, George S. Fleming, who represents the First ward in select council and resides in the Fourteenth ward.

If Messrs Fleming and Delaney obeyed the law or if councils would insist upon the law being obeyed, the First ward would be without representation in either branch of councils. Mr. Fleming's term expires next April and he will probably retain his seat until that time. Mr. Piatt's however, does not expire until 1906, and he will probably not resign before the organization of the new councils next April. In the event of a close vote between the Republicans and the Citizens his vote would be of assistance to the Citizens, with whom he is now identified as a member of the combine.

Messrs Fleming and Delaney are also identified with the Citizens party machine, and the Citizens party leaders do not want them to give up their seats until they are forced to. There is a case pending in court to deprive Mr. Piatt of his seat because of the fact that he lived over his place of business in the Third ward, although representing the Second ward. Since the suit was instituted last spring he has moved to the Twentieth ward, to Center avenue, near Millvale avenue.

NO CENSURE FOR WARDEN OR GUARDS

Board of Prison Inspectors Ignores Recently Discovered Plot of Convicts to Escape.

The board of prison inspectors of Allegheny county held its regular monthly meeting yesterday at the house of J. R. Reed, one of the members, in Allegheny. The meeting lasted about two hours, and according to several of those present, was devoted to routine work, the approving of bills and of payrolls, the reinsuring of the building and other little things, but the recent plot of convicts to escape was only cursorily mentioned. Neither the warden, Dr. W. McC. Johnston, nor the guards were censured.

"Why should they be censured or discharged," said ex-Mayor William J. Diehl. "The plot was detected, and that is what warden and guards are for. The convicts are always concocting plans to escape, but very few of their efforts get into the papers, for we know that publicity only encourages other prisoners to try to gain their liberty.

"The warden made no report to the board regarding the matter. Members of the board had already investigated the plot and our orders to wall up the door that had been tampered with have been carried out. Nothing remains to be done."

FREE ORGAN RECITAL.

Good Programs Arranged by Lemare and Ecker for Carnegie Hall.

For the free organ recitals by Edwin H. Lemare at Carnegie Music hall this evening and tomorrow afternoon. The program calls on English, German, French and Australian composers. Mr. Lemare's summer outing in Australia brought the acquaintance of the organist of the Town Hall at Sidney and in compliment to that man, Arthur Mason, a composition of his has place for the first time on Mr. Lemare's Pittsburgh programs. In full the program is:

This District Is Not Affected.

The strike inaugurated by the International association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers against the Iron league, which is affiliated with the Building Trades Employers of New York, will not affect Pittsburgh. The league is made up of five firms and only two have ever done work in the Pittsburgh district. They are the Cornell Construction company and the Thomas-Sherrett company. The strike order goes into effect today.

Workmen Refused to Arbitrate.

A conference between the striking stone cutters and the Stone Contractors' association was held yesterday. The stone contractors asked the workmen to submit the dispute to a board of arbitration. The workmen refused, stating there was nothing to arbitrate, as nothing was in dispute except the wages to be paid. The stone cutters struck two months ago for an advance from $4 to $4 50 a day.

GREAT FESTIVAL OF REFORMATION

To Be Celebrated in Every Lutheran Church in the World Tomorrow.

ANNIVERSARY AND MEMORIAL

In Honor of a Woman Who Assisted to Organize a Congregation—Thirty-Seventh Annual Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of Pittsburgh.

The festival of the reformation will be observed tomorrow in every Lutheran church throughout the world, and Martin Luther's great battle hymn, "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," will be sung at each of the services. The pastors of the Lutheran churches of Pittsburgh and Allegheny will preach on some phase of the reformation. October 31 is the date of the anniversary, and the festival is always celebrated on the nearest Sabbath. Special musical programs have also been prepared in each of the churches.

The First Congregational church of Allegheny, Thomas Clayton, pastor, will tomorrow morning hold a memorial service for the late Mrs. Columbus West and also observe the forty-fourth anniversary of its organization. Forty-four years ago the church was organized in Mrs. West's parlor and up to her death, two weeks ago, she had been an ardent worker. Mr. Clayton will preach an appropriate sermon and a special musical program will be rendered.

The Thirty-seventh annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian association of Pittsburgh will be held in the Alvin theater, Sixth street, November 8. The Rev. James M. Thoburn, Jr., D. D., pastor of the Calvary Methodist Episcopal church of Allegheny, will deliver the address. The week following will be observed as the week of prayer for young men throughout the world.

The congregation of the new Second Presbyterian church of Wilkinsburg will hold its first Sunday service tomorrow morning in Assembly hall. The Rev. David Breed, D. D., LL. D., of the Western Theological Seminary, will occupy the pulpit.

The St. Paul's Lutheran congregation of Allegheny, James and Middle streets, W. E. Schramm, pastor, will hold services in its church as usual tomorrow, notwithstanding the recent fire.

In Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets, the Rev. John H. Prugh, D. D., pastor, a special music program has been arranged for the first Sunday evening of each month. The program for tomorrow evening is: Organ, "Largo;" anthems, "O Home of Fadeless Splendors," "Sweet Is Thy Mercy," "Even Me" and "No Shadows Yonder;" organ, "Festival March."

Evangelistic services will be held in many churches next week. James Burwick, a prominent railroad evangelist, assisted by A. K. Clark, a gospel singer, will conduct a series of meetings in the Presbyterian church of McKees Rocks. The meetings are backed by the churches of that borough and the purpose is to organize a local railroad Young Men's Christian association. Evangelistic services will be held each night next week in the Shady Avenue, Allegheny, Christian church, E. E. Bales, pastor. The Rev. W. P. Shrum, D. D., pastor of the Second Cumberland Presbyterian church will be assisted this week by the Rev. J. M. Cocksum of Mercer, Pa. The Rev. J. C. Lawson of India will conduct the services in the New Covenant mission, Maurice Ruben, superintendent, Forty-second street, near Penn avenue.

WILL PROBE FURTHER J. O. BROWN'S DEATH

Brother Will See District Attorney and Produce Evidence Not Shown in Inquest.

James R. P. Brown, the brother of the late city recorder Joseph O. Brown, does not intend to let the mystery of the manner of his brother's death remain unsolved. He said yesterday that he would consult with District Attorney John C. Haymaker. When asked if he thought he had evidence that would justify a grand jury in returning an indictment Mr. Brown refused to answer. He said that he had evidence regarding conversation not brought out in the inquest, and that several friends of his dead brother had urged him to pursue the investigation.

It is estimated that the expenses of the J. O. Brown inquest will amount to about $1,000. An indication of the probable action of some county officials when the bills shall come before them was furnished yesterday, when the members of the jury presented their warrants for payment. By order of County Controller Robert J. Cunningham the controller's cashier refused to honor the warrants.

Dr. W. H. McKelvy and Dr. M. W. Everson, who attended J. O. Brown at the time of his death, issued a statement yesterday. In his "charge" to the jury Coroner Jesse M. McGeary said the evidence showed that the certificate of death on file was "absolutely false." The physicians say they told the coroner there were some suspicious circumstances, but nothing definite could be adduced to prove that the death was not from natural causes, and that the coroner was satisfied with the certificate which stated that death was from heart failure, superinduced by mental strain and worry. In an interview yesterday Miss Nattie McLean, at whose mother's house J. O. Brown died, intimated that he committed suicide and said the three physicians held the same theory.

Reward for James Mellon.

The county commissioners have offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of James Mellon, colored, wanted on a charge of shooting and killing Constable Shields at Glassport on October 16. The county detectives have been working on the case, and so far they have no trace of the fugitive. Mellon killed Constable Shields in resisting arrest. John Housiln, who was with Mellon at the time, was killed by Constable Shields.

Methodist Protestants Meet.

The annual meeting of the Methodist Protestant church union of Pittsburgh will be held on Monday evening at the Sheraden Methodist Protestant church. The Rev. C. S. Sanders will make the principal address, and the president of the union, the Rev. Dr. B. W. Anthony, will present his annual report. Officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

FREIGHT WRECK INJURES THREE

Engine of Westbound Train Leaves Track and Turns Completely Around.

SIGNAL TOWER DEMOLISHED

Traffic on Allegheny Division of Pennsylvania Railroad Delayed Several Hours Before the Tracks Were Cleared of Wreckage.

A westbound freight train on the Allegheny division of the Pennsylvania railroad was derailed at Smaliman and Twenty-eighth streets, Lawrenceville, about 7:40 o'clock last night and three men were injured. They are:

HARRY MARNETT, engineer, of Forty-third street, bruised on left side of body; taken to West Penn hospital and later to his home.

J. J. CHRISTY, conductor, of No. 114 Seventh street, Esplen, slightly scalded by escaping steam; taken to West Penn hospital and later to his home.

FRED BOHART, fireman, of Lawrenceville, bruised about the arms and legs; went home unassisted.

The injured men were all in the cab of the engine and received their bruises by landing on the rails and ground after jumping from the cab.

The freight pulled out of the Forty-third street station with eight cars of gravel and an oil tank. About 100 yards east of Smaliman street the engine left the rails. The men in the cab jumped and thus escaped with their lives. The engine turned about as though on a pivot, ran several yards in the opposite direction and then tumbled over on its side. The tender and the next car were derailed. The impetus of the other cars forced them into the signal tower at Smaliman street. Harry Richer, the one-legged towerman, was uninjured. The first floor of the tower was wrecked.

Wreck trains were soon on the scene. The northbound track was cleared by 11 o'clock and the southbound track about an hour later. The cause of the accident is believed to be due to imperfections in the engine. She was brought out of the repair shop yesterday after a slight accident on the previous night. An examination of the rails failed to disclose any defects. The oil car stopped directly in front of the wrecked tower house. Policeman Andrew Winstel was afraid that escaping gas from the broken pipes, which connected the gas stove in the tower to the mains in the street, might cause an explosion and the Philadelphia Company was notified and the gas shut off.

To Extend Brotherhood Work.

Plans for greatly extending the membership and work of the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip in this vicinity were considered at the quarterly meeting of the local society held last evening at the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Station street. The meeting was presided over by Dr. H. W. Boyd of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, who is president of the brotherhood. Committees were appointed to look after the various features of the work. The next meeting will be held on December 18 at Grace Reformed church.

Orientals at the Schenley.

The magnificent collection of oriental rugs and carpets now displayed in the ball room of the Hotel Schenley is attracting much attention. An unusually large number of Pittsburgh people have taken advantage of this opportunity to purchase some of the rarest and most beautiful examples of oriental handiwork ever shown in this city.

For the first time during the sales held here by H. Michaelyan of Neville street prices have been reduced. The reduction is not merely nominal nor on a few lines only. It comprises every rug and carpet in the stock and means a saving of many dollars on each purchase. The reason for this radical step is found in the recent financial depression which caused many people of large means to postpone their purchase. Mr. Michaelyan solved the situation by offering special inducements in the way of unprecedented price concessions.

VOTES TO ABOLISH ALL TRAIN ORDERS

American Railway Association Wants Block System on All Double Track Railroads.

The American Railway association, the most powerful railway organization in the country, has pledged itself to the entire abandonment of the operation of trains by telegraphic orders on all double-track railroads. The decision was reached at the meeting held this week at Richmond, Va., the gathering being the semi-annual session of the organization. Word of the determination reached Pittsburgh last evening.

The decision of the association in its meeting is practically decisive as the formal action of each railroad in the matter. The membership of the association is composed of the operating officials, who have charge of such matters and through their united action the most progressive plans that have advanced American railroading have been worked out.

The use of the block system is the alternative which presents itself when telegraphic train orders are abolished. The more enterprising of the railroads throughout the country are already using the block system to a greater or less extent. It has proved its effectiveness in reducing the number of wrecks by removing the danger of losing or misinterpreting orders. Trainmen have to watch only the semophores in the block system, and the newer inventions have made these block signals automatic to a remarkable degree.

Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to the president of the Pennsylvania railroad, has been among the most active of those who have advocated reforms in train orders. He has been chairman of the committee on train rules of the association, and aided materially in bringing improvements to pass in this important part of operation.

Room Needed in the Postoffice.

Postmaster George L. Holliday returned from Washington, D. C., yesterday, where he interviewed officials of the postoffice department concerning the needs of the Pittsburgh office. Mr. Holliday believes provision will be made for more space which is badly needed in the postoffice. The handling of campaign literature is giving the employes considerable trouble. The usual provisions for handling Christmas mail will be looked after. The office of the postmaster may be moved to the second floor and a second story may be built on the wagon shed in Cherry alley.

Shop-Worn Pianos At Bargain Prices.

Music Boxes, $1 Down.

Fine Pianos for Holiday Trade.

We have a number of shopworn upright pianos which we are selling at very low prices—away below their actual value. They are in good condition. So far as musical essentials go some of them are quite as good as many new instruments costing twice as much as these. Among them are a Fischer, a Franklin, a Howard, a Sterling, a McPhail and a Krakauer. The cases include mahogany, ebony and walnut. If you select any one of these instruments you will get a splendid bargain. The prices range from $125 up. And you could not duplicate any one of these pianos for anything near the prices asked. Of course the number is limited and as many people are looking for just such a money-saving opportunity as this on a really good piano, the only way to be sure of getting here in time is to come right away.

We have some used square pianos that will be sold at merely nominal prices. A few dollars talks choice. They are just the thing for practice purposes.

Come in and see these pianos and hear them played. You will be surprised at the values.

Besides, you will be interested and delighted by our magnificent stock of fine, new pianos for the holiday trade, which have just arrived and are now on display.

We have about one hundred music boxes which we wish to sell before the holiday rush begins. And as a special inducement we will let you have one of these music boxes upon payment of one dollar, the remaining payments being made weekly or monthly, at your convenience. You can have the music box delivered now or at Christmas, as you desire.

Now is a good time to select your Christmas piano.

Half Prices for Handsome Street Hats and Toques

The Phipps & Atchison Purchase

Heavy selling again yesterday, yet, notwithstanding that Thursday and Friday saw more pretty hats and toques go out from our millinery rooms, third floor, than in any such length of time before, we are pleased to announce that choice is just as broad today as it was on either of the days past.

When it is considered that we took the entire sample line of a firm like Phipps & Atchison, whose business stretches out to all the big cities of this country, you well know that our purchase was quite a big one. It was well enough that we took the whole line. If we had minced matters, and gone to picking here and there, there would have been a sorry time for you when you came to select from this collection. As it is, every woman was pleased beyond measure. All notions as to the right kind of a hat met without any trouble, and best of all

Only Half Prices to Pay.

As the interest is unabated, and as the lines show no perceptible depletion, we again give you the figures this morning.

Play Clothes and Dress-Up Clothes for Boys.

The little fellows of the knee-trouser period of youth are the chaps that are hard on their clothes. They should have a sturdy suit for play times and a natty suit for dress-up occasions. We study boys' clothing from every side, we look after the cloth that goes into the every-day suit just as particularly as we do after the cloth that goes into the real fine suits. We understand what parents mean when they say: "Johnnie's hard on his clothes." We also understand, fully well, that there are clothes made for boys, backed up by honeyed words, that are hardly worth carrying home—the boy who understands his business real well being capable of knocking them out in two or three romping plays.

Boys' clothes bought from us will withstand any boyish games that are standard or that may be invented. They are built strongly, the parts needing it are given a double twist as to sewing, the cloth is of an extra tight weave, and altogether they are the best clothes obtainable.

$3.50 and up to $15.00 for little boys' double-breasted Russian and Sailor Suits. Every cloth and color that is used.

We make a specialty of a $5.00 Suit bearing our name that is intended for school wear. It is a double-breasted Norfolk, in either plain or fancy cheviot and undressed worsted. It is the best suit we know of for $5.00. If we could find a better you may be sure it would be here.

Every boy should be the possessor of two or three extra pairs of Trousers—knee trousers of the strong sort—50c, 75c, $1.00 and $1.50 a pair.

For boys who are just jumping from knee trousers to long trousers we have excellent Suits at $7.50, full of style, great for service, and from that price the rise is gradual up to $25.00.

Reefers for young boys—blue cheviot, blue serge, fancy Scotch tweed, small velvet collar or large sailor collar—$4.00 and up to $10.00.

Little Boys' Belted Overcoats of kersey, cheviot and homespun—blue, cardinal, brown, royal blue—middy style of trimming—$5.00 and up to $25.00.

An immense stock of boys' Overcoats for all ages, from $3.50 up to $30.00.

Basement Demonstrations.

Today will be the last for showing how to mix bread in three minutes and the hands never touching the dough. Of course, it is a patented arrangement, but nevertheless we are selling it for the small sum of $2.25. The sale of the bread mixer will be continued right along, but the demonstrations cease after today.

The Block Light.

Everybody interested in having their rooms brilliantly lighted and in saving the cost of gas, can study the Block Light any time they choose to go to the basement—cuts your gas bill in two, gives you the brilliancy of 300-candle power.

Aluminum Culinary Ware.

Rejoice, O Cook, and be glad! The time for burnt cooking utensils is past. All women who will take the trouble to go to our basement, either by elevator or by stairs, will there see an aluminum teapot of large size, under which is constantly burning a number of natural gas jets. This teapot is dry and has been ever since it was put on the stove. And yet it is not harmed in the least.

You can't hurt aluminum cooking utensils with fire.

In aluminum goods we have every sort of cooking utensil that is used.

Short Pieces of Ribbons Today.

Very Much Less Than Half of Former Prices.

Now, ladies, each and all of you are more or less interested in ribbons for various uses during the festival of Christmas. Counting by weeks it's rather astonishing to know how near Christmas is to us. These ribbons are just what you want for all sorts of decorative and trimming purposes.

They are lengths from ⅝ of a yard up to 2½ and 3 yards. There are all widths, all styles, all weaves.

You can select that which pleases your fancy most—plain ribbons, fancy ribbons, plaid ribbons, etc.

Sale will be on special table in aisle leading to elevator.

For the Game of Football.

All the paraphernalia for the game—from jackets and trousers to nose and shin guards. Today they will be found on the sixth floor—

Footballs from 75c to $4.00 each.
Football Trousers from 50c to $2.50 a pair.
Football Jackets from 50c to $1.00 each.
Football Wool Jerseys from $1.00 to $1.75 each.
Football Nose Guards, $1.50 each.
Football Shin Guards, 50c to $1.00 a pair.
Football Flags and Pennants, 50c and 75c each.

Hallowe'en Requisites.

Everything for enjoying yourself around the family fireside, everything for taking part in the street frolics.

At the Silverware Counter.

Plated Nut Sets, 40c, 50c, $1.00.
Fruit Knives, 75c a set.
Silver Nut or Apple Bowls, $3.00 to $6.00.
Bonbon Dishes, $1.00, $1.25, $2.75.
Cider Pitchers, $3.75 to $7.50.
Candlesticks, $1.50 to $2.75.
Candelabra, $3.00 to $8.00.
Bouquet Holders, $1.25 to $3.25.

On the Sixth Floor.

Pumpkin Lanterns, 10c each; 3 for 25c.
Faice Faces, from 2c to 50c each.
Horns of all kinds, 5c each.
Japanese Lanterns, from 6c to 50c each.

Butterfly Initials.

On Women's Handkerchiefs 12½c.

A fortnight back we had 3,600 of these handkerchiefs and they fairly flew out in less than two days. Used our best endeavors to get more at that time to keep the enthusiasm a-going, but were disappointed, and so had to bide our time.

The second lot arrived yesterday, 6,000 of them, and they're yours in lots of your own making for the little price of 12½c each. Candidly, if it were not that they are only half laundered, we would charge you 25c apiece for them—that is to say if they were full laundered.

Butterfly, the spray upon which it rests, the dainty initial—all done by hand, and the cloth pure linen.

How many shall we wrap up for you?

Saturday, October 31, 1903.

Attention was called some time ago to the obvious padding of the registry lists in the interest of the Democratic-Citizens organization. The work of purging these lists has begun in court. Ten election districts, principally in the downtown wards, have been examined and 704 names have been struck out—366 on Thursday and 342 yesterday. The time is scant in which to cover all of the districts, but at the least something has been done to check wholesale repeating and violation of the election laws. The padding of registry lists is one of the most infamous practices of professional politics, and a resort to it shows how far the proprietors of the Democratic-Citizens party have drifted from the original reform principles upon which the Citizens movement was begun. The failure to redeem platform promises and the hold-up of public business for discreditable private purposes, which drove the Orphans from the party fold, were cause enough for the defeat of the new ring, but the effort to tamper with the purity of the ballot is worse.

Physicians who attended the late Joseph O. Brown now state that they reported the suspicious circumstances to Coroner McCleary and that the death certificate was issued by his instructions. It has been evident all along that the subsequent investigation has been actuated by personal motives rather than public interests, and the verdict which Coroner McCleary induced the jury to render possesses no moral weight.

The monthly summary of commerce just issued by the government shows that both imports and exports fell off in September as compared with the same month last year, but the balance of trade is much in our favor and there is an increased movement of gold to the United States. For the nine months ending September, there was an increase of $56,000,000 in imports and an increase of $45,000,000 in exports, as compared with the same period of last year. The statistical data show that national commerce is in a prosperous condition and indicate that general trade has not been seriously affected by the depression in the stock market.

The serious illness of Prof. Mommsen, the jurist, historian and publicist of Berlin, was reported yesterday. He is aged and it is hardly possible he can recover. His death will close a picturesque career. Mommsen was a studious child and in young manhood took university honors. Then in turn he became journalist, judge, historian and publicist, taking active part in discussions of world politics, international law and universal science. Prof. Mommsen's latest public effort was a paper in September advocating closer relations between Great Britain and Germany, since their aims are similar. Appearing just after the Anglo-French rapprochement, the paper excited much comment and criticism in London, Paris and Berlin.

Republican County Chairman Thomas J. Ford has issued a statement summing up the work and issues of the campaign. Mr. Ford is entirely confident as to the result and has reason to be. There have been efforts made by the organs of the opposition to create an impression that there are, or will be, defections from the Republican organizations. They carefully refrain from giving any particulars. Of course their insinuations are baseless. On the other hand there is no secret about the defections from the Democratic-Citizens organization. Above all there are the Orphans. There are the Sixth legislative district chairman and workers, with similar trouble in the Eleventh and Fourteenth wards. There are reasons for Republican confidence. The Democratic-Citizens bosses fought so strenuously to have Goehring on their ticket for district attorney that his election would be a menace to the people. The sheriff has not much to do with filtration of the city water supply, but Thomas M. Brown has had so much to do with preventing progress that he ought to be rebuked at the polls.

The wreck of the express train on the Santa Fe road in Colorado appears to have been deliberately contrived, the spikes having been removed from a rail on the bridge so as to derail the train. A section of the bridge gave way under the enormous impact and two cars and the engine went down with the bridge. The only apparent motive for the deed was sheer malice, without any gain to the perpetrators. There appears to be people whose hatred of society is such that they perpetrate crime not through cupidity, but from the satisfaction which the ruin of property and the destruction of human life gives to their malignant natures. Human nature is susceptible to moral degeneration that develops capacities for cruelty greater than those of any beast of prey, and to processes of this kind must be in the main attributed the crimes of anarchists. Such tendencies have appeared at various periods of the world's history and did not disappear until counteracted by such an energy of punishment as tended to extirpate beings whose nature unfitted them for social life. Our hard-headed and heavy-handed ancestors of a few centuries ago broke assassins on the wheel, or had them drawn and quartered, exposing the pieces as an object lesson to the criminally disposed. Centuries of such harsh jurisprudence went into the making of the modern world, in which human sympathy is too active to permit cruel and unusual punishments, but if the class at war with society should succeed in producing the terrorism which is their avowed object, it will not promote anarchy so much as it will a return to the methods by which anarchy was suppressed in past ages when the peril aroused society to an unsparing use of every means by which its foes could be destroyed.

Of Vital Importance.

Peculiar importance attaches to the office of district attorney in Allegheny county at this time, and so to the election of the man who is to hold that position for the next three years. The police departments of Pittsburgh and Allegheny are controlled by the Democratic Citizens organization. The district attorney is the only check upon their power. How these police departments have been managed is known of all men. That worse things have not been done is owing to the check upon them in the district attorney's office. It should need no argument, therefore, to prove the wisdom of perpetuating such a restraining influence.

It will be recalled that in the controversy and deadlock between the Democrats and the proprietors of the Citizens organization, which were ended by the Democrats yielding and consenting to the slating of Harry Goehring, stress was laid upon the power that would be placed in the hands of the Democrats to coerce the owners of the Citizens organization if they were permitted to have the candidate for district attorney and he should be elected. The Citizens proprietors, with control of the police force of both cities, want control also of the district attorneyship for obvious reasons. With the police machinery and the machinery of prosecution at their disposal they feel that they will be able to wield a political club which will be of the greatest use to them. If it is so important to them as they have demonstrated in their relations with their Democratic partners for the owners of the Citizens organization to add control of the district attorneyship to the police power they now possess, it is doubly important to the people to keep them out of control and to provide themselves with a check upon the Democratic-Citizens schemes by electing Maj. Robert E. Stewart to the office. The man who represents the people ought to be elected district attorney by the people for their own protection against the men who have made city government a private asset and who are endeavoring to do the same thing with all branches of the county government. Let the people hold their own against this attempted hold-up.

Allegheny Will Be Good.

After putting up a futile bluff the Allegheny administration and board of health followed the example of Davy Crockett's coon and came down. While City Solicitor Porter was defying the authority of Dr. Batt and the state board of health, Mayor Wyman and Superintendent McLaughlin were arranging a modus vivendi, the basis of which is an agreement on their part to comply with the demands of the state quarantine officer to take effective measures to prevent the further spread of smallpox in the North Side city.

The Gazette takes pleasure in congratulating the people of Allegheny upon this favorable turn in the affair which has cost them uneasiness. It is the sensible solution. Superintendent McLaughlin and the administration over him could have avoided the entire sensation had they acted as wisely in the beginning and given heed to the warning of the state board. Instead of submitting to that request and giving their attention to measures for suppression of the disease, the Allegheny officials imagined they might make political capital out of the matter in a desperate situation. They accordingly trumped up the charge of political intrigue, resisted the demand for investigation and action and brought upon the city all the trouble it has had. Nobody else had thought of politics until the Allegheny administration made the suggestion.

Since the Allegheny authorities have admitted the inefficiency of their measures for guarding the public health and agreed to adopt a better system there is reason to hope for a speedy suppression of the disease in that city. But until the needed measures are actually applied the shattered confidence of the people will not be restored. And since the Allegheny authorities have themselves given a political aspect to their negligence of sanitary precautions, the people of Allegheny will hardly forget it until the authorities have mended their ways.

A Missed Opportunity.

On December 31, 1902, in speaking about the Citizens headquarters worker nominated for mayor, the Post made the following memorable predictions:

He accepts the boss principle, declares loyalty to the boss and who can doubt these will be the animating and controlling principles of his administration? There is nothing in Mr. Hays' personality or record to even suggest that he will be a resisting force. The evidence is all the other way. His nomination is a surrender to the vital principle of boss rule, against which the Democrats and Citizens came together last February. It will nullify, with the vast patronage in his unskilled hands, to be directed by others, all of the important results achieved in the election of a reform council and reform controller. It is a surrender to those ideas and principles of municipal administration against which the people have been in arms for a long time.

All these anticipations have been verified. The recent statement from the Orphans setting forth their reasons for leaving the Citizens organization might have been printed in parallel columns by the Post as the exact fulfillment of its prophecy made last December. The ground upon which the Orphans renounced their allegiance was that the surrender to ring rule, foretold by the Post, was complete, and that the leaders of the Citizens organization had sought to build up "a new ring, clothed with new power, to revive forbidden political methods and promote political practices upon which the seal of public condemnation has been stamped." Everything has come out just as the Post said it would, but the Post can't say so now, because immediately after denouncing the surrender to ring methods it hastened to acquiesce and it has been the apologist of the system ever since. It appears to be characteristic of the Post that when it tells the truth it becomes ashamed of itself, and it is able to remain steadfast and consistent only in misrepresentation.

The Business Situation.

Determined runs on the trust companies of St. Louis during the early days of this week, though they did not result in closing a single institution, had widespread influence on the business of the country. Possibly the runs at St. Louis may have been inspired by last week's failures at Baltimore. At any rate the St. Louis troubles prompted bankers throughout the country to use every effort to increase their available supply of cash on their counters, the result being to advance the money rate at New York and to slacken the business movement wherever the tightening was in progress, and that was practically everywhere. This is the first symptom of the depression west of the Mississippi, where business of all kinds has continued at flood tide.

A month ago there had been a perceptible narrowing in the east. Two weeks ago it was noted in the south. It has begun in the west. Manufacturers and jobbers report slow trade, with buyers apparently waiting to see what will turn up. Cotton goods makers have enjoined selling agents to not make concessions in price on account of dull business, because the high price of raw material forbids any shading. In other lines where concessions are possible they are being made to stimulate movement.

An event of the week was the report of Buston, the English cotton expert, who makes a tour of the southern belt every year and makes an estimate of the crop for the English spinners. Mr. Buston reached New York on Tuesday and cabled his principals the estimate of 11,500,000 bales for the total crop. It is remembered that this gentleman over-estimated the yield last year by many bales, which resulted in spinners keeping out of the market, waiting for lower prices, until the famous corner had put raw cotton out of reach. For that reason his estimate this year is not taken with absolute confidence. Other reports give considerably lower figures on the crop on account of ravages of the boll-weevil in Texas.

The iron and steel market continues unsatisfactory. Railroads have been obviously holding off rail orders in the hope of getting better prices, but the rail makers announced, mid-week, that no concession will be made from the rate of $28 a ton. This announcement was partly in reply to the proposition of the railroads to reduce freight charges if rails were cut to $26 and partly in refutation of rumors that a reduction was to be made. It is believed in well-informed quarters that the railroads cannot hold off much longer. The strike of the structural iron workers has caused some uneasiness, but it is hoped it will not extend beyond the present area of disturbance.

Foreign trade statistics for September are unfavorable in showing a decrease in exports, but favorable in simultaneous decrease in imports. Inspection beyond the grand totals is encouraging. The decrease in exports is in the movement of products of agriculture and fisheries. There is an increase in exports of manufactures of more than $1,500,000 and in other items. It is well known the crops were late in maturing this year. The export movement in grains and cotton for the year has just fairly begun and should show in the October statistics and still more largely in the remaining two months of 1903, the crops in this country being above the 10 years' average and those of Europe short.

Crop movement is likely to be followed by better general business, though hesitation will exist until there is a clue to the measure of difficulties involved in labor readjustments that must necessarily be made. The tightness of the money market is a temporary condition, though it is beyond human power to say how long it may last. The exceptional soundness of fundamental conditions should make for speedy passing of the scare that has seized bankers and their customers. The bankers will be glad to loosen up as soon as they feel safe, and they will feel safe as soon as the people who deal with them recover their nerve.

Campaign Bright Spots.

There are bright spots in the New York campaign of education that deserve honorable mention in the newspapers. First in order, when the metropolis was in a ferment of excitement over the acceptance by Grout and Fornes of places on the Tammany ticket and their consequent repudiation by the fusionists who had first nominated them, Mayor Low said something that sounded a new note in the clamor and recalled men to the true issues of the campaign. Mayor Low spoke of Grout. It was a public platform utterance. It called attention to the mayor's previous indorsement of the comptroller's administration of his public office, and the mayor declared that the fact was in no sense changed by Mr. Grout's acceptance of a nomination from Tammany hall. What had been said was the truth and new acts, while they might shed new light, did not alter ascertained and recorded facts. The statement concerning Grout and the subsequent declarations of the mayor to an audience of Germans who are opposed to Sunday closing that he would honestly administer the excise laws as he found them prove the mayor to be a man of character who faces facts and grapples with the actualities, in no way attempting to evade the consequences of them. It is proof of character, and it is character that is needed in the chief of a great municipality.

Another bright spot in the campaign is due to some illuminating words of Mr. Grout. It happens that Bourke Cockran, an eminent word painter and phrase maker, is devoting himself to the success of the Tammany ticket, and adopting the policy of the demagogue, attempted to arouse the masses against Mayor Low by declaring that in the equalization of assessments by the Low administration the rich have had their taxes lowered, while "over on the East Side they (the tenement dwellers) have been made to pay for it." This, of course, was something of a two-edged sword, inasmuch as two important members of the Low administration are running for re-election on the Tammany ticket. The fact was not appreciated by Mr. Cockran, who so often leaps before he jumps. Mr. Grout, however, is on record in a typewritten statement issued before the split with Low, and the statement is now published as an answer to Cockran. It is too long for reproduction, but it is to the point that there has been an average decrease of 10 per cent in the taxation of East Side proprietors. Mr. Grout has not yet made a campaign confirmation of this, but manfully refuses to repudiate it, much to the confusion of Mr. Cockran. He permits the record to stand to the credit of Low, without equivocation or evasion.

It requires courage to stand out as Low did, amid the condemnation and accusation of Grout, and declare in opposition to his supporters, who were denouncing Grout, that his official record was clean and straight. Grout's courage does not shine as the equal of Low's in the other incident, but he might do worse than keep silence.

While the Leader makes pretense of great indignation over the course of the Baltimore & Ohio, it is apparent the Leader's real purpose is to distract attention, if possible, from the prior course of its masters. The "Orphans" properly characterized the hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances. The Leader's rush to the defense of that infamy binds no one to the truth, though it fully exposes the Leader's sham pretense to be a supporter of clean government.

Being afflicted with mental strabismus the Leader continues to insist that the exposure of the Democratic-Citizens hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio ordinance and the appeal to the people against it is balderdash. Just leave it to the people to decide which it is.

The Post figures that the agitation about the spread of smallpox in Allegheny is making votes for the Citizens party. Why this discrimination against the typhoid fever epidemic? Ought not that to help some, too?

As M. M. Garland, former president of the Amalgamated association outlines it, Tom Johnson's record as the friend of labor isn't so bright that it needs to be inspected through smoked glasses.

The Democratic-Citizens candidates for county offices having been nominated by the proprietors of the organization will not rise superior to the power that placed them in the field.

Gov. Pennypacker thinks that the Republican majority in Pennsylvania ought to be nearly 300,000. And so it will be, governor, if the Democrats get justice.

It now appears that more tunes have been changed with regard to Allegheny than Dr. Batt's, and his has been changed from threatening to satisfaction.

It won't cost the kaiser as much to contribute a cup to be raced for as it cost Sir Thomas Lipton, who withdraws a cup in his favor to attempt to lift one.

While the jury in one Brown case has reported, the verdict on the death of Thomas Marshall Brown case will report on the deceased on Tuesday.

Mahlon Garland puts Tom L. Johnson's labor record on a par with the same gentleman's tax-dodging record.

The attempt by Allegheny officials to make smallpox a political issue pestered out before the vote.

The pledge-breakers are standing pat on their broken pledges, waiting for the popular rebuke.

The man behind the vote is the cynosure of all eyes.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Rudolf von Gottschall, the German poet and writer, has been endowed with an annuity of 1,200 marks by the city of Leipsic.

The king of Denmark has a very valuable collection of bird's eggs, which include specimens of nearly every kind in existence. The collection is considered to be worth about $75,000.

The Hon. John V. L. Findlay of Baltimore, is the last surviving member of the Maryland legislature of 1862, which was especially called to make provision for Maryland assuming her quota of the money for the support of the Federal government during the war.

Lady Herbert Naylor Leyland, one of the wealthiest of American-born women in England, finds herself in more affluent circumstances by the death of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Naylor Leyland. Her palatial home is one of the show places of London and requires an income of nearly $100,000 a year to keep up.

Prof. William H. Brewer of the Sheffield Scientific school and president of the Arctic club of America, says of Commander Peary that, if he were 10 years younger, there would be no room for doubt over his success in reaching the pole on his coming trip. "As it is," adds Professor Brewer, "I am confident that Commander Peary will be successful on this trip."

SUBURBAN TROLLEY.

(Written for The Gazette.)

Riding on the trolley,
Coming out from town;
Bumping, jolting, swaying,
Bouncing up and down.

Hanging on a high strap,
Jerking to and fro;
Conductor taking nickels,
Tramping on your toe.

Man behind his paper,
Never lifting eyes;
Woman with her bundles
Hearing weary sighs.

Grinding up the long hills,
Rattling fearless down;
Then a long breath taking,
Safe on level ground.

Dagos with their dinner-pails
Flocking in together;
Men of every nation,
Birds of every feather.

Consolidated Traction stocks
Keeping in the lead,
Paying good fat dividends—
He who rides may read.

--TROLLEYITE.

The Quiet Observer.

BY ERASMUS WILSON.

Say! Where's all this trouble coming from, anyway? Are we to get a shaking-up every time the sun turns the freckled side of his face towards us?

There were all sorts of meteorological phenomena when these freckles, or splotches, first appeared, two or three weeks ago.

With their return the other day there was a fresh outbreak of trouble. The life of President Diaz of Mexico was attempted; also a murderous assault was made on a reigning prince of Russia. This was followed by an attempt to quarantine Allegheny out of the world at large; by political upheavals; by the sudden and sad death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker, and by the collapse of the Dowie crusade, to say nothing of murders and minor catastrophes.

Were sun spots at the bottom of all this?

Some there are who think so, and so believe and so teach; and were there nothing else to record since the appearance of the spots we might conclude decidedly and finally that they are malevolent visitors sent by evil spirits.

But, was not Riley here right in the worst of the outbreak, and didn't he satisfy the most dissatisfied among us that:

"The world is full of roses,
And the roses full of dew,
And the dew is full of heavenly love
That drips for me and you?"

And then Melba followed with a flow of melody and song that lifted our hearts and souls away up—up so high that all the world up there seems to be good and pure and delightsome.

Then, as you know, a whole lot of things have come to pass which show by the stamp they bear that there is no quarantine between us and heaven, nor a tariff so high that it amounts to a practical shutout.

May not these sun spots merely cause us to see spotted, as it were?

And as you may know, we are inclined to notice dark, ominous spots rather than those that are bright and promising.

If these spots revived assassins and sent them on their devilish missions, they also sent Melba and Riley on their heavenly missions.

We may safely conclude that sun spots are as good as they are bad, and at very worst their visits are far between and quite brief, as compared with the spotless period.

While it is a fact that these spots do influence meteorological conditions here below, they do not affect the human nervous system more than do meteorological disturbances due to other causes.

All nature is but art, unknown to thee;
All chance, direction, which thou canst see;
All discord, harmony not understood;
All partial evil, universal good;
And spite of pride, in erring reason's spite,
One truth is clear: Whatever is, is right.
—Alexander Pope.

But here comes a savant, or something of the sort, who tells us there is no such thing as Indian summer, that there never was such a thing, and that there never will be any.

This bold, bald statement is calculated to jar those of us who have been laboring under the impression that we had enjoyed Indian summers every year for ever so many years.

And yet it may be a misapprehension and nothing more, for he concedes there is a peculiar atmospheric condition at this time of the year. May it not be that our differences are merely differences in names for the same thing?

However, the fair thing will be to let him say his say, for he is the official weather observer at Cincinnati, and his name is Bassler. He says:

"There is no such thing as Indian summer. There is an atmospheric condition to which the term is applied, but just what causes it is not positively known. This fancied season does not appear regularly every fall as most people seem to think, and when a writer intends fixing a date by saying it was in the glorious Indian summer whatever he is describing could have occurred in September or in December, or not at all, as it is not necessary for the so-called Indian summer conditions to arise at all. And it may happen that it is Indian summer here and not in the south.

"The origin of the term is a matter of uncertainty. There are various opinions, the favorite being that it started among the early settlers. It was the custom of the Indians after the first cold snap to set fire to the prairie grass and forests, and the hazy hue of the atmosphere was attributed to the smoke from these fires. Whatever the origin, usually after the first cold weather a period of calm, mild weather follows, and it is thought the smoke and dust particles, instead of passing off, are distributed evenly through the atmosphere, lending to it a hazy appearance. The first rain clears it all away. The so-called season has not yet made its appearance in this section, though it has in the northwest, where there have been snows. Indian summer is another 'ground hog' myth."

There may be no Indian summers on the Rhine, nor "over the Rhine," but we have them up here in the foothills, and in the dales and vales for many many miles round about. We know we have them, because we see and feel them, and no mistake.

Thank heaven! Even though they should take away the name, rob the season of all the romance with which it has been invested, and chuck it in along with commonplace "fall-of-the-year," and that means autumn—just plain autumn—they can't take away the sky-tinted haze, the leafy carpet, the hazelnuts and chestnuts, and walnuts, and hickorynuts; nor the wild grapes, fox grapes, chinkapins and persimmons.

No sir, they can't do it—never.

And what is more, and not to be forgotten, we will call it Indian summer till the cows come home for good and all. The title fits the occasion, and the occasion becomes the title. In short there is a sense of eternal fitness throughout the whole matter that is unmistakably unmistakable.

Go and bang and batter something destructable, thou spirit iconoclastic, for you are only wasting time trying to down and despoil the rarest and most heartsome season of the entire year—the farewell to summer, by the hills, and the mountains, the dales and the vales, the leaves and flowers, the birds and the bunnies, and all who have loved it, and who hope to hail it again and oft. Can you blame the Indian if he should have claimed it as his good summer time?

* * * * *

Where is the man who wasn't once a boy; and was there ever a boy of the country stripe who didn't look forward to Indian summer more anxiously than to the coming of the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving, or Christmas?

This delightful season is not limited to a single day, rain or shine, but spreads over a whole week or more—maybe two or three. It is neither too hot nor too cold to either work or play, but seems peculiarly adapted to playing at gathering hickorynuts, hulling black walnuts, shucking hazelnuts, and scooping up chestnuts.

At this particular season a properly constructed country boy is not the sweetest looking creature on earth, not exactly. His hands are stained to his wrists with walnut hulls, and his mouth shows signs of his having eaten a few goodies that had been picked out with juicy fingers.

And as though it was not enough to have blackened lips he stains his teeth with black juice, for they, too, are ripe now and hanging in most tempting bunches within easy reach, except some of the finer looking ones perched on the very topmost branches.

Being still in his barefeet, and wearing his old clothes, the boy doesn't care much how high the hickorynuts, chestnuts, and black haws hang, for climbing trees and clubbing down nuts, or game, is right in his line.

* * * * *

Don't you remember how mother used to make you soak, and scrub, and scour your feet along in Indian summer time? You knew it was largely a waste of good soap and energy, for you had been tramping over walnut hulls, cider pummies, and crushed fox grapes until nothing short of being skinned would remove the black.

But he had to do it, for mother could not bear the thought of such looking feet being tucked between the clean sheets of one of her beds. If your feet happened to be chapped—or did you say hacked?—she would throw in a handful of bran, or maybe a sprinkle of salt, or a dash of meal.

"Did you have to cut and shuck corn?" Well, that isn't boy work, nohow, and yet we had to carry our two rows, or maybe cut a whole side, while one of the men went ahead and tied horses to hitch the shock to.

And yet there was fun enough at the husking bee and in regular boy work, to make the Indian summer time a sort of heavenly season to the healthy, hearty, stub and twist country boy.

Nor can he forget it, even in the midst of the hurly-burly of the great city.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Many of Dowie's restoration host have not waited for Monday to begin their journey home. They have been dropping out of the city for several days and this morning hundreds of them went away. Groups of discouraged looking men and women, with children accompanying them in many instances, stood at the corner of Broadway and Twenty-sixth street waiting for a Broadway car to take them downtown so that they could get on the boat at Cortlandt street attracted general attention. Weary eyed, sad and disappointed they looked. Whatever hope "Elijah" may have of regenerating the metropolis at some future time is not shared by his followers. They are tired of it and will be glad to get back to Zion City. They say so freely when they talk at all and even Dowie's bullying is not powerful enough to keep all mouths closed. That many members of his company have suffered severely from cold, insufficient and improper food, and inadequate lodging, is a scandalous fact. The prophet himself is comfortable enough. He controls millions of dollars and his own expenses are looked after with the greatest of care. He has been and is living in a first-class hotel and is as different from his prototype, who subsisted on food brought by ravens and the water of the brook Cherith, as can be well imagined. This is the general feeling for his deluded followers, mingled with hearty contempt for the man who is held responsible for their misery.

First Cousin of La Grippe Visits New York.

There is an epidemic of influenza in this city. Every other person you meet will tell you that he has a cold, and a look at him is enough to verify his complaint. Whether it is incipient grip is not yet established. The symptoms are about the same as the regular grip, except that the fever is virtually absent. But sneezing, coughing and thickened speech are so common that if it is not grip it is a very near relative.

Virtuoso Is a Family Man.

New York's musical season began tonight with the first orchestral concert by Herman Wetzler at Carnegie hall. The house was crowded to the love of New Yorkers for good music. The interesting feature of the entertainment was the debut of Jacques Thibaud, the French violin virtuoso. He has been called the "French Kubelik," but he repudiates the title, saying that his style of work is different and moreover he is a married man with a baby, with no desire to become a feminine idol. There can be no question about Thibaud's skill on his instrument and his personality is a pleasing one. Henry Wolfsohn, who is his manager in America, says he will play in Pittsburgh at an early date.

Aldermen Are Duly Reverent.

Those distinguished art critics, the members of the board of aldermen, take off their shiny plug hats and remove their cigars reverently as they step into the aldermanic chamber. They have a lot of new "pictoors" on the walls. The principal one, four feet long, is a magnificent specimen of mural painting, and is only the second of the kind to be placed in a public building. The object is "The City of New York and the Eastern Gateway of the American Continent Receives the Tribute of the Nations." It is by Tabor Sears.

Politics Back of Murderous Assault.

There may be politics at the back of the murderous assault in an uptown hotel cafe yesterday. Circumstances have led the police to believe the deed may have been the indirect result of a scheme to bring 300 men to New York from Philadelphia to cast 10,000 votes for the Tammany ticket as declared by Devery. It may all come out after election. Meanwhile the people here are thinking.

Wife Admonished by Magistrate.

A wife was arrested for throwing a teapot at her husband. She said he was about to strike her while she held their baby in her arms. "Next time throw a brick," was the magistrate's admonition, as he discharged her.

High Authority Indorses Lorenz.

When such authority as Dr. Newton M. Shaffer, professor of orthopedic surgery in the Cornell Medical college, indorses the treatment of Dr. Lorenz for congenital dislocation of the hip, it is not likely that anyone will arise to contradict. Dr. Shaffer says that improvement is noted in every case. The "usual and expected percentage of success" followed the operation. In an article in a technical periodical published today the says: "As far as is known, all have been benefited, even in those cases where, as in the case of Lolita Armour, absolutely perfect reposition was not obtained." Dr. Shaffer thinks it probable that a defective socket or some other obstacle makes a perfect recovery impossible in Lolita's case.

Fortune-Tellers Flourish in Metropolis.

Fortune-tellers find New York a fertile field in spite of the general supposition that New Yorkers know a thing or two. There are many servant girls fresh from the old country, however, and it is among them that the seers and clairvoyants find their customers. A case has just been reported to the police in which a stylishly dressed woman called at a fashionable residence uptown and flim-flammed a certain Bridget out of 75 cents to begin with and then contrived to get from her a gold watch and chain, promising to come back in a few minutes. Four hours later Bridget became suspicious and told the police. The fashionably dressed stranger had disappeared by that time.

Raising Silk Worms on Long Island.

Silk worms are to be raised in large quantities on Long Island. The Long Island Silk Growers' association has just been incorporated and the silk raising industry will be carried on wholesale. The proximity of the silk worm farms to Paterson will mean a great deal to that city, which owes most of its prosperity to its silk manufacturing industry. But there will be other silk weaving settlements established if the experiment of raising silk here should prove successful and Paterson will be only one of a score of silk cities in this part of the United States. At present, however, Paterson has practically a monopoly, and there is the deepest interest in the intention to produce the raw material on this side of the Atlantic.

Church Never Had a Wedding.

Flatbush is a part of Brooklyn where babies are supposed to be numerous in every block. Yet it appears that in one of the most important churches in the district, the Methodist Episcopal, there has never been a wedding since it was built several years ago. It is true that there was one marriage in this church, but the bride was the minister's daughter and it is held that as this was a family affair it does not disturb the barren nuptial record of the church.

Great Reptile Is Dead.

"Hungry" is dead. He had the reputation of being the most dangerous big snake in the United States and his home was the Bronx zoo. He starved himself to death, but there was no reason for his doing so, according to his keeper. He was of the bushmaster family of snakes, and came from the tropics originally. He will be stuffed and placed in the museum of natural history, this city.

Mrs. Booth-Tucker.

The world will learn with profound regret of the death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker, consul of the Salvation Army in this country, a daughter of the founder of the army and an indefatigable worker for the rescue and reclamation of the "submerged tenth" in many countries. It was the ordering of Commander Booth-Tucker and his wife, the consul, to replace Commander and Mrs. Ballington Booth that was the occasion of the regrettable break between Ballington Booth and his father, and the subsequent formation of a rival organization. Ballington and Maud Booth had made themselves exceedingly liked in this country, and their removal was reopened by a great part of the American public that was interested in the really remarkable work the Salvation Army was doing here in the awakening of the most indifferent and the rescue of the most degraded. Of course this feeling made their task all the harder for Commander and Mrs. Booth-Tucker, but they have conducted themselves with admirable tact, have avoided controversies, and devoted themselves with a singleness of heart and a practical wisdom to their most self-denying work, which has earned for them the admiration of Americans. The sympathy of the country will be extended to the bereaved husband and the venerable father.—Philadelphia Record.

\+ \+ \+

It is often said, when a famous or eminent man dies, that his death is widely mourned, whereas the truth is rather that there is a feeling of curiosity about the event, and a certain thin, cold regret which is not at all of the affections, but is wholly intellectual. Outside of a small group of near relatives and friends, to emotion worth speaking of may be felt. That is one of the way the tragic fate of Mrs. Booth-Tucker, wife of Commander Frederick Booth-Tucker, of the Salvation Army, and herself a noted and able worker in that great organization, will affect millions of people who have heard her and seen her in public meetings and have learned to know her as a friend and helper. In this case there is mourning, indeed, and it will not wholly pass away for a long time. Too many men and women feel that their lives have been lifted up and enriched by the good and faithful evangelist who has ended her work in this world and left vacant a place hard to fill as she filled it. Mrs. Booth-Tucker was one of the chief officers of an organization which carries the purity and peace of the Scriptures into many dark places where no other agency of good was ever felt. She was a source of hope and trust and cleansing from sin and degradation.—Cleveland Leader.

\+ \+ \+

Mrs. Emma Booth-Tucker, "Consul" in America of the Salvation Army, who lost her life by a railroad accident, was a conspicuous example of what a woman can do in a world of work. Mrs. Booth-Tucker was a well-born, beautiful and cultured lady who might easily have shone in "society." Her life horizon might have been bounded by dresses, jewels, dinners, balls, fittings from one fashionable resort to another and amusements frivolous and wasteful when they were not demoralizing. She chose, rather, with her enthusiast husband, a mighty task of rescue, leading and encouragement for "God's poor"—yes, and the devil's poor as well! What that task is in a great city New York knows nearly as well as London. But the east is familiar with the wonderful farm colony work of the army in Colorado and California, which Mrs. Booth-Tucker had been inspecting just before she met her death, and which is the most promising of all the Salvationist enterprises. To get the poor of the cities "back to the land" is the problem of this new crusade.—New York World.

\+ \+ \+

Mrs. Booth-Tucker, whose tragic death has aroused the sympathy of the whole country, was one of the most capable women of her generation, whose devotion of her great powers to the work of uplifting humanity was absolute and effective almost beyond comparison. As a preacher before great crowds she was shrewdly winning, as she was also, indeed, in private intercourse; her capacity for organization and management was phenomenal in one so enthusiastic, and fitted her uniquely for command of the great enterprises in America which her father, the founder and head of the Salvation Army, apparently trusted chiefly to her. Her loss approaches the magnitude of a disaster not alone to the Salvation Army, as General Booth declares, but to the cause of religion and philanthropy in this country.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

\+ \+ \+

A good cause has suffered a severe loss in the death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker, consul in America of the Salvation Army. She was engaged in a great work of uplifting of the fallen, and her devotion to the work, her sympathetic influence and her executive ability had done much toward the extension of the usefulness of the Salvation Army. The circumstances of her death were distressing, but her associates in the work to which she had devoted her life can feel consolation in the knowledge that she had not lived in vain and that in their loss they have the sympathy, not only of all professing Christians, but also of those who look upon the Salvation Army as an important agency for the bettering of physical and moral conditions in the slums of great cities.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

\+ \+ \+

The death of Mrs. Booth-Tucker is a serious blow to the Salvation Army in the United States. In 1896 old General Booth became dissatisfied at what he called the "Yankee Americanism" of his followers in the United States and desired them brought into closer touch with the English Salvationists. His son, Ballington Booth, who was at the head of the American branch, did not agree with his father's views. A bitter quarrel followed. Ballington Booth and his wife, Maud, separated from the Salvation Army and founded the Volunteers of America, an organization on similar lines. Mr. and Mrs. Booth-Tucker were then placed in charge of the Salvationists in America, and have resided here ever since. Mrs. Tucker was deemed the most capable of the Booth children. She possessed excellent executive ability, and qualities of mind and heart which endeared her to the mass of her followers.—Toledo Blade.

Disease Disseminators.

Civilization is a queer thing. The sleeping car blanket and such like disseminators of disease as the plush street car cushion and the feather duster would be impossible in some lands which we count far beneath us in the scale of advancement. When thoughtless indifference originates from among us is hard to understand. They are more fatal than war, pestilence and famine. Only their deadly work is done quietly. Dramatic death is required to arouse our languid interest. Yet poison and the dagger are childish playthings beside the pathogenic germ. And it has no more congenial hiding place than in the Pullman blanket, or that filthy, poisonous token of corporate selfishness, the ancient plush traction car cushion.—Philadelph

CONFIDENCE IN HANNA'S SUCCESS

Washingtonians Are Figuring on the Magnitude of Herrick's Victory in Ohio.

ARE WATCHING THE FRACAS

President Roosevelt Taking Great Interest in the Fight Against McComas in Maryland for Re-election to the United States Senate.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.

As election day approaches the interest in Washington centers in the contests in New York City, Maryland and Ohio. The former campaign, while not likely to have any direct effect upon the presidential election next year, arouses interest because of the tangle the affairs have been allowed to get into, and as the Tammany candidate is a member of congress. In Maryland the race issue and the fight upon McComas for re-election to the United States senate make the contest one of particular interest to Washington people and President Roosevelt is watching this campaign closely. What will the people of Ohio do to Tom Johnson? is a question that is being asked and will be answered when the votes are counted on November 3. Nobody here believes that the Republican ticket there is in any danger or that Senator Hanna will have any trouble in coming back to the senate, and all guesses are as to the size of the Republican majority by which Johnson will be snowed under.

Heath Story Is Denied.

A few days ago the report was put in circulation that the president was not upon the trail of Perry S. Heath, secretary of the Republican national committee, for his alleged connection with the postal scandals, and that he had handed over to Attorney General Knox the report of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow, with the request that the attorney general examine it and see if there was not some way that a prosecution could be entered against Heath. Today a semi-official denial was made at the White House that the president had ever talked with any body about the prosecution of Mr. Heath or that he had any intention or desire to have a case brought against the former first assistant postmaster general. The president has left the question of prosecutions entirely with the government officers, whose duties cover such matters and has made no suggestions to them. But the Democratic press will probably decline to be hampered by such facts.

Cortelyou and the Welsh Miners.

Secretary Cortelyou of the department of commerce and labor has made a ruling that the steamship companies which brought to this country the Welsh coal miners who came under an alleged contract to work in the mines of the Ellsworth Coal Company at Ellsworth, Pa., must take them back again. Forty of these miners were held up recently at Philadelphia and of these 15 have already returned home of their own will. The remaining 25 are still at Philadelphia, but will be sent back at the expense of the steamship companies. Any others whom it can be proved came to America under contract will be sent back under the same conditions.

These deported men can, upon arriving in England, take the first ship back to this country and will be entitled to admission if they can satisfy the authorities that they have no promise of employment when they arrive. The department has ruled that it would be prejudicial to the contract labor law to permit them to remain in this country in view of the prima facie evidence that they were engaged in Wales to work in mines at Ellsworth, Pa. There is no desire to prevent miners coming here and enjoying the wages and conditions that prevail, but it is the intention to uphold the law that prohibits workmen from entering the country under contract.

From the reports received here the majority of the men who came over under arrangement made with Jones Bros., of Pontypridd, Wales, will offer no objection to deportation, but will be glad of the opportunity to get back to their homes.

Just Plain American Uniforms.

A great deal has been said and written lately to the effect that Secretary Loeb intended having all the White House messengers and doorkeepers uniformed like the flunkies of foreign courts, all of which has stirred up a number of people to offer protests against such a violation of the democratic institutions of this country. But there is really no cause for alarm. The order issued by Secretary Loeb only applys to the messengers and doorkeepers at the executive offices, and were never intended to apply to those employed in the White House proper. The residence of the president. And the uniforms that have been adopted are in no way objectionable. There will be no knee breeches and claw hammer coats adorned with huge brass buttons bearing the coat of arms of the president or the nation. Instead, those who are to wear uniforms will be attired in plain blue suits with sack coats and the buttons on the coats and vests will be of plain nickel. That is all there is to the hubbub that has been raised and the move is acknowledged to be a very proper one, as the uniforms will be an assistance and guide to callers at the executive offices. And our democratic customs will not be violated.

The Capitol Is Repainted.

When the senators and representatives gather at the capitol a week from next Monday they will be surprised at the improvements that have been made during the vacation. For seven months a crowd of 70 painters have been at work inside and outside of the capitol and they have worked a marvelous change. Practically the whole interior has been repainted in white and a light shade of yellow. The great dome has been given a coat of white, and even the goddess of liberty that adorns the top now wears several extra coats of varnish to protect her flowing robes from corrosion. This brightening of the capitol has used up just 4,200 gallons of paint.

RAILROADS PURCHASE MANY LOCOMOTIVES

Seaboard Air Line and B. & O. Are Increasing Their Equipment.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Within the past few days there has been an unexpected influence in the demand for locomotives. The Seaboard Air line has ordered 50 engines; the Pennsylvania Lines west of Pittsburgh are to have 80 new machines, and the Belgian State Railways have asked for bids for 100 locomotives of American make.

While nearly all of the railroad companies are reducing the number of employes in their shops, the large locomotive works throughout the country are running on full time. There is enough work in sight to keep the plants running all winter. One company is at work on an order from the Missouri Pacific Railroad for 35 powerful engines.

Since the first of last January the Baltimore & Ohio bought 200 new locomotives. Nearly all of these have been delivered. Three are 150 freight engines weighing 198,000 pounds each. 20 high-speed Atlantic type passenger engines, and 30 modern switch engines. In addition to these the Baltimore & Ohio has placed in service two 180-ton electric motors, which are used to haul heavy freight trains through the Baltimore tunnel.

DEVELOPMENT ALONG THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Many New Industries Established Within a Year Employing 10,000 Men.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The annual report of the industrial department of the Illinois Central railroad, just issued, makes an unprecedented showing of development along the Illinois Central lines. Two hundred and six different industries were established on the system. These represent an investment of $8,964,000 and give employment to 10,416 persons.

Col. John Jacob Astor, who is a director, and Cornelius Vanderbilt, who is a large stockholder of the Illinois Central, have employed a comprehensive inspection of the system, including these industrial features. There is an intimation that Mr. Vanderbilt will establish a plant somewhere in the southern territory traversed by the Illinois Central for the manufacture of his improved freight and tank cars. The tank cars, it is believed, will be in considerable demand in the southwestern oil fields.

STRIKE BY BOILERMAKERS.

Charge Made Against a Local Firm of Not Living Up to Signed Scale.

Smoky City lodge, No. 154, Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Ship Builders, at a meeting last night declared a strike against the firm of James Rees & Sons, of Fourth street. The firm is accused of violating the agreement made July 16, which terminates January, 1905. The trouble started over the building of two steel boats.

The boilermakers have two scales, one for the inside shop men and another for the outside workers. The outside men are to get $3.78 a day for nine hours' work until the end of this year and for the entire year of 1904 $3.60 shall be paid. The inside men are to get $3.15.

The shop work became slack and the inside men were put to work erecting the two steel boats. According to the agreement all outside workers should be paid $3.78, but the firm, it is said, continued to pay the inside price of $3.15 to those who were taken out of the shops.

The union men objected to this and made a demand for $3.78 a day. The firm refused it and secured men from other places, some of whom it was alleged, were not union men. The firm is accused of paying the new men $2.50 a day.

WATCHMAN CHARGED WITH TAKING STAGE "PROPS"

Martin Bigley, formerly employed at the Avenue theater as a night watchman, was arrested yesterday at his home in Coleman street on a charge of larceny preferred by Manager Harry Davis. It is alleged that Bigley stole scenery, linen, portières and other stage property and hauled the articles away in a wagon. Stage Manager Jack Huffman declared that a number of men were concerned in the plot and that the value of the goods taken cannot be estimated. Bigley furnished bail for a hearing. He says that he took only articles which had been discarded as useless.

Millvale Police Discharged.

The police force of Millvale, consisting of three men, has been discharged by the borough council because the officers refuse to watch quarantined houses. The officers are John Shaw, Sheriff Sniffener and William Kerwin. The order is to take effect next Monday. Because the borough appropriated $4,000 for the health board, the policemen state it is the duty of the health board to look after the quarantined houses. It is said the health board already has spent $5,000, and that an appropriation will have to be made to carry on the work during the next four months.

Fish Warden at Work Here.

Steps are being taken by Fish Warden J. W. Hague and his deputies to stop illegal fishing in the Ohio river, and it is said several persons will be prosecuted. The deputies are working among the foreigners living near the mouth of Jacks run, Allegheny, and it is alleged the illegal fishing is being carried on in the vicinity of Davis Island dam. When the deputies dragged the river a new seine, 35 feet long and 16 feet wide, was found and confiscated. It has been sent to Harrisburg with the name of the alleged owner.

MANLINESS OF YOUTH MENACED ON ALL SIDES

College Professor Deplores Decadence of Home Life and School Athletics.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Conditions inimical to the growth of American manliness both in the decadence of home life, and in athletics, were discussed today by Alfred E. Stearns, principal of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., in an address delivered to the educational conference, which is one of the features in connection with the celebration of Dr. H. F. Fisk's 30 years residence at Northwestern University Academy. Three hundred delegates from various parts of the country were present.

After touching on the incapacity of nurses, tutors and private schools to properly mould a child's life, and concurring in recent pessimistic views of the race suicide proposition, Mr. Stearns said of school and college athletics:

"Sly and underhand practices are encouraged just so far as detection does not ensue. To the average schoolboy the college athlete is a hero and this man, I regret to say, often spends his time in teaching this deceit to lads of the preparatory schools. I have seen many an athletic coach devoting hours to teaching young followers how they may cleverly disobey rules of the game without risk of detection, and I think I am safe in saying that the majority of coaches are given to this practice. I have heard boys complain that they were advised that a little profanity would tend to disconcert their opponents."

Mr. Stearns expressed himself as heartily in favor of athletics honestly pursued even at the expense of physical injuries, or an occasional death. It was the moral effect of dishonest practices that he deplored.

WILL GO ON SAME STEAMER.

Detectives Sail on Vessel for Croatians on Which Latter Crossed Ocean.

Superintendent of Detectives Thomas A. McQuaide and Detective Richard Kelly will leave here for England on November 4, to bring back the two Croatians suspected of killing Contractor Ferguson on September 25 at Middletown, Washington county. The officers will sail on the steamer Philadelphia, the boat on which the Croatians were arrested at Southampton. This boat leaves New York November 4.

On arriving in London Superintendent McQuaide and Detective Kelly will go before M. Hobson, secretary of the United States embassy, and present the requisition papers to him. The Croatians will be arraigned for a hearing. They will be given 15 days to determine whether they will contest the requisition proceedings, and should they determine on a contest they will be given 15 days to prepare their case.

A special cable message was received from London, England, yesterday stating that the Croatians had been remanded for a week awaiting the arrival of the extradition papers.

PIG IRON IN DEMAND.

Weekly Summary of Rogers, Brown & Co. Is Highly Encouraging.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—In their weekly summary of pig iron conditions Rogers, Brown & Company says:

"The demand for pig iron has increased in the last week to such an extent as to lead furnacemen to wonder whether it is a mere temporary spurt or marks the long expected turn in the market. Demand springs from so many sources and calls for so substantial a tonnage as to make it look like the real thing. Nothing is better understood than the fact that 90 per cent of the consumers of the country are ready to place substantial orders the moment they see bottom.

"Several furnaces have advanced their prices 25 to 50 cents per ton on standard grades for the simple reason that they are oversold on these grades and cannot furnish iron which buyers need for immediate shipment. A lot of trouble is reported because of the inability of buyers to get iron of the required grade and analysis promptly enough to meet melting needs. The scarcity of standard iron only needs to be a little better understood to create a rush to cover."

KNOW NOW

And Will Never Forget the Experience.

The coffee drinker who has suffered and then been completely cured by changing from coffee to Postum Food Coffee knows something valuable.

He or she has no doubt about it. A California lady says: "I learned the truth about coffee in a peculiar way. My husband, who has for years been of a very bilious temperament, decided to leave off coffee and give Postum a trial, and as I did not want the trouble of making two beverages for meals, I concluded to try Postum, too, and the results have been that while my husband has been greatly benefited, I have myself received even greater benefit. When I began to drink Postum I was thin in flesh and very nervous and now I actually weigh 18 pounds more than I did at that time and I am stronger physically and in my nerves, while husband is cured of all his ails.

We have learned our little lesson about coffee, and we know something about Postum, too, for we have used Postum now steadily for the last three years, and we shall always continue to do so. We have no more use for coffee—the drug drink. We prefer Postum and health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

WHOLE FAMILY UNDER ARREST

More Informations Lodged in Bechtel Murder Case at Allentown.

MOTHER COLLAPSES IN COURT

Parent of the Dead Girl Broke Down Completely When She Learned Her Son Had Committed Suicide in Jail. Coroner Hears Testimony.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ALLENTOWN, PA., Oct. 30.—Coroner Schelzer decided today not to hold an autopsy or inquest in the case of Thomas Bechtel. The knife used by Bechtel in committing suicide was of the Barlow pattern. It has not yet developed who passed it to Bechtel or whether he had it concealed on his person when arrested.

Bechtel was wakeful all of Wednesday night and kept Eckstein and all of the other prisoners awake all night. He asked repeatedly for water and inquired frequently what time it was. He frequently called the name of his dead sister, also crying "If I were only at home" and "If I were only out of this." Eckstein tried to console and pacify him, telling him he should want to live to clear himself of the charge hanging over his head. Eckstein told Bechtel that his only aim was to tell the truth and clear him of suspicion. Constable John T. Schrunk lodged information against Mrs. Catherine Bechtel, Miss Myrtha Bechtel, John and Charles Bechtel, charging them as accessories after the fact in the murder of Mabel Bechtel. They were arrested.

New Incident Related.

George A. Kocher, a neighbor of the Bechtels tells a new incident, referring to the murder case. He was one of the first three men to reach the Bechtel house on the Monday morning when the girl's body was discovered. No one was there when he came except the inmates of the house. Mr. Kocher states that when he got to the house he found a piece of rag carpet lying across the front door of the underground alley in which the body was found. It was evidently placed there to screen the operations in the areaway from persons in the street. It was placed so that no one could look in unless by stooping very low.

The coroner's inquest in the murder of Mabel Bechtel was resumed today, when the coroner called Fire Chief Cohn and Policeman E. C. Haechy and William Hickey, who testified to finding blood spots on carpet and wall. These were the first officers to enter the house after the body was found. They saw Mrs. Bechtel, her daughter Myrtha and one of her married daughters. They described the location of the hall and rooms and stated that the family did not hesitate, but willingly showed the way. They gave their movements in detail as they went through the house, but nothing new was gleaned.

Police Chief Eastman was called next. The chief related how he followed up the clues, which finally centered in the Bechtel home. He showed the carpets taken out of the two bedrooms in the Bechtel house in which were blood spots. He spread the rag carpet in the court room and showed that several spots were directly under the place on the wall where the blood had spread over the wall paper.

Blood in Brother's Room.

There were traces of blood also on the washboard and on the floor directly under the spots in the carpet. Witness told of a visit to Thomas' room. Here were also spots on the carpet that he believed were blood stains, but which Thomas said were tobacco stains. Thomas, he said, hoped the guilty one would be found.

Chief Eastman next showed five boards taken from the steps leading from the kitchen to the basement. On these steps the chief said there were blood spots. The chief told of the arrest of Thomas Bechtel and Eckstein. He said that he said to Thomas: "I'll have to arrest Eckstein." Thomas flushed and hurriedly exclaimed:

"Don't do that. He is innocent."

Mrs. Bechtel, Miss Bechtel, Mrs. Brobst, a married daughter, John and Charles Bechtel and Eckstein were separately called before the jury. Each refused to answer any questions whatsoever, stating that they might say something that would tend to incriminate themselves.

It was while Mrs. Bechtel was in the court room that she learned that Thomas was dead. Her attorney asked Sheriff Eastman:

"Where is Thomas now?"

The chief hesitated, and said:

"I guess at the morgue. He committed suicide in his cell yesterday."

With this Mrs. Bechtel broke down completely, weeping violently. Dr. Eshback was quickly at her side and she was led from the room in a state of collapse.

Dr. John Lear, biologist of Muhlenberg college, testified that stains on the hatchet, wallpaper, sheet and overalls were blood.

The coroner's inquest was concluded this evening. The verdict is as follows:

"We believe that Mabel Bechtel came to her death at 627 Cedar street (her home) between Sunday evening, October 25 and the morning of October 27, and that death was due to a fractured skull from a blow inflicted by some person in the house unknown to the jury. We believe that the inmates of the house, Mrs. Catherine Bechtel, Myrtha Bechtel, John Bechtel and Alois Eckstein are accessories after the fact of the crime."

Warrants of arrest were served upon Mrs. Bechtel and the members of her family and Eckstein this evening. They were taken before Mayor Lewis who accepted bail for Mrs. Bechtel in $1,000, Myrtha Bechtel in $400 and Eckstein $500. John and Charles Bechtel were committed to jail. Application for a writ of habeas corpus will be made tomorrow.

Will Come to Pittsburgh.

At a meeting of the session of the Second United Presbyterian church in Mercer yesterday the Rev. S. Willis McKelvey, the pastor, notified that body that he had decided to accept the call recently extended to him by the Second United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh.

SOFFEL FLOPPED BACK TO BIGELOW

Thirty-Second Ward Councilman Deserts Orphans and Again Joins Machine.

WON WAGERS FOR CITIZENS

Citizens Party Worker Made Bet That He Would Speak Last Night as Billed. Declares for Brown and Rest of the Ticket.

Common Councilman Jacob Soffel, Jr., of the Thirty-second ward, has deserted the "orphans" and for the second time has been captured by the Bigelow machine. Councilman Soffel who, with 13 other members of common council and Controller John E. Larkin, on Tuesday night signed a declaration withdrawing from the Citizens party and pledging himself not to aid the Citizens party in the county campaign, took the platform last night at a Citizens meeting on Mt. Washington and made an appeal for Thomas M. Brown, the Citizens party candidate for sheriff, and for "the rest of the ticket," as he put it.

Workers at the Citizens party headquarters in Third avenue yesterday boasted that Councilman Soffel would appear at last night's meeting in the Thirty-second ward and declare for the Citizens ticket. So confident of this were they that the day after the "orphans" issued their statement the Thirty-second ward was covered with posters announcing that Councilman Soffel would speak last night. The Citizens' party workers also offered wagers yesterday that Soffel would speak last night for the Bigelow ticket.

S. S. Lesslie, Jr., a Citizens party worker of the Twentieth ward, was in the city clerks' office at the city hall yesterday afternoon and in the presence of four or five men made a wager with Common Councilman Charles C. Schad of the Thirteenth ward, who is an "orphan," that Soffel would speak last night. The money was put up and today will be paid over to Leslie.

Soffel went to the meeting last night prepared to make a speech. He was attired in his Sunday best for the occasion and remained in the rear of the hall until the chairman was given the cue to call upon him. His brother, Peter K. Soffel, formerly warden of the county jail, and his father, Peter Soffel, Sr., the chairman of the Citizens party organization of the ward, were both present, the latter upon the platform.

Soffel Makes An Apology.

Soffel's explanation of his flop back into the Citizens camp and his abandonment of the "Orphans" was a unique one. It was prefaced with an apology for his deserting the Republican party and voting for the Citizens party candidate for president of common council in April, 1902.

"When I voted for Mr. Crawford for president of common council I surprised the Republicans in my ward by leaving them, and I also surprised the Citizens who were not expecting me to go along with them," he said. "I am still an 'Orphan,' but merely in name. I still believe in the principles of the 'Orphans' and will vote with them as long as they keep their pledges to the people for good government.

"But I wish to declare, however, for Thomas M. Brown for candidate for sheriff of Allegheny county, and I might say, for the rest of the ticket. Mr. Brown is my personal friend, and I should not have signed the paper prepared by the 'Orphans' the other night, because I had promised Mr. Brown several weeks before, that I would support him. I forgot I had made this promise when I signed the 'Orphans'' paper. I read the paper hastily and there was one clause in it I did not know was there when I signed it. The 'Orphans' should have declared for Mr. Brown as I am doing tonight, for he attended all their meetings and was 'in on' all their little deals, giving them the benefit of his advice and knowledge as an attorney.

Willing to Leave Orphans.

"I wish to say that I will not wear the collar of Elkinism, nor shall the collar of Bigelowism, if there be one, ever grace my neck. The 'Orphans' may criticise me for this little action of mine tonight and may eliminate me from their body, but I don't care. I am responsible only to my constituents. I wish to say that everything that I have done since I was elected to common council to represent the Thirty-second ward was for the interests of my constituents as far as a human being could do."

A. G. Smith, an attorney, acted as chairman of the meeting. He said: "William B. Hays is the greatest mayor that Pittsburgh has had in 20 years," and that "Jacob Soffel is the greatest councilman that the Thirty-second ward has ever had." He also said that Controller John E. Larkin was the "greatest controller the city ever had," and said the Citizens party should have the credit for his election.

Robert T. McElroy, a young aspirant in the legal profession, divided with Councilman Soffel the honors of the evening. McElroy divided the opposition to the Citizens' party in the present campaign into three classes. He said they were the "weak-minded, the Simple Simons—the bunch that is bound for Dixmont; those who failed to get jobs, who were turned down cold; and the thieves, thugs and grafters."

The second class, those who did not get "jobs," he illustrated by an unprintable story of an alleged response to a toast made by a rejected suitor at a wedding dinner. He eulogized that eminent reformer, Murry A. Verner, and commended his hold-up of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances.

Attack Upon Major Stewart.

The speaker also attacked Major Stewart's war record, and when an old soldier in the audience said something in Major Stewart's defense the speaker called the disturber a "battle-scarred" veteran, whilst a worthy blue-coat pounced upon the offender and threatened to eject him from the meeting.

After Councilman Soffel's address the bulk of the audience left the hall. The meeting was held in the Maennerchor hall, which will seat at least 500 or 600 people. There were many seats that were not occupied, the audience numbering about one-half the capacity of the room. The meeting was not opened until well towards 9 o'clock. For two hours a band and a crowd of workers, led by a platoon of police, traversed all the streets of the ward, drumming up an audience.

INSURANCE MEN BANQUET.

Hallowe'en Dishes, With Pumpkin Pie and Cider, Were Served.

New York officials of the Equitable Life Assurance Society last evening at the Schenley Hotel delivered addresses to the agents and solicitors who work in Pittsburgh and the Western Pennsylvania district under Edward A. Woods, manager of the agency in this city. The gathering was an annual affair given by Mr. Woods to the Pittsburgh agency, and as the menu cards last evening announced, in honor of Gage E. Tarbell, second vice president, George T. Wilson, fourth vice president, and Dr. W. R. Bross, chief medical examiner, who with Mr. Woods, were the speakers.

Early in the evening a dinner was served in the banquet hall of the Schenley. The room was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves, branches and pumpkin faces, resembling a wooded scene. Hanging on the walls were costly rugs and tapestries which gave a decidedly rich effect to the hall. Behind a bower of leaves, autumn plants and corn husks an orchestra played. The menu consisted of Hallowe'en dishes such as pumpkin pie and hard cider in addition to other things. There were present 100 solicitors and agents and their wives.

FAKE OSSIFIED MAN WAS ARRESTED AND FINED

Practical Jokers in Homestead last evening caused John Verostik, a Slav, to pay $5 and cost at a hearing before Burgess W. S. Ross. Verostik was intoxicated and was induced by a number of young men to lay on a platform that had been used to exhibit an ossified woman at the carnival. The men stood in front and announced to the crowds that an ossified man was on exhibition. Many victims paid 10 cents to see the freak, and the police, learning of the fake, arrested Verostik.

Small Boy's Skull Crushed.

While searching for a football which had been kicked under a lumber pile yesterday afternoon Leland, the 9-year-old son of Albert Johnston of Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, was fatally injured. While under the pile it fell and the boy's skull was crushed. He was removed to his home, and the attending physician last evening stated that he cannot recover.

HOSPITAL GOES TO WILKINSBURG

United Presbyterian Memorial Institution to Be Built Early Next Year.

BIG FUND IS SUBSCRIBED

Encouragement for the Enterprise at Twenty-Fifth Annual Meeting of the Women's Association—Allegheny Hospital Site Sold for $31,000.

The United Presbyterian Memorial hospital will be erected in Wilkinsburg on ground adjoining the Home for the Aged. The plans have been approved and the contracts will be awarded about January 1, it being proposed to break ground early next spring. This decision, reached yesterday at the 25th annual business meeting of the United Presbyterian Women's association in the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, ends a long struggle to have the institution located on the North Side. The hospital site in Sandusky street, Allegheny, was opposed in the most determined manner by residents of that neighborhood and the property was sold.

The memorial will be made a fitting monument to the liberality of the United Presbyterian denomination. The first structure will cost over $100,000 and accommodations will be provided for 250 patients. When completed there will be three buildings, the largest of which will be 240 by 400 feet. The main building will be located on Penn avenue and West street, Wilkinsburg. All classes of patients will be received. Almost $70,000 was reported to be on hand for the building operations. The Sandusky street site was sold for $31,000. A check for $7,000 for a room in the hospital was received from Mrs. Isabel Jamison. The report of Mrs. Margaret C. Trimble, secretary of the hospital board, showed that 161 patients had been cared for during the year in the present hospital in Allegheny and that only one death had occured.

The report of Mrs. Mary F. Reed, corresponding secretary of the Orphan Asylum, showed that institution to be in a flourishing condition. Of 125 children cared for during the year, 20 had been placed in private families. The election of officers for the association to serve through the year resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. H. C. Campbell; vice presidents, Mrs. R. K. Duff and Mrs. L. K. Stevenson; treasurer, Mrs. M. J. Steel; recording secretary, Miss E. L. Clark; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John McElvain.

FIRE COST A LIFE IN PHILADELPHIA

Another Man Is Missing, and a Dozen, Hurt by Collapse of a Building.

THE DAMAGE WILL BE GREAT

Almost an Entire Block Wiped Out by Fierce Flames—Men Were Injured While Trying to Save Vehicles in a Building Threatened by the Fire.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Charles Messmer was killed and a dozen persons hurt at noon today in a fire in the block bounded by the Schuylkill river, Race, Vine and Twenty-third street. Harry McWilliams is also missing. The property loss is more than $200,000.

The buildings destroyed were the flour mill of W. S. Woodward & Sons, No. 218 North Twenty-third street, and the Baltimore & Ohio grain elevator, which adjoined the Woodward structure. The wagon works of H. Kaiser & Co. at the corner of Twenty-third and Race streets, was damaged by a wall falling on the roof.

The fire began in a frame building between the flour mill and the grain elevator, and it quickly spread to those buildings. Eight men who were working on the roof ran for the elevator when the fire began, and seven of them are known to have made their escape. The eighth, McWilliams, cannot be found, and it is believed his body is in the ruins.

For a time it looked as though the flames would reach the wagon works and the employes of that place were put to work removing vehicles and other stock. While this was going on the grain elevator wall fell on the roof of the wagon works and buried nearly a dozen men under the debris. Firemen promptly went to the rescue of the workmen and until tonight, when the body of Messmer, an apprentice, was found, it was thought they had succeeded in getting all the employes out of the place. The boy was found under a great mass of debris.

August Grimow, a blacksmith, and John D. Lyons, a painter, were painfully but not seriously hurt, and ten firemen were also injured during the progress of the fire.

The flour mill and the grain elevator were owned by the Pennsylvania Warehousing and Safe Deposit Company, which places the loss at about $200,000. The damage to the Kaiser works is estimated at $10,000. The loss is nearly covered by insurance.

M'KEESPORT WOMAN EXPIRED FROM BURNS

Lamp Explosion Proved Fatal to Mrs. Charles Halgreen—Other Morgue Cases.

Mrs. Charles Halgreen, 35 years old, of No. 2713 Grover avenue, McKeesport, died at her home last night from burns received Wednesday morning in a lamp explosion. Mrs. Halgreen attempted to extinguish a lamp while walking downstairs. It exploded and her clothing took fire. Before her son and sister, who heard her cries, could extinguish the flames, she was burned fatally. She is survived by her husband, a son and a sister.

Charles C. Getting, 35 years old, a machinist employed in the Pennsylvania railroad shops at Pitcairn, was caught in the belting of a machine yesterday morning and crushed so badly that he died while on the way to the West Penn hospital. Getting resided at Pitcairn and is survived by his widow.

Jacob Donges, a widower, 70 years old, died suddenly at his home, No. 328 Edmond street, last night, presumably of heart disease. He had been out walking a few minutes before, and shortly after entering the house fell to the floor and expire

The coroner ordered an investigation into the death of a 2-year-old son of John Johnson, a negro, of Blackberry alley, McKeesport. The child died on Thursday and it is alleged it had no medical attention until a few hours before its death.

Mrs. S. Menkel, of No. 348 Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, died at her home yesterday of burns received Thursday afternoon while cooking at her home.

PET DOG RESCUED FROM VIVISECTIONISTS

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Unheeding the jeers of 29 medical students in the Eclectic Medical college, pushing them aside and slapping them in the face when they sought to oppose her entrance, Mrs. W. N. Parks today forced her way into the college and rescued her pet dog which was being made a victim of vivisection by the students. The dog, on hearing its mistress's voice, whined and crawled to her. Its abdomen had been opened and sewed together again. It is thought it will recover.

GORMAN AGAIN HUMILIATES NEGRO

Closing Speech of Maryland Campaign Was Filled With Attack on President.

RACE PROBLEM MADE ISSUE

United States Senator Gorman's Last Address to His Constituents an Agonized Wail Over the President's Recognizing Negro's Right of Franchise.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—At a Democratic mass meeting held tonight at the close of the campaign speeches were made by Edwin Warfield, the candidate for governor, and a number of leading Democrats, including United States Senator A. P. Gorman. An immense crowd was present and the speaking was preceded by stereopticon views illustrating the association of white and negro delegates at the late Republican state convention.

The important address of the evening was that of Senator Gorman, who, in addition to his advocacy of the state ticket and his excoriation of the Republicans, referred to President Roosevelt and the race issue as follows:

Ordinarily, the result of a state election concerns the people of the state alone. Its only bearing upon national politics is the fact that the legislature to be elected will elect a senator to represent this state in the senate of the United States. But circumstances and occurrences which have been forced upon us make the result this year of more than local import.

Should Restrain Roosevelt.

The extraordinary, unusual, and, I think you will agree with me, unfortunate activity and interest displayed by the president of the United States in participating in his party's councils by calling to Washington the prominent Republicans of this state, is such an unsealed-for interference in our domestic affairs that it must be met with no uncertain protest by our people.

I have a great respect for the president. He ought not be lightly or unjustly criticised. But lovers of liberty must enter the earnest protest whenever high officers of the government exercise powers or commit acts which tend to restrict the rights of the people or unduly interfere in matters of state concern. President Roosevelt is a man of fine attainments and of honest convictions. In his anxiety for the success of his party he is liable to make mistakes, and, in my judgment, he has committed a most grievous error in forcing to the front an issue which must be deplored by all the conservative men in the country. In every country where the race issue has arisen it is always carried in its wake lamentable results and has been attended by evil consequences. I trust his earnestness, and that he may be prevailed to accept wiser counsel in his treatment of the negro problem.

From the day a cargo of Africans was landed and sold as slaves until this hour the burden of the white men of this country has been greater than that borne by any people known to history. It was one of the causes which led to a most gigantic war, which drenched the country in blood, destroying fair homes and impoverishing a gallant people. Immediately after the close of the war came the adoption of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments, which enfranchized the blacks for party purposes alone, and thus injected into the body politic a people unprepared and unfitted for self-government.

Says All Are Not Equal.

The Anglo-Saxon has never, and will never, tolerate the social equality or the political domination of the negro race. The south has passed through scenes of turbulence and disorder and riot. By amendments to state constitutions and by legislation the whites have secured control, for the time being, of their own local governments, and the colored race is no longer a political factor in any state south of the Potomac. For more than thirty years this question has stirred sectional feeling and divided parties. It has threatened the peace of the states, put in jeopardy homes and paralyzed industrial efforts. All thoughtful men realize that the issue upon the body politic must be eliminated and the supremacy of the white government assured.

In 1896 William McKinley was elected president of the United States. He began his term when the country was emerging from the throes of a great commercial panic. All the business interests of the north were depressed. The south was struggling with its negro problem; its fields but half cultivated; its manufactures at the lowest ebb. These conditions were principally due to the great pall that hung over that section and made development and progress impossible. While President McKinley kept his party obligations as fully as any man, he ceased making partisan war upon the people of the south. But that people removed, at least temporarily, the incubus that pressed them. The action of the states was sustained by the courts and confidence was restored. Development and progress resulted both north and south, until the stream of prosperity and enterprise was flowing from one end of the lands to the other.

A little more than two years have elapsed since that deplorable tragedy at Buffalo, which deprived the nation of a great president. Mr. Roosevelt succeeded to the presidency. In his anxiety to be constantly doing something, he has made mistakes. I believe of him, as I have believed of all presidents, that he is sincere and patriotic. But every man in public position is liable to make mistakes. None could be more serious than the one made by him in his attempt to force again to the front the question of equality, social and political, of the negro race.

Wail About Negro's Vote.

Thoughtful citizens of both north and south regret such an issue. They dread and will evade it, if possible. But if the president and his party force the issue, it must be met, and the responsibility must rest upon them.

The president is the leader of his party now and will be next year. The politicians of his party may advise him that the solid negro vote (for in voting they are indivisible) holds the balance of power in the great central states of the Union, and that in the states of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois it is essential to its party's success. In Maryland, where the negro vote constitutes two-thirds of the Republican party, it is an absolute necessity, for without it the state is hopelessly lost to the Republicans.

Unless I mistake the temper of the people of this country there will be the same resistless tide of public sentiment, the same protest that was recorded in 1892 by the white people of the entire Union against the administration of President Harrison for his attempt to force negro domination upon the south and thus destroy that section and paralyze the industries of the whole United States.

We are told that the president has declared to Senator McComas in unequivocal language that the forthcoming election in Maryland was not a local event, but one of national importance. In other words the election of Mr. Williams as governor of Maryland would be an indorsement of Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

So this issue is forced upon us by the president. He has made the gage of battle, and we must meet it as becomes Marylanders.

Our opponents in this state tell us we are in no danger of being dominated by negroes, that the whites outnumber the blacks. In one sense this is true, but in another it is a mere dodge.

VICTIM WOULDN'T TELL.

Man Dies in New York Hospital Refusing to Name His Slayer.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—With his wife at the bedside pleading for him to name the man who shot him, Edward H. Carpenter, who was yesterday shot by "Dod" Naylor in the cafe of the Hotel Rossmore, died in the New York Hospital today. He did not name his assailant. Naylor, whose right name is said to be Thomas Lenahan, is held by the police.

Carpenter was seated at a table in the cafe, intoxicated, when Naylor and a man named Cleary entered. Carpenter is said to have shouted to Naylor: "You are a Bowery rat," whereupon Naylor fired. An inquest will be held tomorrow and Naylor will be arraigned on a charge of murder.

PAINTINGS ARRIVE AT CARNEGIE ART EXHIBIT

Seventy-five paintings for the coming exhibition at the Carnegie art galleries arrived at the institute and are being placed upon the walls. The pictures have been on display in the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, being a part of the exhibit of the International Society of Gravers, Painters and Sculptors. The pictures selected by the art jury last week are now upon the walls. Extra men are at work preparing the museum exhibit.

WATCHED MAKING OF CEMENT FROM SLAG

Philadelphia Capitalists Visit the New Plant at Elizabeth and Are Much Pleased.

The successful operation of the International Cement Company's plant at Elizabeth, where a high-grade cement is being made from common slag, was witnessed yesterday by a party of Philadelphia capitalists who are the stockholders of the company. The entire party went to Elizabeth yesterday morning in the private car of Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad. They returned covered with the dust and dirt of the factory, but enthusiastic over the success of the operations conducted since the plant was started, October 15. They lunched last evening at the Union club.

The membership of the party was Joseph B. McCall, president of the Philadelphia Electric Company; Senator Charles A. Porter of Philadelphia, James E. Hays of Camden, N. J., Charles M. Swain, president of the City Trust Company of Philadelphia; W. H. Jonnson, president of the Philadelphia Edison Company; J. B. Graham, president of the International Cement Company; Charles J. Swain, secretary of the cement company; Henry Clay of Philadelphia, Isaac D. Hetzel of Philadelphia, president of the Keystone Paving and Construction Company; Arthur B. Huey and Henry Holmes, the last two being respectively an attorney and manufacturer of the Quaker City.

The buildings in which this work is going on cover an acre and a half, and a plot of seven acres has been obtained for the extension of the plant as necessity demands. The machinery installed so far has a capacity of 1,000 barrels a day. President Graham of the company explained the process in full and conducted the visitors through all parts of the plant. Samuel G. Stafford, who with Dr. Otto Wuth discovered the process of eliminating sulphur from slag and thus making its manufacture into cement possible, assisted in the exposition of the methods used.

CRAZY MAN SOUGHT HELP OF ROOSEVELT

Said He Was Being Pursued by Dr. Koch, a German Physician, in an Airship.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Another crank attempted to see the president today. This time it was Edward Tanner, a native of Switzerland, 58 years old, who wished to appeal to the president for protection from Sir Edward Koch, a German physician, who he alleges was pursuing him about the earth in an airship, accompanied by two other men and three women, bent on his destruction.

Tanner, who is a large man of not unpleasing appearance, reached the executive office after the president had gone. He was intercepted by Secret Service Agent Taylor, who demanded to know his business. When that had been stated it was but the work of a moment to conduct the man over to the treasury department, under pretense that he was being taken to see President Roosevelt, and from there he was conveyed to police headquarters in a cab. Tomorrow the police surgeons will examine him as to his sanity, and unless friends interfere he will be committed to the government insane asylum.

Tanner made no resistance and was not armed. When searched $52 and a notebook were found on him. He said he had a wife in Memphis, but that he came from Northern Montana to see the president.

Young Woman Sues for Breach of Promise and Gets a $30,000 Verdict.

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH., Oct. 30.—Miss Henrietta Adams of Caseville, Mich., was today given a verdict of $30,000 against Robert Stuart Baker, a well known young society man of this city, for breach of promise.

The romance which led up to Baker's proposing marriage to the young woman began when both were students at Olivet college. Several hundred letters written to Miss Adams by Baker were read in court and a number from the young woman to the defendant were also introduced as evidence.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET.

Joint Sessions of Christian Unions of U. P. Presbyteries.

The Young People's Christian Union of the Allegheny and Monongahela presbyteries of the United Presbyterian church held their joint fall convention in the First church of Allegheny yesterday afternoon and evening.

The Rev. J. H. Leitch presided at the afternoon session. After devotional exercises J. Campbell White delivered an address on "Our Young People's Part in the Solution of the Missionary Problem." He said the work of the young people's societies during the past few years has been very satisfactory in helping the cause of missions, but no urged them to do better work in the future.

The Rev. W. W. Lawrence, pastor of the Bellevue church, delivered an address on "Building From the Base." He argued that missionary work should be one of the first things children should be taught, as the first impressions in life are the most lasting.

Following the addresses a short session of the delegates of the Allegheny Presbytery was held in the auditorium, at which reports of the officers were read and approved.

At the evening session H. E. Coneby presided, and the Rev. John Balcom Leard, D. D., of New York, delivered an address on "Soul Winning as a Daily Pursuit."

STUDENTS BATTER EACH OTHER IN CLASS RUSH

In a class rush at the West Penn medical school of the Western University of Pennsylvania yesterday afternoon members of the freshmen and sophomore classes had a lively scrimmage for about a half hour. The members of the classes have been steering clear of one another since the school opened, largely because of the number of men in the freshmen class. As the freshmen were leaving chemical hall, on the second floor of the building, they met the sophomores and the battle was on. Several men were badly battered up and one was thrown down the stairs. The sophomores declare they vanquished the freshmen. A member of the latter class is reported to have suffered a broken nose.

SIR H. MORTIMER DURAND,

Who Is To Succeed the Late Sir Michael Herbert As British Ambassador To the United States.

AMBASSADOR DURAND EAGER TO COME TO UNITED STATES

Says Because of the Cordial Relations Between America and England His Part at Washington Will Be Social Instead of Diplomatic.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

MADRID, Oct. 30.—Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador to Spain, who was recently appointed British ambassador to the United States, was interviewed today at the British embassy here. The latter, formerly a convent, faces the senate building, and the statue of Canovas. The embassy is sumptuously furnished, but Sir Henry's private apartments and study are severely simple in their appointments.

The ambassador, who is tall, of athletic build and genial manners, received his visitor most courteously. Concerning his appointment to Washington he said:

"I confess it was somewhat of a surprise, although a pleasant one. I had no intimation of it until I received an inquiry from the foreign office asking if I would go, to which I immediately replied in the affirmative. I am delighted to go to America, which I have long admired and have been anxious to visit. The leading American statesmen are only known to me by reputation, so I have yet to acquaint myself with American men and affairs.

"The relations between the United States and Great Britain are most cordial, there being no serious litigation pending between the two Anglo-Saxon nations, and I am personally convinced that Great Britain will use every endeavor to avoid causes for friction, as made evident by the submission of the Alaskan questions to arbitration. The political horizon being, therefore, cloudless, I imagine my part at Washington will be social rather than diplomatic.

"I confess that I leave here with regret. The society is charming and I have made many sincere friends. I came to Madrid somewhat prejudiced by what I had heard of Spanish pride and Castilian haughtiness; but I have seen that this was pure fiction. There are no more frank or more courteous people in the world than the Spaniards. My official relations have been easy and agreeable.

"Spain is wisely devoting her chief attention to financial reorganization. The questions of the army and navy and foreign relations will come afterwards. The last named is much simplified by the rapprochement between France and Great Britain and the seeming understanding between those powers concerning northern Africa and the Mediterranean. This is likely to facilitate the relations of Spain with both countries, which gives me great satisfaction, owing to my earnest sympathy and admiration for Spain."

WILL SHOW BIG MODEL OF GREAT RAILWAY STATION

Baltimore & Ohio's St. Louis Exhibit Includes Reproduction of Washington Terminal.

A complete model of the Baltimore & Ohio-Pennsylvania railroad station to be built in Washington, D. C., will be exhibited at the St. Louis world's fair next year. It will be built on a scale of proportions and effectiveness believed to have never before been attempted in an architectural model. Its front will be 80 feet, with a depth of 40 feet and a height of 15 feet from the floor. The model will be built under the personal direction of Major Pangborn, director of the Baltimore & Ohio section at the world's fair, and it will be placed in that section.

The representation of both exterior and interior will be made with the most conscientious attention to truth of detail. The scale will be an inch to a foot and those who see this model can obtain a conception of what D. H. Burnham, architect of the Chicago world's fair and of great buildings in Pittsburgh and other cities claims will be his proudest monument. Several years will be required to complete the Washington station. The contracts have just been let.

Not only every other American station, but every station in the world will be made second-class when compared with this huge and artistic structure. It is said that 30,000 people could move about in its interior, 10,000 have a square yard each for standing room, while 5,000 would be far from a crowd. Its frontage will be 760 feet, and its depth 350 feet. All will be of marble and the architect has aimed for the impressive rather than the ornate.

Two Negroes Hanged in Public.

LUVERNE, ALA., Oct. 30.—Jim Chambers and Lou Shaw, negroes, were hanged here today for the murder of Williamson Champion, another negro, in March last. Sale Arrington, an accomplice, turned state's evidence and was released. The hanging was in public and the military was used to help preserve order.

QUARANTINE IS DECLARED OFF

Allegheny Officials Accede to the Demands of the State Board of Health.

WYMAN SIGNS AN AGREEMENT

Concessions Include the Adoption of Rigid Means and Methods for Fighting the Spread of Smallpox and a Free Examination of the Books.

Allegheny City will not be quarantined. The officials of the Allegheny health bureau have acceded to the demands of the state board of health and in the future the two will work in harmony. Mayor James G. Wyman has given Dr. Wilmer R. Batt, state quarantine officer-at-large his written agreement that the regulations laid down by the state board of health will be carried out to the letter, and the indications are that smallpox will be speedily eliminated from the North Side.

Mayor Wyman sent for Dr. Batt early yesterday morning. The two conferred in the mayor's office at Allegheny city hall, and City Solicitor Stephen G. Porter and Director Thomas B. Scandrett of the Allegheny safety department were also present. After a short talk, which was of an exceedingly friendly character, Dr. Batt explained each of the demands insisted upon by the state board of health. The agreement reached by the officials of the Allegheny health bureau and the state board of health is as follows:

Provisions of the Agreement.

The state board of health is to have free access to all books, reports and papers relating to the Allegheny health bureau;

A thorough and complete quarantine system over those affected by smallpox and those who have been exposed to the contagion of the disease will be rigidly enforced;

The adoption at once of a thorough and efficient system of disinfection;

The immediate inauguration of a systematic campaign of vaccination by the employment of several more vaccinators;

The rigid investigation and prosecution of any physician who conceals a case of contagious disease;

The adoption of a placard containing the penalty for breaking quarantine, which will be placed on every quarantined building.

The conference between the state and city officials lasted but a short time but each clause of the agreement was carefully considered and agreed to separately. After all the clauses had been disposed of a typewritten agreement was prepared, to which Mayor Wyman affixed his signature, solemnly promising to comply with the state board's demands.

State Board's Demands Conceded.

This agreement covers all the points demanded by the state board of health in the letter sent Supt. J. A. McLaughlin of the Allegheny health bureau, under date of October 19, with the additional concession of permitting the free examination of the books of the bureau. This last was the only provision in the agreement which was contested. The Allegheny officials were loath to have their books examined.

This agreement was what the state board of health had been fighting for and to secure which it contemplated quarantining the entire city in addition to other restrictive measures which will be adopted. When the communication was sent McLaughlin, five days' time were given him to show his willingness to comply with the demands. McLaughlin refused to make reply to the state board of health and in the meantime the business men of Allegheny who had been notified of the state board's action had secured a meeting of select council for the purpose of making effort to prevent the restrictions being carried into effect.

Pending the calling and the holding of the special meeting of select council, Dr. Batt, for the state board of health, agreed to hold the restrictive measures in abeyance. The meeting of select council was held and by a tie vote no action was taken to prevent the state board's actions. Dr. Batt went to Philadelphia and then to Washington, where he held a conference with Dr. Benjamin Lee, secretary and executive officer of the state board of health, and Dr. Milton A. Finblek of Boiling Springs, a member of the board.

Dr. Batt Was in Earnest.

Dr. Batt arrived in Pittsburgh on Thursday morning with instructions to proceed to carry out the quarantine restrictions adopted by the state board of health. Dr. Batt was at work on this and had in fact made some arrangements when he received the message that Mayor Wyman wanted to see him. The conference put a stop to the restrictions as the Allegheny officials agreed to all the requirements of the state board of health.

Immediately after the conference adjourned Dr. Batt had the order to fumigate the mails leaving Allegheny rescinded. Other orders that had been prepared were destroyed. None of the restrictions will be carried out for the present. The state board of health feels assured the Allegheny officials will do their duty from now on and regret that they the matter was called to public attention, did not come to a realization of this before the matter was called to public attention.

As originally intended by the state board of health, when Dr. Batt was sent here some months ago, the state board and the Allegheny officials will work in harmony. With their united efforts they hope to stamp out the disease on the North Side speedily. They will get together early next week and prosecute a thorough campaign against the spread of the disease.

WORKINGMEN ARE OUT FOR THE REPUBLICANS

Big and Enthusiastic Meeting of Union Labor Men Held in Marquette Hall.

The Republicans of the Twenty-third ward held a big meeting last night in Marquette hall in Second avenue. The audience was chiefly composed of members of labor unions, and of the several hundred present at least half of them had voted the Citizens-Democratic ticket in the last two campaigns. The chairman was David M. Wilbert. Much enthusiasm was displayed.

The first speaker was John W. Moreland, the veteran soldier, who quit the Citizens in disgust at the manner in which the old soldiers were treated by that political organization after its victory last February. Mr. Moreland told how the Citizens broke the pledges they made to the veterans.

A. J. Edwards said that honest leadership was not in the Citizens party. He reminded his hearers that if Allegheny county does not give a majority for the Republican party this fall the defeat will have a bad effect on the national election next year.

John E. Cox of Homestead also referred to the importance of the election in its possible effects upon the Republican national ticket. In referring to H. L. Goehring, the Citizens-Democratic candidate for district attorney, he said that Goehring's headquarters were in room No. 1127 in the Carnegie building, on the door of the room were the words "assistant to the president," but that it was only a cheap deception agency, and Goehring had been on its payroll for 11 years.

Wilson M. Gibson, one of the vice presidents of the Amalgamated association, said that last fall in his travels over the county everybody talked for the Citizens ticket, and he then told his Republican friends that the party would be defeated, now everybody talked for the Republican ticket and he believed the Republicans would win.

Representative John Francies told of his experience in Harrisburg. He advocated reform measures, but in every move he made he found secret opposition emanating from Citizens party leaders. There was but one issue before the voters: Would the people permit the Citizens leaders to take them once and then take them again? The "hold-up" of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinances demonstrated how little the Citizens leaders concerned themselves about the interests of the public.

ARE NOW READY TO COPE WITH LABOR

Manufacturers Alliance Completed Its Organization in Chicago Last Night.

SOME STRONG RESOLUTIONS

New Federation Proposes to at Once Take Up a Warfare Upon the Abuses of Organized Labor—Will Demand Protection of All Classes of Labor.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct., 30.—With the election of D. M. Parry of Indianapolis as its president, the formation of the Citizens Industrial Association of America was completed tonight. The organization is national in scope and includes representative manufacturers, tradesmen, other employers of labor, local general organizations and citizens alliances, having among other things as its object the dealing with the labor problem in all its phases.

Other officers were elected as follows: J. C. Craig, of Denver, head of the Colorado State and Denver Citizens alliance, first vice president. E. M. McCleary, of the National Electrical Contractors association, Detroit, second vice president. J. T. Holle, of the Manufacturers association of New York, third vice president. A. C. Rosengraz, of the Citizens alliance, Evansville, Ind., treasurer. The secretary and an executive committee of 15 members, are to be named later. A convention of the association will be held in Indianapolis in February.

The manner of assessing and affiliating the many associations in the organization took up most of the time of the delegates at today's session. It was decided that all members shall pay an initiation fee of from $25 to $100 and all members shall pay dues at the rate of 50 cents per annum per employing members, the amount in no case to be less than $10 nor greater than $20.

Some trouble was threatened through the action of several New York delegates who were not in sympathy with the Citizens alliance which admits employer, employe and others and went on record as opposed to it, favoring among other things a postponement of the matter. They were in the minority, however, and were a later won over by those favoring the alliances.

Resolutions were then adopted. They refer to strained relations between employer and employes and their bad effect on business conditions; demanded ample protection for all seeking to earn a livlihood and continue in part:

"In carrying on a firm and uncompromising contest with the abuses of unions as now constituted and conducted, at the same time acknowledging the free right of workmen to combine, and admitting that their combination when rightly constituted and conducted may prove highly useful, we earnestly desire to act, and believe we are acting in the true interests of the workingmen themselves."

ROBBERS WRECK WESTERN TRAIN

Engine and Four Cars Are Sent Crashing Through a Bridge to Stream Below.

NO ONE KILLED; THIRTY HURT

Wrecked Train Contained Private Car of Eastern Financiers Enroute Home from the Bankers' Convention at San Francisco.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PUEBLO, COL., Oct. 30.—Train wreckers derailed eastbound Santa Fe passenger train No. 6 on which was one car filled with eastern bankers at 1:30 o'clock this morning at Apishapa Creek. The engine and four cars plunged through a bridge to the bed of the creek. Thirty or more trainmen and passengers were injured.

Engineer John E. Walker of La Junta was badly scalded and bruised and may die. None of the others sustained serious injuries. Nearly all were residents of western states. J. F. McGill of Washington, D. C., and C. Bennett of Buffalo, N. Y., were bruised.

The wrecked train was made up at Denver last evening, and at Pueblo the car Del Rosa, in charge of A. S. Kimberly and carrying 18 eastern bankers, was attached to it. The train was running at a speed of 50 miles an hour as it approached Apishapa creek. At the west end of the bridge the rails spread, derailing the engine and when it struck the bridge one span 100 feet long went down. The engine, two baggage cars and a chair car and a coach rolled over on their sides to the creek bed, a distance of 15 feet. Fortunately little water was running in the creek at the time. One Pullman stopped with the forward end projecting over the embankment. The bankers' car was the only one in the train that was not derailed.

When the engine rolled over Engineer Walker was pinned under his cab, and he was immediately enveloped in a dense cloud of steam. Some time elapsed before he was rescued by other members of the train crew with the assistance of some passengers. Engineer Walker said that the first intimation he had of anything wrong was when the drivers suddenly began bumping the ties. He hastily closed the throttle and reversed the lever. The engine and cars plowed over the ties at least 15 feet and the extraordinary strain put on the bridge caused the structure to collapse.

Relief trains were sent to the scene of the accident as quickly as possible from both Pueblo and La Junta. When these trains arrived at the creek all the injured had been removed from the wreckage. The cars were not badly broken up and the passengers in them had escaped with bruises, sprains and cuts. After their wounds had been dressed they were piloted across the dry bed of the creek and with the passengers who were uninjured were taken to La Junta in a special train.

An investigation showed that the spikes had been pulled from their rails. The motive of the wreckers is a mystery, as no robbery was attempted.

YANKEE CONCERN WINS IN ENGLAND

Lorain Surface Contact Electric Line Taken Over by Wolverhampton.

A BITTER CONTEST IS ENDED

Municipal Council, Owing to Opposition to "American Invasion," Evinced for a Time a Disposition to Repudiate Contract—Now Planning an Extension.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.

The most stubborn and prolonged fight probably that has ever been put up by Britishers against the so-called "American" invasion has terminated in favor of the Lorain Steel Company, branch of the United States Steel Corporation, which has just been awarded a contract for the construction of the extension of the municipal electric traction system at Wolverhampton, one of the most prosperous cities in the west of England, on the Lorain system of surface contact. Yankee equipment in tremendous quantities have been shipped for use on the other side, large lots going from Pittsburgh, but the Wolverhampton contract is the first one calling for an American system of surface contact.

Some two years ago the Lorain Steel Company offered to construct 10 miles of lines at Wolverhampton on its system, which was invented by M. Brown of Johnstown, Pa., the chief engineer of the company. The lines were to be built on the understanding that if found satisfactory the corporation was to take them over. The lines were duly built and submitted to exhaustive trials by the corporation electrical experts.

Then the trouble began. The whole affair was made the subject of the most heated discussions. Several members of the municipality resigned. At last it was decided by the majority to take over the lines and to pay the Lorain Company about $110,000. This was agreed upon some weeks ago.

Commenting on the matter the Tramway and Railway World of London, one of the leading electric traction periodicals in Europe, says in part: "The Wolverhampton town council has had a bad time of it over the system of electric traction for the borough. Shilly-shally is a common weakness with municipalities and if the council had throughout been more determined in carrying out a policy to which they had practically committed themselves there would have been less trouble and less room for local agitation. The council may be congratulated on having settled the question of taking over the lines which have been built on the Lorain surface contact system. There appears to us no adequate reason why they should not have come to that determination months ago when they refused to take the system over.

"The report of the borough electrical engineer submitted at that time was on the whole favorable and the terms now accepted do not differ materially from those originally considered. The Lorain Steel Company built the lines and the corporation was to take them over after a year if the system proved satisfactory. As far as we have been able to learn the system has all along done well and been all practically that was claimed of it."

Private advices just to hand state that it has now been decided to extend on the Lorain system notwithstanding the initial cost and maintenance has been considerably more than of the additional lines which were built on the overhead system. The extensions will cost on the overhead system some $35,000 more and nearly $5,000 more for maintenance. The extensions on the Lorain method will mean an expenditure of some $300,000.

OCCUPATION BY RUSSIA EMBARRASSES "OPEN DOOR"

President Roosevelt, However, Is Not Inclined to Make Protests as Long as American Sentiment Is Indifferent.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Russia's reoccupation of Mukden is not pleasing to the United States government, but there is no inclination on the part of the president or the state department to make any protest against it at the present time. Mukden is one of the ports the opening to the world commerce of which is guaranteed in the yet unratified American-Chinese commercial treaty. It is hoped the Russian occupation will not interfere with United States treaty rights. No statement is obtainable as to what the United States will do if Russia tries to prevent the opening of this port.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Hay both regard the occupation of Mukden as embarrassing to their "open door" policy, but they are not inclined to take any vigorous action in the direction of protesting as long as public sentiment in the United States is so indifferent to American interest in the far east.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 30.—The foreign office here declares that the reoccupation of Mukden, Manchuria, by Russian troops is not connected with the question of the commercial ports. The railroad guards encamped at the city gates, it is explained, reoccupied the city because the Chinese governor refused to comply with certain demands of the Russian commissioner.

MARCONI THE WINNER.

Awarded the Alfred Nobel Prize of $40,000 for His Wireless Telegraph Invention.

A cable dispatch from Stockholm, Sweden, announces the fact that the Nobel prize, the Blue Ribbon of the scientific world, which is given to the person having made the most important discovery or invention in the department of physical science during the year 1902, has been awarded to Guglielmo Marconi, the inventor of wireless telegraphy, by the Swedish academy of sciences.

This honor is a signal recognition of the fact that to Marconi alone are due the material benefits derived from the introduction of wireless telegraphy into practical use, and by this award, made by an authoritative body, the pretensions of the many mere stabbers in wireless telegraphy are effectually disposed of.

The Nobel prizes take their name from Alfred Nobel, who died six years ago, and by his will provided that five prizes of $40,000 each, be given to those who "in the course of the preceding year shall have rendered the greatest services to humanity."

The recipient of a Nobel prize, therefore, not only ranks with the foremost men of learning of the world, but he also receives such a substantial gift of money—$40,000, as to aid him greatly financially, even though he be already a man of means.

The five annual prizes are to be given to the person who has made the most important discovery in physical science, in chemistry, in the department of physiology, or medicine; to the author having produced the most notable literary work, in the sense of idealism, and "to the person having done the most or the best in the work of establishing the brotherhood of nations for the suppression or reduction of standing armies, as well as for the formation and the propagation of peace conferences."

On December 10, the anniversary of the death of the donor, the corporation bestows upon each laureate a check for the value of the prize, a diploma, and a gold medal. During the six months following, the laureate is obliged to give a public lecture in Stockholm, on the subject of the work crowned.

Mr. Marconi is only 28 years old and is the youngest man to whom this high distinction has ever been awarded.

JOKER TO BE TRIED FOR DEATH OF HIS VICTIM

Girl Whom He Frightened Became Insane and Died. Father Is Vengeful.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SPOKANE, WASH., Oct. 30.—For frightening a young woman to such an extent that she was insane, Edward McKenzie, formerly a bank cashier in Jacksonville, Fla., has been arrested in Fernie, B. C., and will be taken back to his former home for trial. The case seems to be one of the most remarkable on record and is the outcome of a practical joke.

Details have been given by Roger Freve, a deputy sheriff, who has come to bring McKenzie home. On the evening of July 5 last, a party of young persons were on the veranda of the Palmetto hotel, Jacksonville, when the conversation turned to superstition and ghosts. Miss Ada Henshaw, a prominent young society woman, declared that she was afraid of nothing in the ghost line. McKenzie made a trifling wager with the young woman that she could be frightened.

Before the party broke up, McKenzie left, and going to a medical institute secured a skeleton. He wrapped it in gauze and with the aid of phosphorus gave the effect of lighting the entire skeleton with a weird brilliance. He hid it in the bushes near Miss Henshaw's home and as she came down the lane alone she was greeted with a groan and the appearance of the apparition with outstretched arms. She went into hysterics and within an hour was a raving maniac.

She was taken to a private asylum and three weeks ago died without regaining her reason. McKenzie fled at once but detectives employed by the girl's father located him in Fernie recently. The father declares he will spend every cent of his fortune in the prosecution of the young man.

STEEL MEN CONFER.

Corporation Officials Consider Plans for Reducing Cost.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Presidents, officials and sales agents of the subsidiary companies of the United States Steel Corporation are holding conferences here. It is said they are discussing plans for concentrating plants, reducing cost of operation and possible changes in prices. The following statement was made today by an official of the United States Steel Corporation:

"There will be no cut in prices. As for the matter of wages, that has not been considered save in an informal way. At any rate, no changes of this kind are likely before the new year."

EDUCATION DISCUSSED AT YOUNGSTOWN MEETING

Teachers of Two States Participate in Annual Round Table.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 30.—Educators of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio, including many prominent superintendents and principals, are in session here. It is the annual meeting of the round table of the districts and many interesting papers were read today. The visitors were welcomed by Principal Wells L. Wiesworld of Rayen school. Supt. R. P. Clark, of Ashtabula, responded for the visitors. The first paper read was by Supt. J. M. Berkley of Johnstown, Pa. He spoke on the "Need of Unified and Simplified Course of Study."

Principal T. D. Denson of Pittsburgh spoke on "Practical Nature Study." Supt. F. Rohler, of Niles, spoke on the need of higher salaries for teachers. This evening was occupied by an address by Dr. W. O. Thompson, of Ohio State University, Columbus.

SCHWAB WILL BE PRESENT.

He and His Wife Will Attend Dedication of Braddock Church He Built.

Completion of the handsome church built by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Schwab, at a cost of $125,000, for the congregation of St. Thomas' Roman Catholic church of Braddock has practically been reached and will be dedicated on Sunday, November 22, by the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, coadjutor bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese, assisted by many priests from the Pittsburgh diocese, and possibly one or more bishops from other dioceses.

The dedication was decided upon several days ago by Bishop Canevin, and yesterday Mr. Schwab sent word that both he and Mrs. Schwab will be present. They will arrive in Braddock from Loretto on Saturday morning, and the same evening, November 21, there will be a free organ recital on the magnificent pipe organ presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. Schwab, with Prof. William M. Mayer of Braddock, formerly of this city, at the organ.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM MYSTERIOUS BULLET

Detective R. C. Culp, of the Pennsylvania railroad, and his prisoner Simi Rodgelk had a narrow escape from being shot near Manor station, Westmoreland county, last night. The officer and the prisoner were riding on the train to this city. As the train was about a mile from Manor station there was a bullet crashed through the car window and buried itself in the frame work of the seat. Neither the officer nor the prisoner was injured. Who fired the shot is a mystery. Detective Culp boarded the train at Greensburg. Rodgelk is charged by the railroad company with a minor offense, and was locked in central station last night.

PENITENTIARY WAS SCENE OF A ROBBERY

While the guards walked the walls at the Western penitentiary in lower Allegheny yesterday morning, thieves took a wagon to the entrance of the grounds and stole two large coils of rope, loaded them on the wagon and disappeared. The ropes belonged to Contractor J. M. Clark, who is drilling for gas in the penitentiary grounds. The ropes cost $60 each.

TROLLEY LINE ASSURED FOR AGRICULTURISTS

Farmers Promoted Road to Be Built Between New Castle and Sharon.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

SHARON, PA., Oct. 30.—To secure a market for their product in New Castle and Sharon, the agriculturists in this vicinity are promoting a street railway between these places, via New Wilmington. At present it is necessary for farmers to drive to New Castle, a distance of 11 miles, or to Sharon, 14 miles, to sell their produce. These cities are the nearest markets for the farmers in the vicinity of New Wilmington. With a street car line connecting Sharon and New Castle the farm products could be taken on special cars in a very short time and several times during the week instead of on Saturdays as in the rule.

At a meeting of a number of prominent farmers, a committee was appointed and the right-of-way between New Castle and Sharon was secured. Two thousand dollars were subscribed to pay for the expense of getting the grade. The proposition was submitted to several Pittsburgh capitalists and they have agreed to build the line immediately and to have cars running within six months. The line will traverse one of the richest agricultural districts in the state. The cost of the line will be $200,000.

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—George Whipkey and Jane A. Burdess of Greensburg county, Pa., Harvey Reese and Amelia S. Keifert, Johnstown, Pa.; Edward F. Waller and Dorothy Cogley, Huntingdon, Pa.; John G. Racke and Rosa Anna McDermit, Pittsburgh; Washington Dennis and Minnie Jones, Brownsville, Pa.; Willard Stillhead and Ida Rowland, Andrew Frederick Mackey and Anna Irene Sloane, Alfred Skogsburg and Lillie Christensen, Pittsburgh, were granted licenses and married here.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Clarence, the 5-year-old son of Postmaster Charles Gordon of Millwood, died from drinking a large quantity of whisky.

MEADVILLE, PA.—W. H. C. Kinkaid, representing the Central Stamping Company of New York city, was found dead in bed at the Lafayette hotel here.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA.—The Pittsburgh works of the American Tin Plate Company at this place were closed for lack of orders. The shut down will last for 60 days.

IRWIN, PA.—Benjamin F. Jones has been engaged as general superintendent of the Westmoreland Coal Company. He was division superintendent for the H. C. Frick Coke Company.

NEW KENSINGTON, PA.—The Pennsylvania railroad freight station at this place was entered by burglars, the safe was blown to pieces and about $50, all the money it contained, stolen.

STEUBENVILLE, O.—Samuel Ashby, who in a jealous drunken rage fired four shots into his wife's body at Portland station on May 26, killing her, was convicted of murder in the second degree.

GREENSBURG, PA.—Edward McGinnis, who, until October 23, worked for the Carnegie Steel Company at its Duquesne plant, was found dead on the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad east of New Florence. He had been struck by a train.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Harry Lewis of Coal Center, Pa., was held up and robbed while walking along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near New Castle Junction. Two men knocked him down. When he recovered he found the highwaymen had stolen his shoes and $11.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA.—Frank Rastovich, the first miner to strike a pick at Elsmere, was instantly killed while operating a machine in Mine No. 3. The rock which struck Rastovich was so large that it could not be moved and his remains were recovered by mutilation.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Three men, suitors of Lena Cinelle, a pretty Italian girl, are said to have attempted her life when they saw her leaving the company of a rival. Two men are under arrest. They are Dominic Mallo and Joe Bockly. One of the men is said to have cut her throat. She will recover.

CORONER INVESTIGATING THE DEATH OF A WOMAN

Witness at Uniontown Testifies of the Supposed Suicide of Mrs. Gilpin.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., Oct. 30.—The coroner's inquest into the death of Mrs. L. W. Gilpin, who was found in her room at the stone house at Chalk Hill, yesterday morning with a bullet through her right temple, having, it is thought, committed suicide, began today and was continued until Monday. Mrs. Gilpin and her husband had not been living together for some time and for five weeks she has been at the stone house.

J. C. Carroll, proprietor of the stone house, testified before the coroner's jury today that Charles J. McCormick, brother of Uniontown, took Mrs. Gilpin to the stone house five weeks ago and made arrangements for her to stay there. From that time until her death Mr. Carroll said that McCormick spent each night at the house with Mrs. Gilpin, and that he was there Wednesday night of this week. McCormick and Mrs. Gilpin ate breakfast together and after McCormick had gone to Mrs. Gilpin's room, he was in the office with Mr. Carroll and Mr. Carroll says some time, when he said he had left his gloves in Mrs. Gilpin's room. He went up to the room and at once called to Mr. Carroll.

"Oh, Joe, the woman has killed herself."

Mr. Carroll ran upstairs and found Mrs. Gilpin still alive, but she expired in a few minutes.

TWO WORKMEN BURNED.

Were Employed at Manhole When Gas Let Go.

Daniel Greenhouse of Hazel street, McKeesport, and Stephen Scott of No. 1423 Jenny Lind street, McKeesport, were badly burned in a manhole at Fifth avenue and Walnut street, McKeesport, this afternoon. The men are at the McKeesport hospital, where it was stated that Greenhouse is probably fatally burned.

The men were relaying telephone lines for the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company. Greenhouse began to solder and Scott outside a manhole. Greenhouse had finished making connections and struck a match to examine the work and a loud explosion resulted. The flames ran along the conduit and blew the cover of the manhole up about 15 feet in the air. It is thought the gas accumulated in the manhole from a leaking main.

CLOTHESLINE DRAMA.

Washing Soiled and Weary Woman's Husband Used a Gun.

Alexander Hillar and Michael Matina, Italians of Collier township, are in jail. Hillar for shooting and Matina for assault. Matina was waiting by Hillar's house yesterday afternoon and saw Mrs. Hillar hanging up the washing to dry. Matina picked up a club and knocked the clothes line from the poles. The washing fell to the ground and was soiled. The women remonstrated with Matina and he drove her into the house.

Mrs. Hillar called to her husband, who got his revolver and opened fire on Matina, one bullet striking him in the right leg. Both men were arrested and they entered counter suits against each other. Matina's wound is slight.

HAZING AT ANNAPOLIS BREAKS OUT AFRESH

ANNAPOLIS, MD., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—From unofficial but reliable sources it is learned that the initial ceremony instituted over the Hallowed of three weeks ago of the first class being dismissed for hazing. It is stated that the authorities received their first information from anonymous letters written by a midshipman who by the mother of a fourth class man. The three upper class men are in close confinement.

Our "Buster Brown" suits & overcoats

While other stores charge you $6 to $8, our price for entire line is only 5.00

Very special offer—a large lot of boys' all wool double breasted and Norfolk suits, in blue and fancy oxfords and cheviots. Some of these suits are worth up to $3.75, price today will be only 2.00

We close 6:30 Saturday evenings

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

Young men's fall and winter suits

We have taken one of the largest and most convenient counters in our young men's clothing section and heaped thereon the largest assortment of boys' fancy mixed and blue or black all wool suits ever offered at the price, single or double breasted coat styles, sizes range from 14 to 20 years—price for today's sale will be only 3.85

Young men's overcoats—made of all wool heavy quality covert cloth or fancy brown mixed materials, nicely made—would be good value at $8, special price this sale 5.00

The "'Mum" Show now at the height of its glory

Our men's clothing stock likewise now at its best

There's every reason why you should select your new suit or overcoat here now. The styles have become firmly established and assortments are now at high-water mark. Our stock represents the best efforts of the country's foremost manufacturing tailors striving for perfection.

Besides immensity of assortment, there's an additional reason for purchasing now—THAT OF ECONOMY. The clothing market is advancing, and duplicate orders will more than likely be at higher prices. Owing to the small margin of profit at which we sell our clothing, this will occasion a corresponding increase in the cost to you.

The more you know about clothing the better we like it. A lawyer having a good case wants to argue it before a learned judge. So we, having the best clothing that's made, want to deal with men that are well up on the fine points of clothing. You can't be too critical to please us.

At the chrysanthemum show, at the club, at the theater, or wherever well dressed men are wont to congregate, THERE you'll find the Kaufmann clothing. Pick out the swellest attired men present, and nine times out of ten his suit or overcoat will have the Kaufmann label inside it. This fact speaks volumes in favor of the excellence of our clothing.

No tailor can improve upon our swellest suits at 20.00 to 33.00

We don't claim superiority for these suits over the best custom made. We do claim that they're just as good. It's simply to please a whim, or a desire to spend a good lot of money that induces a man to go to a tailor now-a-days. At twice our prices, the tailors can duplicate our garments, but they can't please you better or give you a more perfect fit.

Splendid business suits 15.00 It takes expert tailoring and cutting to please the men these days. There must be lots of snappy style and the fit must be perfect. These $15.00 suits will pass muster before the most exacting dressers. The hand tailor work on the shoulders, collars, lapels and fronts insure garments that will not sag away from the collar or break in front. Any style or material you want.

Truly good suits 8.50 Suits that'll hold their shape from the time you put them on till you're ready to cast them aside. Mixed cheviots, black thibets, heavy blue serges, fancy mixtures and black clays are some of the materials. As for the styles, they include both single and double breasteds in the correct three-button effects. These suits don't look as fine or fashionable as the higher priced lines, but they're good dependable garments—at least as good as those for which you'd pay $10.00 or $12.00 in other stores.

The finest men's overcoats in the land at 20.00 to 33.00

Overcoats that conform to style's severest requirements—overcoats that give distinction and character to the wearer. And right here, we want to direct your especial attention to the new belted-back coats. Nobby young dressers will have none other. And for good reason, too—there never was a great coat with the easy grace and swagger lines of these.

Very swell overcoats 15.00 Examine these overcoats as closely as you please—you'll not find a single fault or flaw. Don one of these overcoats and you'll be arrayed in style right up to the minute. The jauntiest short top coats, the extreme box and the more conservative longer overcoats, and the broad shoulder full box 44 and 50-inch coats—as well as silk lined real cravenette rain coats are all to be found here.

Tip top coats 8.50 These are cut, tailored, lined and trimmed in a manner that insures satisfactory wear for several seasons. There are nobby short 31-inch top coats, in light covert cloths, English and brown mixtures, black thibets, etc. Also the medium and longer coats, 34 and 50 inches, in black and blue kerseys, heavy oxfords and other stylish winter overcoatings—also 52-inch rain coats with silk yoke top. Comparison will prove these $8.50 overcoats as good as the best elsewhere at $10 and $12.

Hard Gridiron Contests Promised for Today East and West

FIRST DEFEAT FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Geneva College Reserves Win, 12 to 6, in Hard, but at Times, Loose Game.

BAUER'S SENSATIONAL RUN

The Pittsburgh High school eleven yesterday sustained its first defeat of this year when the Geneva College Reserve team, which had a shade the better in weight and well trained under Joe Thompson, won by a score of 12 to 6. The contest was one of the best of this season at Friendship park, and at times the enthusiasm on the part of the High school students was great. There was considerable fumbling, and all three touchdowns may be attributed to it.

High school got its only touchdown on a magnificent run from its 30-yard line by Quarter Back "Chuck" Bauer, who kicked goal after the excitement had subsided. Geneva took the ball down the field from the 12-yard line and shoved Walkinshaw over for the first touchdown in the first half. Young went over for the second touchdown in the second half, with but (the timekeepers claimed) one minute to play.

Before the game began it was agreed to play 20- and 15-minute halves. It is claimed that seven minutes were overplayed in the second half. Certain it is, that darkness made it difficult to pick out the players on the field. A fumble of a poor pass for a punt by Bialas gave Geneva the ball on the 25-yard line. The collegians began to hammer away and soon had the ball on the five-yard line. High school chumed time was up, but the timekeepers declined the assertion. Watches held by spectators on the side lines showed that the half should have been closed six minutes before.

High school went into the game in a crippled condition, having Schuehle and Grace Orr, two of the best men in the line, on the side lines. They were there because of a faculty decree. However, the substitutes did well, and, down the fumbling the team as a whole put up a strong game. "Dunc" Worrell and Bialas made short but hard runs around the ends, and at end Midget Spuhler put up an all around game, making fine tackles, one of the best ends in the interscholastic circle. Bauer, however, was the player who shone to the best advantage for High school. His Kicking, too, had a fine share, and more than once he pulled down the heavy Geneva halves after they had got through the line. His run down the field with the ball, secured on a fumble by Walkinshaw, was the most spectacular and got the High school contingent in a high state of excitement. Walkinshaw was given the ball for a run around Spuhler's end, but the Midget jumped into the interference and bucked the runner hard that it fumbled the ball, which rolled out and into Bauer's grasp. Spuhler knocked over one Geneva man, but two started after Bauer, who was hotfooting it down the field. Hutchinson was his running mate, and kept both men away. May, the Geneva sprinter, threw both arms around his neck as he went over the line.

Geneva, however, made one mistake, which probably cost High school the game. With the ball on the five-yard line, where it had been taken in the first half through sharp playing by Quarter Back Bauer and Fullback Bialas to pierce Geneva's line and failed. He had three downs to get it over, and did not attempt one end run. Geneva held and got the ball. With the ball in her possession by kicking to Walkinshaw on the 12-yard line. He got back 10 yards, jumping into an interference that formed quickly and compactly. Geneva worked to midfield, where Bauer got back 10 yards, adding to it getting the ball for Pittsburgh.

High school got to the 12-yard line, where a fumble gave Geneva the ball. The Beaver Falls crowd worked downs to the 5-yard line, but on the five-yard line it met with a stiff resistance. High school made the visitors work like Indians to push the ball over for the last foot, Walkinshaw going over.

It was after this touchdown that High school got to Geneva's five-yard line. The ball was worked up and down the field by both sides in the second period, Bauer and Young doing the scoring. Young played a star game for Geneva.

WILKINSBURG WINS SERIES.

Braddock High School Eleven Drop Third Game by Score

The Wilkinsburg High school team won from the Braddock High school yesterday afternoon at Wilkinsburg, 12 to 6. It was the third game this year between these teams. The first, which was played at Wilkinsburg, was a victory for the home school and the second, at Braddock, ended in a tie.

Wilkinsburg kicked off to Braddock, who soon had to surrender the ball. Wilkinsburg then gained ground by end runs and line plunges, sending Troutfurset through tackle for the first touchdown two minutes after the kickoff. Wilkinsburg kicked off, and Flanker, receiving the ball on a pass, skirted through the crowd and made Braddock's only touchdown. With three minutes to play in the last half, Braddock carried the ball around left end 40 yards for a touchdown. Braddock had the advantage in weight, but Wilkinsburg played fast. Lineup.

READY FOR PLAY.

Great Game Expected Between Wash. Jeff and Meds.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Never in the history of football at Washington and Jefferson college since the days of 1890, 1891 and 1892, when the Blue and Gold team has there been such enthusiasm over a football game as is being displayed in regard to the game with Ohio Medical university here tomorrow afternoon. The game will undoubtedly be the best that has been played here this season and will determine the championship of Western Pennsylvania and Ohio, both teams have been practicing hard and a great gridiron battle is looked for.

The visitors will outclass W. & J. in weight by 10 pounds to the man. The W. & J. back field will average 161 pounds, the line 175 pounds and the whole team 164 pounds. Ohio Med.'s back field will average 158 pounds, the line 196 pounds and the whole team 173 pounds. This will give them a great advantage, but the locals hope to make up the deficiency in weight by fast playing. The two teams, a band and the college boys will parade the principal streets of the town previous to the game. W. & J. had about half an hour of signal practice this afternoon and is ready for the game. Ohio Medical will come to Washington early tomorrow morning. Wilson D. Ingalls, a former Wash-Jeff captain and star player, will referee and Arthur Poe, of Pittsburg, Princeton end, will be umpire. The officials were selected with no difficulty.

FOR THE KAISER'S CUP.

King Edward to Have the First Yacht Built.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—It is suggested that the new racing schooner for which Designer George L. Watson is asking estimates, is to be built for King Edward for use in the trans-Atlantic races for the cup offered by the Kaiser.

One of the stipulations is haste. The boat is the unusually large length of 130 feet, according to the specifications her main boom will be over 100 feet long. She will have 95 feet water line and be canvased to full racing trim.

Still Another Football Fatality.

SOUTH BEND, Oct. 30.—John R. Haughton, a student in the South Bend High school, died today of blood poisoning, resulting from injuries received in a practice game of football three weeks ago.

This is for you.

TWO BIG GAMES CARDED FOR TODAY

Rayen Plays Shadyside and Geneva W. U. P.—Yale Confident of Beating Columbia.

HARVARD FEARS THE INDIANS

COLLEGE GAMES TODAY.

Shadyside—Rayen	Shadyside
W. U. P.—Geneva	Coloseum
Pittsburgh College—Normals	California
Michigan—Minnesota	Minneapolis
Yale—Columbia	New York
Princeton—Cornell	Princeton
U. of P.—Bucknell	Philadelphia
Harvard—Carlisle	Cambridge
Brown—Williams	Providence
Holy Cross—Amherst	Worcester
New York—Lafayette	New York
Army—Vermont	West Point
Navy—State	Annapolis
Andover—Yale Freshmen	Hanover
Dartmouth—Wesleyan	Hanover
F. & M.—Strathmore	Lancaster
Lehigh—Villa Nova	Lehigh
Hamilton—Hobart	Clinton
Syracuse—Niagara	Syracuse
Georgetown—Columbia	Washington
Manhattan—Tufts	New York

Two big games are scheduled for this afternoon in Pittsburgh. The Rayen high school of Youngstown, O., will play the Shadyside academy team at Shadyside, and Geneva college, which is a strong contender for the college championship of Eastern Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and West Virginia, will take on the W. U. P. eleven at the Colosseum. The Pittsburgh college team will go to California to play the strong Normal team.

The Shadyside-Rayen game will be one of importance, as it will have a bearing on the championship of Eastern Ohio for the interscholastics. A victory over Rayen will go a great ways in insuring Shadyside's holding the title. As there are no other school games carded for this afternoon, the game will be well attended. The admission is free. Shadyside will present its regular lineup, except Pierce at tackle, who is one of the strongest linemen.

The Pittsburgh College Reserves will tackle the strong Newman Athletic club on the college campus. The game will be called at 3:30.

Main interest in the eastern football today centers in the Yale-Columbia game at the Polo grounds, New York. It is the only game in the east in which one of the big universities are engaged in which the result is in doubt. It is generally thought that this will be one of the most desperately contested football battles of the season is looked for.

A special telegram from New Haven last night to The Gazette said:

Yale's football eleven left tonight for New York without any demonstration on the part of the students to encourage them, so confident is Yale of taking the game with Columbia tomorrow. It was too warm today for any signal practice, and the first and second teams were practiced only in running back the ball on kick-offs. Individual plays by Bowman, Mitchell and Metcalfe were practiced in their specialties. Coach Chadwick said the eleven will start the game as follows: Rafferty, left end; Young, left tackle; Sloane, left guard; Corbach, center; Batchelder, right guard; Hogan, right tackle; Shevlin, right end; Rockwell, quarterback; Owsley, left halfback; Metcalf, right halfback; Bowman, fullback.

Several hundred students will go to New York tomorrow morning on a special train.

A special from Cambridge, Mass., said:

The Harvard football team was given only light work today in anticipation of the game with the Carlisle Indians tomorrow. The red men are reported to have a fight team, but they showed in their game with Dartmouth that they are capable of snappy defensive work, equal in effectiveness to that of a heavy aggregation. Harvard expects to win handily, but her men will have to keep down fumbles as the Indians always have a bunch of new tricks when they come to Cambridge to play the Crimson team.

The lineup of the Harvard team will not be settled upon until tomorrow. Parkinson and Robinson are both under the weather and probably will not get into the lineup.

ALLEGHENY VICTORIOUS.

High School Eleven Wins from Allegheny Preps. in Fine Game, 6 to 0.

The Allegheny High school defeated the Allegheny Preps. yesterday at the Colosseum, 6 to 0. This is the Preps.' first defeat, and Allegheny High school's first victory. High school's weight told on the light Prep. line, who played a fine game, considering their disadvantage. High school did not gain by end runs, but twice made a gain of over five yards through the line. Fleming made two fine end runs for 25 and 35 yards, while the other Prep. backs made many short bucks, also Murphy, from tackle, who carried the ball to High school's four-yard line and lost on downs. The first half shortly ended.

The second half was about the same as the first, only that High school scored after getting the ball on a fumble on Preps.' 25-yard line, and steadily bucked it over. Both teams played a good offensive game and a fair defensive game. This game gives each team a victory by the same scores. The officials, Clark of W. U. P. and Hilliard of Primrose, performed their duties well, which was one of the features of the game. Lineup:

A. H. S.—6.		A. P. S.—0.
McKown	L. E.	Sloan
King	L. T.	Murphy
Spahr	L. G.	Fahnestock
Elliot	C.	Mayer
Chantler	R. G.	Lyons
Lacoste	R. T.	Justus
McNair	R. E.	Murphy
Thompson (Capt.)	Q. B.	Fleming (Capt.)
Kammerer	L. H.	Evans
Miller	L. H.	Reiter
Chatham	F. B.	Fife

Referee—Clark, W. U. P. Umpire—Hillyard, Primrose. Linesmen—Fenderich and Brereton. Time of halves—25 minutes.

DETROIT GETS PLAYERS.

President Herrmann Turns McIntyre and Ferry Over to Barrow's Team.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—President August Herrmann of the National baseball commission gave his decision in the case of Pitcher Ferry and Outfielder McIntyre of the Buffalo club, who were claimed by both the Detroit and Pittsburgh clubs. Mr. Herrmann finds that there being no evidence to the contrary, the claim of the Detroit club that it has made bona fide deals for the transfer of both these players holds good and that the draft of the Pittsburgh club, therefore, cannot be allowed.

The evidence of the Detroit club showed that Pitcher Kissinger, Infielders McAllister and Courtney and either Yeager or Lush of the Detroits had been turned over to the Buffalo club in exchange for the services of the Buffalo players, among whom were McIntyre and Ferry.

WITFUL, BY HEAD.

Beats Toah After Fierce Drive—Gen. Steward Disqualified.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Witful, the prohibitive favorite at 2 to 5, backed down from 1 to 2, won the mile handicap at Worth today, beating Toah by a head after a fierce drive through the stretch. Coriuscate, backed from 40 to 1 to 50 to 1, was third. The winner carried 111 pounds and covered the mile in 1:39 1-5. Gen. Steward, favorite at 8 to 5, won the fifth race, by a head and was then promptly disqualified because Jockey J. Booker whipped Ralph Young over the nose all through the stretch, causing the latter to bolt and gave the race to Ralph Young, with Avenger second and Myrondale third. The track was at its best, weather clear and cool. Summary:

First race, 1 mile—James J. Corbett, 112, Ferrell, 15 to 1, won; Frank M., 100, J. McIntyre, 12 to 1, second; Atheola, 104, H. Phillips, 6 to 1, third. Time 1:41 2-5.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Fly Lady, 100, L. Wilson, 9 to 1, won; Leila, 107, D. Hall, 7 to 1, second; Badger Girl, 107, J. Booker, 6 to 1, third. Time 1:08.

Third race, 7 furlongs—Sarah Maxim, 99, H. Phillips, 5 to 1, won; Goodman, 92, J. Booker, 4 to 1, second; Jim Hair, 108, E. Williams, 15 to 1, third. Time 1:27 2-5.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Kinsfolk, 111, D. Hall, 2 to 5, won; Toah, 110, Adkins, 3 to 1, second; Coriuscate, 106, H. Phillips, 30 to 1, third. Time 1:50 1-5.

Fifth race, 6 furlongs—Ralph Young, 100, Adkins, 5 to 1, won; Avenger, 108, Williams, 7 to 2, second; Myron Lady, 97, L. Wilson, 15 to 1, third. Time 1:14.

Sixth race, 1 1-16 miles—Charlie Thompson, 102, D. Hall, 6 to 5, won; Ledus, 101, Ferrell, 9 to 2, second; Booster, 102, L. Wilson, 6 to 2, third. Time 1:46 2-5.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF WEST PROBABLY DECIDED TODAY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Oct. 30.—The University of Michigan football team left yesterday morning for Minneapolis there, before 20,000 hostile onlookers, to battle against the formidable Gophers for the championship of the west. That the winner of this game will eventually prove to be the western champions few can doubt. Everything goes to show that this will be the decisive game of the year. The 200 loyal rooters who accompanied the varsity to the distant northwest feel confident of victory, and to a man carried well-filled wallets to back up their hopes.

Practice during the fore part of the week has been of the most strenuous order. The usual stunts of dummy tackling and machine charging were indulged in and scrimmages with powerful scrub teams came in for their share of attention. When it grew dusk the 20 arc lamps were turned on and Coach Yost began to chase his pupils up and down the field. Formations were carried through at a tremendous clip and with a dash and vim that warmed the cockles of the heart of each rooter.

A feature of this week's practice indicates that Maddock is going to be played for nearly the "whole thing" in Saturday's game. He is being worked as a tackle and as a back on offense after the 25-yard line is reached. He and Graves occasionally are changed between the 25-yard lines and the big tackle goes to half. Besides this he does considerable punting. In other words, Maddock is being coached in three positions, and there is much confidence in his versatility.

The position of quarterback for the Minnesota contest is the all-important question with the student body. Yost professes not to know which candidate will fill the position at Minneapolis, but the fact that Norcross has piloted the Wolverine eleven together the greater part of the last three practices makes it appear that he is the coach's first choice for that place.

Trainer Keene Fitzpatrick is not worrying about the condition of the Wolverine players to no more than ordinary means to guard the health of the team on its long journey of nearly 900 miles. Unlike the Minnesota coach, who last year transported enough water to Ann Arbor to supply his team while away, Trainer Fitzpatrick will depend on the general health of the men to overcome the difficulties of the tiresome trip.

The officials for the big game have been chosen and will consist of Henry Clark, Jr., formerly of the University of Chicago, and now of Omaha, as umpire; Langford, Georgetown, D. C., as referee. Linemen have not yet been selected. The Michigan lineup at the first kickoff will be as follows: L. E., Redden; L. T., Curtis; L. G., Schulz; C., Gregory; R. G., Gooding; R. T., Maddock; Q. B., Norcross; L. H., Weeks; R. H., Graves; F. B., Hammond.

All North Side players are to report at the grounds not later than 2:30.

YALE ROOTERS 500 STRONG ARRIVE IN GOTHAM

Columbia Adherents Join in the Making of Noise on Broadway. Betting Is Very Brisk.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Cheering lustily for Old Eli, and bedecked with ribbons of blue, the advance guard of the Yale undergradutes who, almost without exception, have arranged to see the big football game between Yale and Columbia at the Polo grounds tomorrow, arrived in town this afternoon.

Five hundred strong, they came on the late trains from New Haven and, joined by scores of graduates who have come to town, paraded Broadway and through the corridors of the large hotels. Columbia's adherents, learning of the arrival of their rivals, also hurried to the center of the town, and soon after dinner the cafes, hotels and theaters took on the aspect of the eve of the old Thanksgiving day games between the Blue and Orange and Black.

Tomorrow's contest will, in fact, be the first big football game Gotham has witnessed in years, and the youth of the city has turned out to do honor to the occasion.

Yale men came to town prepared to back their colors with their money. Their pockets bulged with the "long green," and though they found the prevailing odds 3 to 1 in favor of the Blue, they did not hesitate to suggest that they were willing to wager. Columbia money was covered at fast as it appeared, and then the adherents of the Blue went off looking for more.

That Columbia fleet-footed Pennsylvania last Saturday 18 to 6 did not frighten the Sons of Old Eli and they are offering even money that Columbia will not cross Yale's goal line.

LOCOMOBILE TOURISTS HAD A TOUGH JOURNEY

It Took Six and a Half Days to Go to New York from Pittsburgh.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A. L. Riker and John A. Kingman, who with Mrs. Riker reached town yesterday after a long and adventurous return journey over the endurance run course in locomobile No. 36, a survivor of the test, had a tale to tell of perils and wandering from the course.

"We left Pittsburgh," said Mr. Kingman, "at noon of Tuesday of last week. Our actual running time was six and a half days. The rest of the time we were wandering over unknown roads, losing our way constantly. You must understand we had no confetti trail to guide us, and knowledge of a road in one direction is of small use when the direction is reversed. At each cross-roads we would have to stop and make inquiries or choose the fork to take by guess.

"We traveled in a snowstorm during two days after leaving Binghamton. The roads were indescribable. Outside the cities the snow was mud so thick and pasty that we had to actually drive the car down hill on intermediate speed. Mrs. Riker is such a plucky tourist that there were no tears on her account.

"Our car behaved splendidly. We had little trouble and did not have to touch an engine. We broke a tooth out of the transmission gear and smashed six pistons. The Locomobile No. 36 has a record of over 20,000 miles of tests and touring. Our longest day's run was 186 miles."

FAREWELL BANQUET.

Railroad Traffic Club Holds Fine Spread for Departing Companions.

A farewell banquet to a number of railroad men who are about to leave the Pittsburgh district was extended last night by the Traffic club. The function was held in the rooms of the Monongahela club and covers were laid for 75 guests.

J. C. Clark, president of the organization, made an address welcoming the visitors and lauded those whose companionship all were about to lose. J. W. Butterworth, historian, in humorous reminiscences related some entertaining anecdotes. W. L. Cromlish was toastmaster. The principal speakers of the evening were C. E. E. Childers and J. F. Dennistoun.

The guests of honor were C. H. Clevenger, general freight agent of the Cumberland Valley railroad, who went to Harrisburg from his post in this city; W. S. Main and Hugh D. Scott, special agents of the Pennsylvania railroad in Pittsburgh; S. S. Bridgers, commercial agent for the Norfolk & Western in the local district, and C. H. Kingsbury, who recently went to Chicago as general western agent for the Norfolk & Western.

The annual meeting of the club for the election of officers will be held in the Hotel Henry on December 14.

HELD FOR EVIDENCE.

Man Said to Be Implicated in Armenian Murder Is Remanded to Jail.

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 30.—Vahtan Kri Korian, the Armenian poet and journalist who was arrested yesterday for implication in the London assassination, was held without bail today, awaiting the arrival of evidence from England.

Several members of a rival faction were at the hearing and stated that Kri Korian is the head of the London central committee and that it was he who ordered Kureghian's murder and attempted personally to assassinate him several months ago when he was editing a paper in London.

GOT STATE CHARTERS.

Numerous Western Pennsylvania Concerns Incorporated Yesterday.

Charters were granted by the state department at Harrisburg yesterday to the following corporations: The Indiana Lumber and Supply Company, Indiana, capital $10,000; Grays Landing Ferry Company, to operate a ferry on the Monongahela river between Fayette and Fayette counties, capital $5,000; the Somerset and Cambria Coal Company, Johnstown, capital $50,000; A. Wishart & Sons Company, Sharon, capital $150,000; Mechanicsburg Water Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Lowenstein Bros. Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Pittsburgh Armature works, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Standard-Paterson Company, Pittsburgh, capital $5,000; Shrock Hill Company, Indiana, capital $5,000; Burdock Mellone Company, Pittsburgh, capital $10,000; Thermal Bath company, Mechanicsburg Water $25,000; Interurban Land Company, Allegheny City, capital $6,000; Greensburg Trading Company Department store, Greensburg, capital $25,000; Pittsburgh Commercial Gazette, publishing business, Johnstown, capital $15,000; the Green Briar Water Company, Johnstown, capital $5,000.

Stranger Choked a Boy.

Frank McCarthy, a 13-year-old boy was badly choken at Thirty-eighth and Butler streets last night. The boy was playing on the street when a man came from a saloon on the corner and attacked him, choking him severely. A crowd gathered and threats were made against the boy's assailant. The latter got away and the police dispersed the crowd. The boy was taken to his home where he received medical attention.

Policeman Had Narrow Escape.

W. B. Matters of No. 5130 Gloster street was held for court by Police Magistrate E. C. Negley yesterday on a charge of felonious shooting. Matters shot through his door and the bullet narrowly missed hitting Policeman Michael Hogan.

SYRIAN BROUGHT BACK.

Man Charged With Embezzlement Does Not Take It Seriously.

S. A. Gaston, a Syrian, formerly of this city, was arrested yesterday in Altoona by Detective Albert H. Swinehart, of the Pennsylvania railroad on a charge of embezzlement on the information of J. Frank McKenna before Alderman S. J. Toole. It is alleged that Gaston collected $750 in rents for a Syrian priest of this city and failed to make any return.

Gaston left the city. The police have been trying to locate him for three months. One time they heard of his being in Butler, again in Oil City, then in Johnstown, and last week Alderman Toole learned he was in Altoona. Before he was taken back to his cell he sent the following telegram to his wife: "Don't worry, for I am with George. Will be home tomorrow."

DOWIE IS WEARY

Sits in Chair While Exhorting Small Audience in Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special)—Scarcely a dozen persons besides 500 members of the tabernacle host were present for the early morning service in Madison Square Garden today. Dowie seemed weary. Instead of walking about vigorously, as is his custom, he remained seated while speaking on "triune immersion." Baptism was useless, he declared, unless one were dipped three times. He exhorted all his hearers to come to the morning service on Sunday, when, according to his statement, fifty converts are to be baptized. The other meetings attracted little attention.

Dowie opened the evening meeting with a prayer that in the coming election the city should not pass into bad hands. During his discourse he said that the host had visited six hundred thousand homes in New York and that every where been received with courtesy.

AFRAID OF KODAKS.

Morgan Refuses to Leave Chicago Club Because They Guard Entrance.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Vexed by the presence of a hundred kodak enthusiasts surrounding the Chicago club, J. Pierpont Morgan refused to leave the club to attend the horseshow this afternoon. Instead he sat in the window of the Chicago club looking over the Illinois Central tracks and the lake, while the party of which he was expected to be a member made its way to the show in a bus. The party will leave over the Fort Wayne road bought for Cleveland.

With Mr. Morgan's arrival plans of the monster new corporation which is to take up the rights of the broken-down Union Traction Company began to assume definite shape.

Capt. Herreshoff Recovering.

BRISTOL, R. I., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—Capt. Nathaniel C. Herreshoff is recovering from a few days' illness during which considerable anxiety was manifested among his family. He was taken with an attack of malaria and rheumatism. Capt. Herreshoff was able to do some work in his room this evening.

Lawrenceville Man Missing.

John McBriar of No. 161 Forty-first street is missing from his home. On last Saturday he drew his pay and since then efforts to locate him have proved futile. He was a blacksmith, married, and was well known in Lawrenceville.

Private Bank in Maryland Fails.

MT. AIRY, MD., Oct. 30.—Albert Jones & Co., bankers, made an assignment today to Joseph B. Peter, president of the Citizens bank of Frederick City. Mr. Jones estimates his liabilities at $135,000. The assets are not known.

OARSMAN LOWERS AQUEDUCT RECORD

Son of Hastings Gives Away Weight and Runs Mile in 1:39 1-5.

DICK TURPIN IS A WINNER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The feature of the racing at Aqueduct today was the brilliant performance of Oarsman in the mile race for all ages. The son of Hastings picked up 115 pounds and, giving away weight to his field, won easily by five lengths in 1:39 1-5, the fastest mile ever run over the Aqueduct track.

Dick Turpin won the Oakdale handicap by a length and a half from the favorite, Race King. W. C. Whitney announced today that he would sell all of his horses now in England the first week in December. Summaries:

First race, handicap, 7 furlongs—Icewater, 114, Doxier, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; ostrich, 7, Jones, 3 to 2 and 9 to 5, second; Lord Badge, 111, Burns, 11 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:26 2-5.

Second race, 6 furlongs—Flammula, 111, Higgins, 16 to 5 and 4 to 5, won; Wotan, 114, Hicks, even and 2 to 5, second; Reliance, 110, O'Neil, 19 to 1 and 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:14 2-5.

Third race, 1 mile—Oarsman, 115, Redfern, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, won; Grenade, 87, Callahan, 3 to 2, second; Contusion, 95, Connell, 5 to 1 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:39 1-5.

Fourth race, the Oakdale handicap, 6 furlongs—Dick Turpin, 113, Cochran, 12 to 5 and even, won; Race King, 122, Gannon, 11 to 5 and 4 to 5, second; Dolly Spanker, 126, Redfern, 8 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:15 3-5.

Fifth race, 1 mile—Sysonby, 106, Burns, 7 to 10 and 1 to 5, won; Meisterzinger, 111, Higgins, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; The Grandsman, 94, Jones, 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:41 1-5.

Sixth race, 1 mile—Buttons, 107, Redfern, 7 to 5 and 7 to 10, won; Tropic, 107, Wilkerson, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, second; Erbe, 107, Higgins, 3 to 1 and even, third. Time, 1:40 1-5.

LONG SHOTS AHEAD.

Kilmorie Only Short-Price Winning Horse—Jockey Songer Hurt.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—Long shots were in evidence at Latonia today, and Kilmorie, at 5 to 2, was the only short-price horse winning. Galba, which was coupled in the betting with Crocline, ran into the fence the fourth jump, throwing Jockey Albert Songer. The boy was slightly injured. The spill and saddling made so by the many close finishes during the day. Weather pleasant, track fast. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Grand Mary, 101, Minder, 7 to 1, won; Oleonta, 93, Romanelli, 8 to 1, second; Rustic Girl, 103, Donovan, 5 to 1, third. Time 1:15.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Kilmorie, 101, Romanelli, 5 to 2, won; Lemco, 101, T. Butler, 8 to 1, second; Melbourne Eclipse, 98, D. Boland, 25 to 1, third. Time 1:42½.

Third race, 5 furlongs—Trovator, 110, Lanbry, 8 to 1, won; Armorer, 103, Romanelli, 3 to 1, second; Stanbrook, 102, Hodgson, 15 to 1, third. Time 1:02.

Fourth race, handicap, steeplechase, over short course—Faraday, Jr., 128, McHugh, 15 to 1, won; Fidella, 148, Gaylor, 8 to 5, second; Sea Pirate, 131, Corbley, 15 to 1, third. Time 3:50 2-5.

Fifth race, 5 furlongs—Judge Benton, 119, Booker, 12 to 1, won; Ondon, 105, Minder, 3 to 1, second; Commodore, 106, B. Davis, 4 to 5, third. Time 1:02 2-5.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Khaki, 108, Munro, 8 to 1, won; Fair Lady Anna, 97, Feiser, 16 to 1, second; Satchel, 96, Pieterle, 6 to 1, third. Time 1:15.

MR. COON TO BE AMONG MASKERS

Funny People from Coon Hollow Will Be Seen on Street Tonight.

WILL BEAT UP MR. WOLF

Queer Visitors Will Ride in a Chariot Driven by the "Old Lady" Herself. Supt. McTighe Says the Police Will Be Lenient.

Among tonight's Hallowe'en maskers none will excite more interest than the Coon Hollow folks. Word has been received direct from that enchanted region that a delegation will come to Pittsburgh to participate in the night's revelry and for their convenience a special chariot driven by the "Old Lady" will be provided.

The Coon, Bear, Wolf and Mrs. Pig will be seen in the chariot, the other denizens having remained behind to superintend the festivities in the hollow. The fact that these funny people are known to the world only through the pictures in the comic supplement of The Sunday Gazette will make their public appearance doubly interesting. They will wear their familiar costumes, the wolf in his long-tailed coat and brigand hat, while Mr. Coon will be seen in his scarlet coat and light trousers and Mr. Bear in his plug hat. Mrs. Pig in her polkadot toilette and fall hat with cabbage and corncob trimming will certainly appear stunning.

The traditional feud between Mr. Wolf and the other folks in the hollow will not be forgotten even in the Hallowe'en celebration, and throughout the evening the people will be edified by watching Mr. Wolf get his usual drubbing. Mischievious Mr. Coon will be right in his element and he will overlook no opportunities to play a prank at the naughty wolf's expense. Mr. Bear gets the worst of it sometimes, but the episode always ends in the discomfiture of the wolf.

The Coon Hollow folks and all their masqueraders will have full sway tonight. When Superintendent John McTighe of the police bureau, heard of the coming of the funny people, he said:

"Hot stuff. Just for that I'll make the maskers "it" tonight and if any bystander puts in his neb he'll get pinched. Let everybody put on his hilarious clothes and pitch in. Nobody who behaves himself will be molested, but if any man with a high collar interferes with the man in costume, he'll be hauled up to Central.

"I shall appoint my officers a committee of 500 to entertain the Coon Hollow bunch. Let everybody celebrate and make things go along as swift as they like. At midnight everything will be declared off. The Coon Hollow bunch at the stroke of the city hall clock will disappear like Cinderella's chariot."

The fun will commence at sunset tonight. Dealers in masks and horns have been overwhelmed with business and the drygoods stores have sold webs of cloth for fancy costumes. In the downtown district there will be hundreds of boys in women's costumes and numbers of the fair sex are expected to appear in the role of "chappies." The police are inclined to be lenient and will not arrest maskers who attempt to impersonate the opposite sex, their only exception to the rule being that no masquerader will be allowed to offend decency, high-kicking and skirt dancing being placed under the ban.

In the residence districts in the East End and Allegheny the practice of dressing up the little people in quaint costumes and having a torch-light procession on the streets is gaining favor each year, and several grotesque bands of brownies and fairies may be looked for tonight.

"Corn night," a celebration which is observed on the evening preceding Hallowe'en, gave youngsters last night an opportunity to give free play to the spirit of mischief which they have stored up for more than a week. The streets were crowded with boys and girls of all ages who assailed windows with corn and compelled grocers and confectioners to treat them to nuts and candy. "Corn night" has no significance except that it acts as a sort of physical safety valve and prevents some of the horrors that would follow should Young America crowd all his revelry into one evening.

Those who wish to celebrate Hallowe'en in Coraopolis in the old-fashioned way, may do so, as Burgess Moore has issued orders that the merry-makers may have all the fun they wish, provided they refrain from disorder.

PERSONALS

Dr. Wilbur F. Crafts of Washington, D. C., is in the city for a few days en route home from a two weeks' reform campaign in Cleveland, where he introduced the novelty of an automonic raid on bad literature. Having persuaded the city solicitor to publish Ohio's very stringent law against the exposure and sale of foul pictures and literature, he took copies of the law and cartridges, and, remembering that Gen. Miles has advised the use of automobiles in war, secured the use of one and also two. Young Men's Christian association aids, and in two hours cleaned out the objectionable literature from 20 newsrooms, getting all to promise also that no more would be sold. He also tore up obscene tobacco pictures wherever exposed, all without an unpleasant word, on the assumption that the law had been broken unwittingly. Dr. Craft preaches for the new Sixth Presbyterian church on Squirrel Hill tomorrow morning on "Living and Dying Nations."

Col. James E. Hall, postmaster at Wheeling, was here yesterday inspecting the facilities provided for carrying on the work in the Pittsburgh and Allegheny postoffices. Ground was recently broken at Wheeling for a new federal building to replace the structure that has done duty since the war. Col. Hall is looking for the latest ideas designed to facilitate the postal service. His visit here was a disappointment. He says both the Pittsburgh and Allegheny offices are worse crowded than the ancient Wheeling office, and he marvels how the work is carried forward as expeditiously as it is.

Charles Metcalf, J. F. Jones and G. A. Hobson of London, Eng., are registered at the Schenley, having arrived last night to inspect the plant of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company. The visitors are in charge of Art. Warren of the company. They are connected with the British plants of the Westinghouse interests and have come to Pittsburgh to get ideas as to the management of the Trafford City (Eng.) plant.

George Riggs, a son of Burgess Riggs of East McKeesport, yesterday went to New York, from where he will sail for Cuba in the interest of the Baptist church. Mr. Riggs was formerly a carpenter and has just completed a collegiate course at Bucknell university. While in Cuba he will superintend the erection of four mission houses for the church. He will be gone about four months.

Elias S. Smith of Connellsville, a superintendent of a coal mine operated by the Frick company, was in Pittsburgh yesterday purchasing materials for the mines. He placed an order for two carloads of pit posts and one carload of rails. He said the outlook for the coke industry is better than it has been for several weeks.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The nearby residents registered at the local hotels last night were as follows:

Colonial—S. C. Martin, Uniontown; T. M. Grantham, Wheeling; T. W. Jones, Punxsutawney; G. F. Hancock, Greensburg, and F. Marsh, New Castle.

Seventh Avenue—N. S. Powell, Uniontown; O. L. Baker, Erie; N. L. Strong, Brookville; F. J. Brown, Blairsville, and E. L. Junker, Indiana.

Lincoln—George P. Alexander, Indiana, and L. J. Darlington, Honeadale.

Anderson—George P. Craighill, Lynchburg, and F. L. Howerstetter, Massillon.

Duquesne—P. F. Capp, Latrobe; Charles Brown, Monessen; C. R. Lester, Lorain, and M. Barnett, Markleton.

Henry—H. A. Darnhoidt, Akron; J. D. Berry, Oil City; F. H. Kelley, Altoona, James D. Herron, Erie; F. P. Corbin, Morgantown, and E. C. Batley, Monessen.

Griswold—C. S. Alison, Dunbar.

Monongahela House—F. E. Franklin, West Newton; C. O. McCormick, Connellsville, and C. W. Hulme, Punxsutawney.

Newell—T. W. Alison, Sharon.

THE DEATH ROLL

William Fowler.

William Fowler died last evening at the family home, No. 7117 Idlewild street, aged 68. Mr. Fowler was well known in Pittsburgh, having been market constable in the Diamond for 22 years and recently Upstiff in the quarter sessions court. When the war of the rebellion broke out he tried to enlist, but Capt. Larimer refused to accept him, as he already had four brothers in the army and was needed at home. He enlisted, however, in the last year of the war and served about 12 months. Mr. Fowler was born in Smithfield street, near Seventh avenue. His mother was from Butler county and his father was born in England. The deceased man was a member of George S. Morris lodge, Independent Order of Odd Fellows. He is survived by his children, Misses Jeanie and May H. and Harry H. Fowler, and a brother, Robert Fowler, also a tipstaff in the court house. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church.

Frank Finley.

Frank Finley died yesterday at Des Moines, Ia., and his brother, President J. B. Finley of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company, is hurrying across the continent to Des Moines. J. B. Finley was attending the sessions of the bankers' convention at Los Angeles, Cal., when he learned of his brother's death. He started immediately for Des Moines. Frank Finley was born and raised in Monongahela City, Pa., and was for many years connected with his brother in the Peoples banks at that place. About 20 years ago Frank Finley went west and had been in business in Colorado and Des Moines since that time. The body will probably be taken to Monongahela City for burial. Friends of the Finley family received telegrams yesterday bearing the news of Mr. Finley's death. He was not married.

Mrs. Walter Butler.

Mrs. Rose Butler, aged 60 years, died yesterday morning at 8 o'clock at her home, No. 5007 Bryant street, of pneumonia. She was the wife of Walter Butler, proprietor of the McKees Rocks hotel. The funeral services will be held Monday morning at the Sacred Heart Catholic church, of which the deceased woman was a member. She is survived by the following children: Mary, Agnes, Nellie, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Mrs. W. P. Harvey, Mrs. James Bell, Mrs. Harry T. Smith, William and Walter.

A sad feature connected with Mrs. Butler's death is the fact that a daughter of the family is lying at the point of death at the family home.

Mrs. Mary Barnhill Bateman.

Mrs. Mary Barnhill Bateman, 73 years old, widow of W. G. Bateman, died yesterday at the home of her son, H. E. Bateman, in Ridge avenue, Ben Avon. Mrs. Bateman was born in Pittsburgh and was a member of an old family of this city. In 1850 she was married to Mr. Bateman, who died in 1869. She was one of the oldest members of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, having attended there since shortly after her marriage. She is survived by two sons, Oliver H. Bateman and Harry E. Bateman, and many grandchildren.

C. B. Ramsey.

C. B. Ramsey, a pioneer of Youngstown, O., died yesterday. He was born in Switzerland January 28, 1827, and came to this country 53 years ago. He engaged in the mercantile business, but during the war enlisted in the Thirty-seventh Ohio volunteer infantry. His surviving children are: Mrs. Anna Illing of New Castle, Mrs. Carrie Keighlinger of Warren, John Ramsey of St. Louis, William Ramsey of Omaha, Mrs. Sophia Sloan, Augusta, Charles, Alice and Frederick of Youngstown.

Mrs. Amanda Hinnish.

Mrs. Amanda Hinnish, 66 years old, widow of George Hinnish, died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Martin, in Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, of heart disease. Mrs. Hinnish was a resident of Tatesville, Pa., for many years, and about eight years ago removed to Turtle Creek to make her home with her daughter. Besides her daughter, Mrs. Martin, two sons, Charles of Conway, Pa., and Irwin of McKees Rocks, survive.

Lewis Patterson.

Lewis Patterson, who originally donated the land on which the State Normal school at Slippery Rock was established and who has since been one of the trustees of that institution, died yesterday at his home near Slippery Rock, Pa. He leaves one of the largest estates in Butler county. He was single and is survived by one brother, Norman Patterson, and several married sisters. He was about 80 years old.

Mrs. Frances Jane Rodgers, 39 years old, wife of Contractor Philip J. Rodgers, is dead at the family home, No. 326 Orchard place, Knoxville. She was a member of St. Canice's Catholic church, and is survived by six children.

Mrs. Nathaniel Hazen is dead o paralysis at her home near North Sewickley, aged 70.

Mrs. Florence B. McCallum of Wampum, Pa., is dead of heart disease, after an illness of a few hours. She was 33 years old and leaves one child.

Sheraden to Issue School Bonds.

Sheraden needs $35,000 for school purposes, and a statement of the financial condition of the borough has been filed in the office of the clerk of courts. The money is to be raised by an issue of bonds of $1,000 each. The amount of taxable property is $2,710,675 and the indebtedness $98,274.

Women Dread

The disfiguration caused by skin disease, even more than the tormenting irritation which is so commonly associated with it. The use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery generally results in a complete cure of eczema, pimples, eruptions and other forms of disease which have their cause in an impure condition of the blood. "Golden Medical Discovery" absolutely purges the blood of humors and poisons, and so cures the cutaneous diseases which bad blood breeds and feeds.

There is no alcohol in the "Golden Medical Discovery" and it is entirely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics.

"I was troubled with eczema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. Ella Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "Could not walk at times, nor wear my shoes. Thought there was no help for me at least the doctor said there was none. I went to see friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it my friends sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, and used the 'All Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but sure. I was taking the medicine about eight months.

"I would say to all who read this: Try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before wasting time and money."

SOCIETY.

HALLOWE'EN with all its possibilities in the way of entertainment, was chosen for the introduction to society of Miss Mary Robinson, who will make her debut this afternoon at a reception which Mrs. Edward Hanna Small will give from 3 until 6 o'clock. Miss Narcisse Kennedy, who came out on Tuesday, will share the honors with Miss Robinson. The long line of assistants will include all of this year's debutantes, Miss Alice Schmertz, Miss Mary Guffey, Miss Emily Lyon, Miss Helen Macbeth, Miss Martha Herron, Miss Mary Hellon, Miss Alice Guthrie, Miss Georgie Nelen Heard, Miss Janet Brown, Miss Edith McClung, Miss Margaret McConaway, Miss Helen Dickson, Miss Marguerite Scott, Miss Mary Rolf and Miss Adelaide Bindley. From last year's ranks there will be Miss Alberta Harper, Miss Marjorie Maxwell, Miss Mary Kenney, Miss Jane Blair of Sewickley, and also Mrs. Delmar Ritchey, Miss Forsythe, Miss Tindle, Mrs. Karl Emmerling, Mrs. W. P. DeArmitt and Mrs. James K. Sterrett.

Mrs. Small will receive in a handsome gown of white crepe with medallions of black wisterias and with touches of turquoise blue at the throat and waist. Miss Robinson will wear a simple gown of white crepe with bertha of valenciennes lace and faggoting, while Miss Kennedy will wear the same gown of white chiffon cloth in which she made her debut. About 600 cards have been sent out for the reception, the decorations for which will be carried out in yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves. The two young girls will carry bouquets of bonsilene rose buds.

Miss Robinson was honor member of her class, '03, at Wilson college, the only graduate from that college in the list of this year's debutantes.

Tonight Dr. and Mrs. Small will give a card party for the assistants of the afternoon and an equal number of men. Miss Robinson and Miss Kennedy will again share honors at a large ball which Dr. and Mrs. Small will give in the South Highland auditorium on December 29.

Hallowe'en Frolic at the College.

The annual Hallowe'en frolic given by Dr. Martin and his co-workers of the faculty of the Pennsylvania College for Women took place last evening in Dilworth hall. The large hall was given over entirely to the students and their friends, numbering about 200. It was uniquely decorated with stalks and ears of corn, placed around the pillars of the room. From the chandeliers on which burned many tapers, were strings of apples, which the girls, according to the time-honored custom, attempted to bite. A mass of autumn leaves, in all their brilliant colors, surmounted the stringed apples, while for footlights on the rostrum were jack-o'lanterns and grinning masked faces.

A corner of the room had been fitted up for the fortune teller's den and many and bright were the futures foretold in the college building last night. In this corner were all sorts of ghastly trophies, a skeleton hanging in the center of the booth. Posters representing crossbones and skulls occupied a prominent position, and on the table in the dimly-lighted apartment were the skulls and bones of victims of fate.

The evening gaiety began with a series of 12 tableaus and pantomimes, enacted by about 40 of the girls. As Miss Julia MacDonald sang, "Come, Little Girl, Don't Cry," Miss Frances Montgomery, Miss Jean Rollings and Miss Elizabeth Dew presented it in pantomime.

Regulation Hallowe'en refreshments were served, with cider from tin cups for the thirsty. A dance concluded the frolic.

Third Bridegroom of Same Name.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Keller have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Sarah Alice Keller, and Robert Fulton Pitcairn, to take place at 6 o'clock, Tuesday evening, November 10, at their home in East End avenue. The wedding will be a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives being invited to the ceremony, which will be followed by a reception to which a few additional friends have been asked. Miss Keller will be attended by her sister, Miss Grace Keller, as maid of honor, and by Miss Georgie Pitcairn, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Caroline Patterson, as bridesmaids.

Mr. Pitcairn will be attended by Robert W. Sutton of Ellsworth avenue, a classmate at Princeton, as best man, Edwin H. Keller, a brother of the bride, and Edwin S. Wilson, a Princeton classmate of the bridegroom, will be the ushers. Mr. Pitcairn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pitcairn of Wilkinsburg, and is the third man of that name to wed this season, the other two being Robert Pitcairn, Jr., who will marry Miss Marion McLean Seilers next Wednesday, and David Aiken Pitcairn, whose marriage to Miss Edith Forgie took place a week ago. Mr. Sutton will give a dinner to Mr. Pitcairn and a number of his friends this evening.

Plans for Clubhouse Approved.

At a meeting of the members of the Oakmont Boat club held last evening the plans prepared for the proposed clubhouse were approved. These plans have been prepared by the building committee, which is composed of J. L. Livingston, A. L. Maxwell, A. F. Horner and J. F. Anderson. The club expects that work on the foundation may be commenced in a couple of weeks and that the clubhouse will be completed by the first of next April. The club has just purchased an additional half acre, thus giving it a site covering two acres and costing $5,000. The plans for the clubhouse will call for an expenditure of an additional $7,000.

The design selected is modeled after the Swiss style of architecture and is both pleasing and artistic in effect. The ground floor of the clubhouse will measure 46 feet by 60 and the building will be a frame and two stories in height. On the first floor will be the general reception room, a billiard hall, bowling alley and place for the storage of boats. On the second floor will be a ballroom measuring 46 by 50 feet, a ladies' reception room, 18 by 32, and a smoking room, 16 by 20. Verandas on both first and second floors will surround the clubhouse on all four sides.

Entertained For Miss Hederson.

Quite a pretty affair was the dance given last evening by Mrs. Stephen R. Johnston of Anderson street for Miss Mary Caroline Henderson, whose marriage to Dr. George F. Gregg is dated for November 10. In connection with the dance a kitchen shower was given for the bride-elect. About 40 guests were in attendance. The decorations were of white chrysanthemums tastefully arranged, in combination with greens. Palms and ferns also aided in the scheme. The mantels were banked in flowers and chandeliers were decked with the same. Mrs. Johnston is planning a theater party at the Alvin about the middle of next week in honor of Miss Henderson.

Musicale at Brighton Country Club.

The Brighton Country club will give Tuesday evening, November 3, the first of a series of musicales to be held at the clubhouse during the winter. The program, presented will be John A. Strouss and Mrs. Gertrude Shuman Thomas, vocalists, accompanied by Mrs. Bingham; Anthony H. Euwer, reader; Miss Strouss and Miss Claudia Hess, pianists.

Among the club members taking an interest in the affair are Mrs. Henry Lindsay, Mrs. Andrew Easton, Mrs. Edward Thompson, Mrs. Fred W. Kiefer, Mrs. Elliott Rodgers, Mrs. John M. Geddis, Mrs. Charles Sidgel, Mrs. Charles Kiefer, Mrs. John Dewar, Mrs. John Follansbee and Mrs. William V. Follansbee.

Duchess of Roxburghe Sails.

The duchess of Roxburghe, mother of the duke of Roxburghe, and her daughter, Lady Isabella Innis-Kerr, will sail for New York for Liverpool today on the steamer Campania to attend the wedding of the duke to Miss May Goelet. Extraordinary interest is taken in the event on the East Lothian and Roxburghe shire estates. Preparations are on foot for great festivities to mark the arrival of the bride and bridegroom at Floor castle, the duke's seat, at Roxburgheshire, in December.

Musicals at Home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen Martin have issued invitations for musicales at their home in Walnut street on Saturdays, November 7, December 5, January 2, and February 6 from 4 o'clock until 7.

Episcopal Women's Work.

Subjects of current interest will be discussed at the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh diocesan branch of the woman's auxiliary to the board of missions of the Episcopal church next week. Bishop Brewer of Montana will give an interesting account of his work in that little-known territory, the Rev. W. L. Claiborne will talk about his work among the poor whites in the mountains of Tennessee and the Rev. Sherman Coolidge, an Indian, will tell of his work among his own people. The recent troubles in Breathitt county and the trials in Frankfort, Ky., have attracted attention to the mountaineers of the south, and the United States government in its investigation into the wrongs done the Indians has called attention to the tribes in the west. The problems encountered in their daily life among these two classes of people will be presented by men who have devoted themselves to uplifting the people among whom they are living and working.

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh diocesan branch of the woman's auxiliary will open on Wednesday morning, November 4, at 10 o'clock with holy communion celebrated by Bishop Orlando Whitehead. In the afternoon Protestant Episcopal church, Penn avenue and Station street, East End. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the annual business meeting will be called, and at 8:30 o'clock business will be laid aside and addresses by prominent speakers will be heard. Miss Sybil Carter is expected to be present and tell of her visit to Italy and the lace school which she founded there, and also of the lace schools which she has established so successfully among the Indian women in the west. The mite boxes for the triennial united offering will be gathered at this meeting.

The women of Calvary church will provide luncheon at the close of the morning meeting and a cordial invitation to attend is given all who are interested in the work which the woman's auxiliary is doing. Mrs. Orrin Phillips is president of the Pittsburgh diocesan branch.

Invitations Out Next Week.

Invitations will be issued the first of next week for the social affairs which will be given in honor of the visiting Daughters who will be in attendance at the state conference, Daughters of the American Revolution, which will open on Tuesday, November 10, in the Conservatory of Music, Dithridge street, Bellefield. The Pittsburgh Orchestral concert, Victor Herbert, conducting, to be given by the Pittsburgh chapter, D. A. R., will be held on Tuesday evening, November 10. On Wednesday afternoon the Twentieth Century club will give a tea at the club house in Dapsville way, and at the same hour Miss Mathilda Denny and the directors of the Allegheny County chapter will receive at the Block House. Wednesday evening Mrs. James R. Mellon will give a large reception at the Hotel Schenley, at which Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, president general of the national society, will be the guest of honor. Mrs. Nathaniel Hogg, honorary state regent of Pennsylvania, and Miss Susan Frazier, state regent, together with Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, regent of the Pittsburgh chapter, will be in the receiving group.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

RECOGNITION of her position among club women in the state of Pennsylvania, and her leadership in educational work was accorded the president of the Pennsylvania State Federation by several hundred women yesterday afternoon, who accepted Miss Alice Thurston's invitation to meet Miss Kate C. McKnight. The reception was conducted at the Thurston Preparatory school in Shady avenue, East End. The woman's clubs in the two cities were represented in the large gathering which included representative women from the social, club and educational circles of Pittsburgh.

All hint of lessons was put aside for the afternoon, and the school rooms were made bright with flowers and brilliantly tinted autumn leaves. The gymnasium was used yesterday for the first time for a social gathering, and there after a short address by the guest of honor, tea was served. Miss McKnight spoke on "The Value of Education," treating her subject in a broad and attractive manner and illustrating it with humorous sketches from her own personal experience. Assisting Miss Thurston and Miss McKnight in receiving after the address, were Mrs. David Kirk, Mrs. William Alvah Stewart, Mrs. John Brown Herron, Mrs. Samuel Ammon, Mrs. Charles B. McLean, Miss Anne Phillips, Miss Beulah Kennard, Miss Julia Morgan Harding and others.

The decorations were exceedingly handsome, adding to the charm and informality which prevailed throughout the gymnasium. Southern smilax clambered over the walls and entwined the chandeliers. Great bunches of autumn leaves added their note of color, while huge yellow dahlias and chrysanthemums contributed to the pleasing effect.

Another Free Kindergarten.

Miss Kasparove, who came with her sister from Bohemia last week to attend the Kindergarten college, was at the regular monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association yesterday morning. The managers were anxious to meet Miss Kasparove, who has come to this country especially that she may take up the kindergarten training for the purpose of introducing kindergarten methods into the education of the little children of the Slavs in and about Pittsburgh. She is exceptionally well educated, speaking German, French and English in addition to her native Bohemian. Her home is in Prague, but she was educated in London, Germany and Switzerland. Her sister accompanied her to America, and will immediately begin missionary work among the Slavs under the direction of the Rev. V. Loss, pastor of the Slavonic church at McKees Rocks.

At the meeting yesterday morning Miss Georgia Allison, supervisor of the kindergartens, announced another free kindergarten which will be opened in the Sixth ward early next month before the annual meeting of the association, which will be held the last Friday in November.

Miss Susan Blow, who is lecturing at the college now, will give an additional lecture on "Pumal," which will be free. The subject will be "The Carnival Masquerade," and the lecture will be delivered this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the assembly room of the college in Fifth avenue, Oakland. Miss Blow will also speak before the Allegheny County Principals' association at its Round Table on November 7. The lecture this afternoon will be most appropriate to Hallowe'en.

Famous Treatles Discussed.

The Woman's club of Carnegie held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Carnegie library. In the absence of the president, Mrs. George Fetzer presided during the business hour. Mrs. H. A. Johns was chairman of the literary program. The club is studying American history, the special subject being "Treaties." A paper on "Penn's Treaty With the Indians" was read by Miss Flora Knepper. Miss Miss Perrin discussed the "Treaty of Paris." Mrs. H. S. Farris read a paper which was written by Mrs. A. G. Over on "Forestry." Current events were presented in an interesting manner by Mrs. J. C. Bissell. A parliamentary drill was conducted by Mrs. H. A. Johns. Organization was the special feature of yesterday's meeting, parliamentary law taken up. Music was furnished by Mrs. W. W. Heath and Miss Alice Pearce.

Prices Reduced for the First Time.

For two good reasons, during all the many successive sales held in these rooms, we never offered any rugs at less than regular prices. First, our regular prices were never so high as to admit of any such reduction. Second, our collection was ever choice and rare. Some of the pieces could never be duplicated. We had no "dead stock" to be got rid of at any price. These two reasons still exist, but exceptional circumstances have compelled us to deviate for once from our hitherto iron-bound rule, and for the first time in the history of our sales to offer each and every piece of our unique collection of Orientals at substantially reduced prices. To those who, owing to the monetary conditions lately prevailing in our city, are postponing their purchase of high grade Oriental rugs, we offer this excellent inducement to BUY NOW

35 Patterns at $2.50 a Yard.

From our collection of fine Wilton Carpets, consisting of 300 patterns—the finest and largest showing of Wiltons in this country, we have selected 86 patterns for this week's bargain selling.

As to quality—there are no better Wiltons made—as to design and coloring—the fact that they are not this fall's patterns does not hurt them any—they were the choice of the stock last winter.

51 patterns at the lowest price we ever made on these high grade Wiltons, $2 a yard.
35 patterns—a little more desirable as to design, probably, $2.50 a yard.

The opportunity thus afforded to obtain the finest carpets made at such little prices is exceptional—coming as it does in the midst of the season when high grade carpets are in demand.

The window display will give you an idea of the patterns——

PROPOSALS.

SEWER BONDS FOR SALE
Swissvale, Pa., Oct. 29, 1903.

SEALED proposals will be received by the borough of Swissvale until noon, of November 7, 1903, for the purchase of $10,000.00 of coupon sewer bonds of the borough of Swissvale, in the county of Allegheny, Pennsylvania, of the denomination of $1,000 each, dated October 1, 1903, bearing interest at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, the state tax on said bonds to be paid by the holder.

The bonds are a part of a series of $60,000.00, of which $2,000 will mature each year, beginning with 1904 and ending in 1933, when the entire series will have been paid. The amount of the last preceding assessed valuation is $2,877,812.00. The present assessed valuation is $3,826,770.00. The statement required by law is recorded in the office of the county clerk of the quarter sessions of Allegheny county, in Bonded Indebtedness Book, vol. 2, page 306, et seq.

As a guarantee of the good faith of bidders each bid must be accompanied by a certified check of 5 per cent of the par value of the bonds bid for, to be forfeited to the borough in case the bidder fails for ten days after demand and tenders of the bonds awarded to him to accept and pay for the same.

All bids should be marked "Bids for sewer bonds" and addressed to R. P. Duff, chairman of finance committee, care of P. Duff & Sons, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The borough reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
R. P. Duff, Alex. McKim, Robt. Milligan,

ALL INTEREST CENTERED UPON MONEY CONDITIONS

Today's Bank Statement a Factor, Though It May Disappoint—Railroads Firm, Industrials Softer. Pittsburgh Coal the Local Feature.

All stock markets were weak and comparatively light. Room traders in New York were reported bearish to the last man and selling short on account of tight money market and expected unfavorable bank statement. Should the statement prove more favorable than they look for they may have a bad half hour or so covering. It is unusual in recent times to give so much attention to the bank statement for it is well known that showing is less significant than formerly. A few years ago the associated banks were tolerably accurate index to the financial position of the metropolis, but the enormous development of trust company interests has changed all that. The resources of these institutions are not included in statements of the condition of the banks and there is such an interchange between them and the banks that the bank statement may at any time surprise the public.

There have been heavy withdrawals of funds from New York to the interior during the week, which should naturally be shown in decreased deposits in the banks. But decrease from this cause may be offset by the deposit of New York Trust Company funds in the banks. Such deposits may be made in the ordinary course of business. Last week the market for investment bonds was active and the trust companies might have accumulated much cash through that channel, or they might have been buyers. In the one case they might increase their deposits with the associated banks, or in the other case they might withdraw deposits. Deposit of trust company funds in the banks might be made, too, for the purpose of affecting the statement, in which event it would indicate desire on the part of the financial leaders for improvement in the market.

Whether the leaders desire a higher or a lower market there is no denying that within this month large amounts of stocks have been sought outright and retired to "strong boxes." There is less floating stock and this accounts, at least in part, for the smaller volume of transactions in late days. There have been fluctuations up and down, sufficient to incite trading. During this week there have been "scares" and untoward developments equal to those which caused big declines a short time ago. The market has dipped and rallied. It would not be so if a large load of securities was on the market. These conditions do not necessarily mean an advancing market in the immediate future. The powers in control have not indicated a purpose to inaugurate a bull campaign and if any one should undertake to anticipate them they are in position to put a speedy and effective stop to the movement. It is probable that for some time to come the chief interest in the New York market will center in the attempts to guess what the powers in control intend to do.

Slight gains were made by a number of leading railroad properties, others closed at opening prices, a few suffered fractional losses in the light trading. The industrials were weaker. Republican Iron and Steel preferred was under pressure and declined 1¾ points, closing at 50¾. United States Steel sagged, the common losing ½ and the preferred ¾. Pressed Steel car, on the contrary, which had been sinking for two days before, made a rally and closed with a fractional net gain. Tennessee Coal and Iron and Amalgamated Copper made fractional losses. The traction group ruled steady.

On the local board half of the trading was in Pittsburgh Coal. The common ruled steady at 20, with sales of 1,200 shares, while the preferred yielded a point from 64 to 62 on sales of 567 shares. United States Steel preferred was the next most active issue, the sales footing 300 shares, all at 58½. Crucible Steel common yielded ⅛ to 4¼, and the preferred sold down ¼ from the price of the day before, closing on sales at 32¼. Manufacturers' Light & Heat sold at 28 to the extent of 215 shares, while Westinghouse Electric, assenting sold to the amount of 200 shares from 65 to 68¼, being a loss of ⅛ from Thursday's close. Other stocks moved in a very small way.

Some attention was given to the bond list. Pittsburgh Brewing Co. sold to the amount of $10,000 at 108¾, an advance of ⅜ over the last previous transaction, $8,000. Pittsburgh, Allegheny & Manchester 5s sold at 111¾, which is 2¾ off from last previous sale.

For the greater part of the day the local market was extremely dull and without spirit. Everybody is playing a waiting game and while it is tedious it is probably the best thing that could happen.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market continues at 6 per cent on time and call loans. Clearing house comparisons:

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, Oct. 30.—Money, 3½@4½ per cent. The rate of discount for short bills is 3⅝@3⅞ per cent. The rate of discount for three months' bills is 3⅝@3⅞ per cent; consols for money, 88 3-16; consols for account, 88 5-16. Money was scarce in the market today. Discounts were strengthened by the shortage in the loanable capital and the decline in the rate of New York exchange. Business on the stock exchange was in professionally featureless and the market was mostly dull.

PARIS, Oct. 30.—The tone at the opening of the bourse today was firm, but subsequently the market weakened owing to fear of high carrying rates tomorrow. Internationals were irregular. Industrials were weak. Rio Tintos lost nine points. The private rate of discount was 2 15-16 per cent.

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—Business on the bourse today was irregular. Imperial 3s were firm. Canadian Pacific was depressed upon New York advices. Profit-taking in coal and iron shares continued.

Banks and Treasury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(Special)—In the redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the San Francisco and Seattle assay offices today's official records show that the subtreasury paid out yesterday $44,000, of this amount $13,960 had been deposited at San Francisco and $30,276 at Seattle. Total thus paid since Friday $892,685, against $831,067 of the same period a week ago. Total payment by government to New York banks for the day, $3,902,000. Payment by banks to government, $6,151,000. Balance on the day's transactions, $2,229,000 paid by banks to government.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Sales on the New York exchange aggregated only 158,500 shares of stock, the smallest day's business this year. Sales of bonds footed $1,710,000 par value. The fact that London has a holiday on Monday and that American exchanges will be closed on Tuesday on account of the election added to the indisposition to trade that had been quite evident the day before. Professional traders are a little timid about taking either side of the market.

Statements secured from New York bankers individually go to the effect that shipments of currency by direct means have probably been equal to the movement through the sub-treasury, which amounted to $6,470,000 during the week. Preparations of the banks had been made for the sub-treasury since Friday, the 23d, a total of $5,650,000. However, the opinion prevails that the bank statement has probably been discounted.

During the past 10 days one of the big insurance companies is said to have taken $1,500,000 worth of bonds of the Long Island railway, guaranteed by the Pennsylvania and those of the Philadelphia, Baltimore-Washington, also a Pennsylvania road, just as the money market tightened. It was said yesterday that both issues will be readily taken abroad.

Chicago & Alton shows earnings of 5.5 of 1 per cent on its common stock.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Pennsylvanians have this week a deal of importance in Colorado mineral property. The transaction was the transfer of property in lower Russel district to the Powers Mining and Milling Company from Judge H. A. Hicks of Denver, representing local and outside owners, and which represents a total purchase price of $50,000 for the entire group of claims. The buyers are Pennsylvanians who have got together one of the best groups in that end of the country. A sinking pump has recently been installed at the Powers main shaft and sinking is under way, which will soon put that shaft over 500 feet deep. There is a very good sized crevice in sight, showing a good streak of mineral carrying fair gold and silver values and high in copper, as the ores of this property are smargitic and run all the way from 20 to 40 per cent in copper. The drift shows up good mineral and with a little more development the property will soon be counted among the regular shippers of Gilpin county. The first-class smelting ores from $45 to $65 per ton, second class $20 to $30.

Col. Jim Shinn, a well known mining man of Leadville, Colo., is now pushing to the front one of the most important projects ever launched in this district. It is the Shinn Deportation facilities, because it will greatly shorten the distance between Leadville and Denver, and while opening up an important mineral area, will also result in bringing the same being used to shorten the distance across the continent. It is a tunnel to pierce Mosquito range and to connect the Empire and Horseshoe portions. It will be 5,960 feet long. The proposition has long been talked of but now appears to be assuming definite shape.

The contracts for structural steel for the new furnace building and the extension of the main stack at the Big Horn Boy smelter will be awarded this week. These contracts alone call for nearly a million pounds of steel, which will cost approximately $50,000. Of the $250,000 appropriation made by the directors Mr. Fischer says it will comprehend all requirements.

P. L. Fearn, general manager of the White Knob Copper Company, reports the smelter at Mackay, Idaho, in running smoothly, handling 300 to 350 tons of ore a day. It is turning out 15,000 pounds of copper daily, 800 ounces of silver and 20 ounces of gold.

A 3-foot streak of wire and nugget silver ore has been encountered on the famous Dolly Varden mine. Specimens of the ore shown are thoroughly impregnated with wire silver, and it is estimated that $10,000 per ton is present.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Sales on the stock exchange were 3,215 shares of stock and $15,000 bonds.

Bank exchanges were $6,038,834 98, an increase of $483,434 96 over corresponding date last year.

Half of the dealings were in Pittsburgh Coal issues, common remaining at 20 and preferred selling at 64 @63.

Bond sales were larger than usual, $15,000 being the amount of these transactions.

IN WALL STREET.

Yesterday's aggregate dealing was smallest this year.

Total sales for the day was 155,800 shares of stock and $1,710,000 (par value) bonds.

The day's price changes were wholly without significance.

There was a dragging tone in the iron and steel industrials and railroad equipment stock.

Bank statements show shipments of currency, by direct means, amounted to about as much as those through sub-treasury.

SKYSCRAPER FOR WOOD STREET

C. Mellor and Thomas Wightman May Erect 14-Story Building at Nos. 604-606.

ITE FOR APARTMENT HOUSE

Rapid Building Up of "The Heights" Near Wilkinsburg—South Side Sale of $17,000.—Residence Sold for $10,000. Councilman Buys Sewickley Property.

A 14-story skyscraper is the latest project announced for Wood street. The site of the proposed building is Nos. 604 and 606 on the Denham and Bosworth lots at the intersection of Wood street and Liberty avenue. The buyer of the former lot, which was sold two weeks ago through the Commonwealth Real Estate Trust Company proves to have been Charles C. Mellor, the music dealer. His identity was kept a secret until yesterday when by the delivery of the deed it was known that he paid $125,000 for the property, $5,000 a front foot or $38 47 a square foot.

The Bosworth lot adjoins the one the east and was sold through the same agency to Thomas Wightman several months ago. Each lot has a frontage of 25 feet by a depth of 130 feet and the three-story brick building covering both is occupied by Curry & Shaw, wholesale grocers. When Mr. Mellor's purchase was announced it was reported that he would remodel the building but it now develops that he and Mr. Wightman are likely to unite their interests in erecting a skyscraper. Mr. Mellor is having plans prepared for a modern building, but neither the cost nor the name of the architect has been given out.

If the two owners agree on plans, it is likely that the building will be erected next year providing labor conditions are favorable. Such a project is decidedly suggestive as showing the trend of business blocks that are projected for the immediate neighborhood of the Diamond, the establishing of a new business center and the consequent improvement of many properties nearby in Liberty avenue.

Apartment House Near Highland Park.

The apartment house idea has spread to the North Highland neighborhood and a modern structure of this kind is to be erected at the northeast corner of North Highland avenue and Grafton street. The site for the building is the old John W. Kirker property, 50x160 feet, which was bought by eastern parties yesterday through the office of F. D. Nicols & Co., for $30,000. The property across Grafton street from the William King residence, near the palatial home of Thomas Morgan, and the handsome residence of John W. Dinn. On the opposite side of North Highland avenue, extending along Elgin avenue, the cottage of John Fite has lately been improved with a number of high class houses and a little further down stands the new Amphill residence. The site is only two squares west of Highland park, making it highly attractive for apartment house purposes. An old 10-room house now stands on the lot. This will be torn down at once to give way to the larger structure, which will be six stories high and will cover the entire lot. The suites are to be of different sizes to suit the tenants and they will be provided with every modern convenience. The building will cost at least $50,000, and work is to be started in a few weeks. This venture affords further evidence of the rapid growth in popularity of the apartment house as shown by the increasing number of inquiries for flats in the best neighborhoods.

New Center for Summer Homes.

"The Heights" is the name that Wilkinsburg people are applying to the district east of that borough near the intersection of the Northern and the Greensburg pike roads. The recent cutting down of all the heavy grades on the Greensburg pike and the macadamizing of that road, which is now in progress, have added much to the advantages of what is destined to be a first class home center. The proposed street car line from Wilkinsburg to East Pittsburgh will go over the Greensburg pike, bringing the district into close communication with the city and making it an ideal place for summer homes. Penn avenue, which leads out from the property is already paved to the Wilkinsburg borough line. Last summer a buying movement started in this vicinity, most of the purchases being of from one-half an acre to five acres, for which the price ranged from $1,500 to $2,000 an acre. A good number of Wilkinsburg and Pittsburgh people have already bought and built near the junction of the Penn and Greensburg pikes.

Under a Yoder real estate dealers, yesterday sold for L. F. Yoder to Jacob Kaufmann Fifth avenue frontage near Murray Hill avenue for $52,500. The lot is vacant, 100x200 feet, and the new owner will erect a residence on it.

Three Lots Bring $17,000.

Daniel Wenke has disposed of three South Side properties to Bertha M. Ainsler for a total consideration of $17,000. They are a lot 22x60 feet on the south side of Sidney street, Twenty-fifth ward, a lot 40x122 feet on the south side of Carson street, Twenty-fourth ward, and a lot 68x55 feet at the northwest corner of Bingham and South Fifteenth streets, Twenty-eighth ward. The lots are improved with old dwellings.

Through the agency of Samuel Sparks the property of C. R. Lauman at No. 7726 Junista street, Wilkinsburg, has been sold for $10,000 to Mrs. Sue R. Ward and W. C. Norton. The property, which is a two-story frame dwelling on the northeast corner of Peebles street and consists of a lot 40x102 feet on which is erected a handsome reception hall brick house of 14 rooms.

The John B. Lake property on the north side of Fifteenth street, Sewickley, has been sold to Richard Brown, a Sewickley councilman, for $6,000. The lot is a very large one measuring 104x300 feet, and adjoins the handsome home of John Brown. It is a brick house is the only improvement.

CANNED CORN FAMINE NOT IMPROBABLE

Short Crops Make Light Packs. Tomatoes Very Plentiful. Cereal Prices Lower.

Canned corn continues to attract attention and the market is getting into a state of intense interest bordering on excitement. Crops this year have been exceedingly disappointing to the trade. A failure in some localities generally looked to for large yields, and the result is that packers are away below requirements, and packers are unable to fill contracts except for small percentages. It does not require to be very old to see the growing corn was watched that there would not be as much as usual, but it was not fully realized how short would be the crops until all were in, and the estimates of conditions could be made. It was then found that while some packers in the south, where conditions were more favorable than in the north, would be able to deliver anything like 90 per cent of their orders, in Maine deliveries would not average above 25 per cent. New York state fared better than Maine, but not so well as southern growing districts, and while buyers have practically that he believed an average of 40 per cent all around would be fair, and come close to the mark. Quotations have been steadily advancing for several months, and it is now not so much a question of what will be paid for the goods. A year ago standard corn was sold wholesale at 95 cents to $1 10, while today the range of price for standards is $1 10 to $1 25, and very few of the latter are to be had. In fact, jobbers hardly know what to do with prices as they find it hard to get stock and scarcely know how to quote. It is freely predicted that there will be a famine of canned corn. Eastern brokers have already offered $1 50 for Maine corn, and have been unable to get it. Consumers will have to turn their attention largely to other goods, and they will find a substitute in tomatoes, which are as plentiful as corn is scarce. Standard tomatoes are quoted as low as 85 cents, and are weak at those figures, while a year ago they were above the dollar mark and very stiff. So high were tomatoes for several years that consumers had turned from them to other articles less expensive, and the present condition may be the means of bringing back the popularity of the tomato table. Other canned goods remain unchanged, with all fruits steady as quoted.

The flour market is firm, and there is no indication of any immediate change in price. Some jobbers report a little easier movement, with more stock coming forward, but there is not yet enough to bring business back into a normal condition. The Northwestern Miller speaks of an irregular market in Minnesota, with buying on the part of jobbers rather uneven. There is an improvement in the export demand, several good-sized lots being sold, most of it going to the United Kingdom, although some continental demand is developing. Offers continue active, and the green market shows increasing strength. Cereals are easier, declines having occurred in rolled oats and oatmeal. Navy beans are steady as quoted.

Hay is steady and without change in quotations, receipts yesterday being fair. Oats are a little stronger, and a half cent advance is made from the low point of range. Shelled corn is firm as quoted, while car corn is slow and hard to sell at a decline of 2 cents a bushel which became operative yesterday. The first car of new car corn came in yesterday, and was offered by Gelbart & Dickson at 53 cents. Middlings are steady as quoted, white bran is easy and slightly lower.

Fresh tomatoes are scarce and real fancy stock brings $1 25 per chip. Lemons are very firm and the market yesterday showed an advance. California peaches are out of the market. Other fruits and vegetables are unchanged, with the demand slow.

Nuts show a fairly wide range of prices yesterday, other nuts remaining unchanged with the demand quiet and disappointing. Dealers report a considerable falling off in trade as compared with the same time last year.

Butter, eggs, cheese and poultry all remain as last quoted, with conditions unchanged, and prices steady. Fresh egg scarcity is still quite noticeable, and near-by stock commands full quotations.

WHEAT CLOSED HIGHER IN SPITE OF DULL SESSION

Demand Near Close of Yesterday's Market Stimulated Prices in Chicago Pit.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—The wheat pit witnessed a repetition of yesterday, the market being extremely dull with prices inclined to weakness. News from all sources was bearish to begin with, rains being reported in the west which were much needed by the growing winter wheat, and the Australian crop being estimated at an excess of 12,000,000 bushels, of the largest on record. These influences caused declines at the start, dropping 1@1¼c lower at 80@c. Trading in this delivery was rather limited, the greater part of the business being confined to operations and this month showed the most decline, the nearby delivery holding relatively steady. The feature of trading was the sale of 1,000,000 bushels of May by a prominent concern, and it was this selling movement that was largely responsible for the weak undertone which prevailed during the greater part of the session. The St. Louis market showed a good advance late in the session and caused a better demand here, which resulted in a little firmer tone. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 124,300 bushels. To-day 1 car contract grade, 1 northwestern, 1 red, $1 23; 37 cars, 2 northwestern, 1 red, $1 22; 1 northwestern, 1 red, $1 21; 1 northwestern, 1 red, $1 20; 1 northwestern, 1 red, $1 19; prime timothy seed, $2 75; mess pork, per bbl., $12 37½@12 50; lard, per 100 lbs., $6 42½@6 50; short rib sides, loose, $6 50@6 75; dry salted shoulders, boxed, $6 62½@6 87½; short clear sides, boxed, $6 87

CANADIAN BLUFF PROMPTLY CALLED

Diminutive Yankee Chases Bellicose Canuck All Over the Steamer Cedric.

DISPUTE OVER BOUNDARY LINE

Canadian Said He Could Whip Six Yankees—One Small One Put Him to Flight and Ship's Officers Save Him from Beating—Senator Turner Talks.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Senator Henry C. Lodge of Massachusetts and ex-Senator George Turner of Washington, members of the American commission to the Alaskan Boundary tribunal, returned today on the White Star liner Cedric. As an incident to the trip, it was stated by several of the passengers that Senators Lodge and Turner had to use their personal endeavors to settle several ugly rows that broke out on board as a result of the feeling between the Canadian and American passengers over the victory of the United States.

One hot-headed Canuck is said to have stated that he could whip half a dozen Yanks like the two senators who were on board. Both are six footers and fond of athletic sports. An American weighing 121 pounds and five feet one and a half inches high, was said to have chased the Canadian belligerent all over the smoking room and down to the lower deck one afternoon when the sea was as bellicose as the pursuing Yankee. It is a matter of ship history that it took several officers, brass buttons and all, to stop the 121 pounds of ginger and save the Canadian.

Senator Lodge said it would not be wise for him to discuss the merits of the decision, particularly as he was a judge, and that his statements might be misunderstood. Senator Turner didn't share in this opinion, and said of the result of his trip abroad:

Speeches Were Splendid.

"We convened on September 3. The arguments were concluded on October 9, and the commission went into executive session October 17. The speeches on both sides were magnificent. During the progress of these speeches we could see by the comment he made how Lord Alverstone was disposed. I don't know how the decision leaked out before it should have. I know it didn't come from American sources, because the proceedings were confidential. I am surprised that Canada does not take more kindly to the decision. In a sense she appointed the referee, if we may call her representative such, and since he has decided against them they ought to be quite willing to abide by the decision. That's the sportsman's way of looking at it.

"Anyhow, the award was just and honest, but it is fortunate that the commission agreed. The statement of some Canadian papers that we won over Lord Alverstone by kindness and soft-soaping him is very unjust. The hospitality was on the other side. Lord Alverstone entertained us at his country seat. It was a question of right under international law.

Decided on Its Merits.

"Lord Alverstone is an eminent jurist and he decided the case strictly on its legal status. The decision giving two of the islands and the Portland canal to the United States was based in large part on the Vancouver narrative."

Senator Turner laughed when he was told that flags were halfmasted in Canada over the news of the decision, and that some of the Canadian papers spoke of Secretary Root as a jingo and a politician. He said:

"What difference does it make what they said? It isn't true."

Joseph Pope, secretary to A. B. Aylesworth, and Sir Louis Jette, the Canadian members of the commission, who left in a huff because the decision was against them, also returned on the Cedric. Mr. Pope said that the award was a great disappointment from the Canadian point of view but that he did not wish to make any comment.

The Three Rivers

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—River 6.1 feet and falling. Capt. J. F. Ellison and F. R. Vance, who went to attend the convention of the Mississippi Improvement and Levee association as representatives of the Cincinnati chamber of commerce, returned home today. They were accompanied by Col. John L. Vance, president of the Ohio Valley Improvement association, who was there as a representative of the association, and George H. Anderson of Pittsburgh, who was also a delegate representing the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce. Capt. Anderson went home direct from here. Col. Vance is much elated over the work of the delegation from the Ohio valley and the recognition which was accorded them. When the avalon arrives from Memphis tomorrow she will be taken to the Queen City Marine ways for repairs. Heavy fogs are still coming up on the river every night. No towboat movements. Packets in and out on usual, with only fair business.

GREENSBORO, PA.—River 6 feet and falling. Woodward down Saturday and Columbia up.

POINT PLEASANT—River 2 feet 3 inches and falling. The Kanawha arrived from Charleston and is laid up here.

STEUBENVILLE—River 3 feet 2 inches and stationary.

GALLIPOLIS—River 3 feet 8 inches and falling.

OIL CITY—River 1 foot 5 inches and stationary.

PARKERSBURG—River 3.9 feet and stationary. The Bedford left at 4 a. m. for Wheeling.

WARREN—River 3 feet.

Departure.

I. C. Woodward, Williams, Morgantown.

Arrival.

Columbia, Dennain, Morgantown.

News of the Rivers.

The stage of water at Davis Island dam at 8 o'clock last night was 3.4 feet and the river was stationary.

H. P. Harris of East Liverpool, O., was in town yesterday interviewing riverman concerning the location of the proposed marine hospital at East Liverpool.

The Greenwood turned back at Rochester, Pa., yesterday, unable to reach the local harbor on account of the scarcity of water. The Kanawha has tied up to the bank and will make no more trips until a rise comes.

Capt. John P. Swayo, "Dean of the Waterways," who is 84 years old Thursday, had friends gathered at his office in the Coal exchange before he left for home and presented him with Jastrow's "History of Religion." Capt. Dravo made a characteristic speech and said no present could please him more.

The hearing of the charge that the Brownsville bridge is an obstruction to navigation is postponed and no date will be set until Capt. W. L. Sayre, U. S. E., is in Admiralty, Ky., on returns. The hearing was to be held on the Gen. Theodore Schwan at Brownsville next Tuesday, but Col. S. J. Sydecker, who is in charge of the United States engineer's office at present, decided to postpone it.

The Gazette blew out a tube in her boiler at the trap yesterday, and the inspection tour of the upper Ohio river had to be postponed again. The Gazette was loading alongside the Hornet, which is aground in the trap, when the accident occurred. There was considerable excitement for a while, but Capt. Billy" Blackstock soon found the seat of the trouble. Repairs will be made to the boat today, and she will go to Rochester for a coal boat bottom.

New Cruiser Delivered.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The cruiser Cleveland, built at the Bath Iron Works, was delivered to the government at the navy yard, Boston, yesterday. She is in command of Commander C. E. Colahan, recently on duty in the bureau of navigation. The Cleveland failed to meet the contract speed requirement and is still subject to penalties for that deficiency.

OTHER IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

September 1903, Compared With Same Month Last Year, Shows Decrease of 65,782 Tons in Imports of Pig Iron. Figures on Foreign Trade.

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 30.

For the month of September the imports of iron and steel with comparisons show as follows:

	1902	1903
Pig iron, tons	82,196	16,414
Scrap iron and steel, tons	13,079	1,064
Bar iron, pounds	14,725,272	5,260,744
Steel bars, tons	13,560	2,196
Hoop, band of scroll, lbs.	262,494	90,725
Ingots, bloom, etc., lbs.	62,107,478	30,508,218
Sheet, plate, etc., pounds	1,054,701	2,368,859
Plate, pounds	9,847,753	5,465,961
Wire rods, pounds	2,966,049	3,752,961
Wire and products, pounds	944,408	1,062,588

The most important change in imports for September is the decrease in pig iron to 16,414 tons, compared with 82,196 tons in September a year ago.

For the nine months ending September 30, the total importations of pig iron was 547,286 tons, as against only 339,406 tons for the corresponding period last year, but the imports have now been reduced to 16,414 tons per month.

During the last nine months the iron and steel masters of the United States have sent abroad iron and steel products and the manufactures of steel to nearly all countries.

The American sewing machine has grown in favor in the Chinese empire to such an extent that whereas in the first nine months of last year $8,661, was the total of exports, this year it is $29,105. The total exports of sewing machines for nine months of 1902 were $2,439,715 and for nine months this year $3,945,079.

Builders, hardware, aggregating $9,080,372 was exported, compared with $8,399,877 for the same period last year.

The exports of electrical machines for the last nine months amounted to $5,875,093, as compared with $4,398,151, for the nine months last year.

American locomotives valued at $2,295,192 were exported. Last year for the same period the exports were $2,769,934.

In the first nine months of the year the total value of pig iron exported was $288,124, compared with $424,480 for the same period last year.

In the following table is given comparisons in values of the chief steel exports for the first nine months of the last two years:

PARENTAGE OF CHILD PUZZLING TO EXPERTS

Countess' Alleged Heir and Peasant Girl's Son Side by Side in Court.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—A striking incident of the trial today of Countess Isabella Westerska Kwilecki, who is charged with presenting a male child, not her own, as the heir to an estate at Wrobledo, where as the child is alleged to be the son of a peasant girl, was the appearance before the court of the supposititous son of the countess beside the eldest boy of the peasant girl referred to. Both boys were dressed alike. While the persons present in court arose in a body and craned their necks forward to see the children, the jurors gathered about the two boys in groups. The impression made was indecisive. Some of the experts said they saw a great resemblance between the supposed little count and the eldest boy of the peasant girl while others claimed there was a family resemblance between the younger boy and the Countess Isabella.

An Austrian captain, named Von Ziegler, testified that the peasant girl in the case had borne him two children and that the second child was born in December 1896. The girl, he added, reported to him that she had given this child to a childless couple, to which arrangement the captain gave his consent. He never saw the child himself.

Various witnesses from Wrobledwo gave testimony favorable to the countess. Some of them who saw her immediately after the reported birth of the little count said they were fully convinced that no fraud had been perpetrated.

Detective Tard, of the Paris police, testified that he had instituted inquiries among the Paris midwives and had discovered that Madame Ramel, to whom that a foreign lady, speaking French with a German accent tried in July 1896 to procure a new born boy from her. When shown a photograph of the Countess Isabella, Madame Ramel said she recognized it as being that of the foreign lady who had tried to procure a boy.

INVENTORY OF RIVER STOCK.

Coal Companies Will Soon Have Exact Figures on Its Craft.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will today make an inventory of its steamers, coal boats and flats and supplies. This is a task, since the property is stretched from Morgantown, W. Va., to New Orleans. This company owns some of the best steamers in the world, and the Sprague is the best craft for towing purposes plowing any river waters. The inventory in the local harbor will be made by Com. E. H. McKinley, Capts. Charles Van Dyke, Charles E. Magill, Paul E. Moren, E. L. Brown and Bert Troth. Every captain of steamers now in Pittsburgh will forward to the headquarters in Water street a statement of the condition of his craft and its supplies. Representatives at the hundreds of landings between Morgantown and New Orleans will also make an inventory of what is at their landings today. The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will pass into the control of the Pittsburgh Coal Company Monday and some changes in the management is expected.

Maj. Howze Exonerated.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The war department today made public the report and findings in the case of Major Robert L. Howze, charged with cruelty in the Philippines. The findings of the board exonerate Major Howze.

A M'KEESPORT ITALIAN WAS WAYLAID AND SHOT

Old Feud Ends in a Brutal Assault, and the Victim Will Likely Die—Man Charged With the Crime Is in Prison.

Nicola Rossa, an Italian, is dying in the McKeesport hospital from a bullet wound near his heart and Barcanus Carmine, a fellow-countryman, is in the McKeesport police station charged with the crime. The shooting occurred in McKeesport at 6 o'clock last night. Physicians say the victim cannot live 24 hours. Rossa is 28 years of age and his wife and three children had intended coming to this country next month.

Both men are employed as laborers for the Philadelphia company. Rossa boards at No. 214 Second street, McKeesport.

The men had a quarrel on Wednesday, and Rossa, according to the allegations of Carmine, knocked Carmine down and kicked and trampled him. Rossa was threatened by Carmine that he would seek revenge for the assault. Last night at 6 o'clock, it is alleged, Carmine lay in wait in a blind alley near Rossa's boarding house, and when Rossa passed by on his way home, two shots were fired at him, the second one hitting Rossa in the left side, near the heart, and taking an upward course.

Two Hungarian laborers were passing and were attracted by the sound of the shots. They ran in the direction of the shooting, and saw Carmine running away. They pursued him up the alley, and ran him into a woodshed in the rear of a lot.

Carmine had dropped the revolver in his flight, and his capture by the Hungarians was effected after a short fight. Detective Samuel O'Hara and Alderman L. N. Morgan came up, and the four men hurried their prisoner to the Central police station.

Carmine is a resident of Braddock, where he lives with his brother. He has been out of work since Wednesday. Rossa was carried to his boarding house after the shooting, and then removed to the hospital. In his desperate condition the doctors are afraid to probe for the bullet.

Carmine's story after being arrested was that he was on his way down to Rossa's place to see if he, too, could not get board. He says he met Rossa at the end of the alley, and after they talked a little while he declared Rossa knocked him down and pulled a revolver, which Carmine wrested from Rossa in the fight. He said he then shot Rossa in self-defense. Carmine is 23 years old, and apparently is not well known among the Italian laborers.

CANTEEN RESOLUTION IS FORMALLY ADOPTED

American Public Health Association Goes on Record in Its Favor.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The sessions of the American Public Health association were brought to a close today. Havana, Cuba, was decided on as the next place of meeting.

When the convention met the resolution introduced yesterday urging congress to establish the army canteen in the interest of the health of the men was adopted, as was also a resolution recommending that medical colleges make provision for the clinical instruction of students in the diagnosis of all infectious diseases which are of common occurrence in the United States.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Dr. Carlos T. Finlay, Havana, Cuba; first vice president, Dr. J. R. Monfuras, Mexico; second vice president, Dr. William C. Woodward, Washington. The secretary, Dr. Charles O. Probst of Columbus, O., and the treasurer, Dr. Frank W. Wright of New Haven, Conn., were re-elected. The following were elected as members of the executive committee: Dr. A. H. Doty, New York city; Dr. John R. Leal, Paterson, N. J., and Prof. F. C. Robinson, Bowdoin college. The delegates visited Mt. Vernon this afternoon.

Negro Got Benefit Money.

Alderman J. V. McMasters rendered a decision yesterday giving J. H. Williams, colored $18 sick benefits. Williams was a member of Local No. 1, Hod Carriers, and last summer went to Conneaut Lake. On the way home a fight ensued in which Williams was struck on the jaw, fracturing it. This prevented him working for six weeks. The union has a beneficiary department and pays $3 a week. Williams presented a bill for $18 which was not honored.

The Facts about Oklahoma

"The growth of the territory has been so rapid, and its products so numerous and of such great value, that the actual facts about Oklahoma are apt to excite an expression of doubt. But to take a trip across the territory in harvest time and see the army of busy farmers gathering in the sheaves, would forever relieve one of such an impression. The Population of Oklahoma in 1890 was 61,000; ten years later it reached 385,000, and today it is 700,000, and still growing. During the past year 600 miles of new railroads have been built, making a total mileage of 2,000 miles."—Christian Herald, Sept. 2, 1903.

Your opportunity to visit this wonderful section occurs November 3 and 17, when the Rock Island System will sell round trip tickets to all points in Oklahoma and Indiana Territory on the Rock Island, Frisco and C. O. & G. Railroads, as well as to certain points in Texas, at exceedingly low rates.
